Hearing On Land Taking At Hammond Pond

A hearing was held at the State House on Monday before the committee on Metropolitan Affairs on the petition of the Newton Centre Improvement Association which asks that about 3½ acres of land located between Boylston st. and Hammond Pond be taken by the Metropolitan District Commission for park purposes. This land is that which Augustus Thorndike and others have petitioned Brookline and Newton to change from residence zone to business zone. Among those who spoke in favor of the petition were Charles D. Nevin and Edward O. Proctor, representing the Improvement Association; Henry S. C. Cummings of the Oak Hill Imp. Association and Miss Anna Barry, and Herbert J. Kellaway, Gordan Dana of Brookline favored the taking as a member of the Brookline Planning Board, but opposed spending any money for the purpose of the land, as a director of the Brookline Taxpayers Association. Representative Luitwieler also spoke briefly in favor of the taking. The committee members stated they favor a study of the matter in accordance with a suggestion of Representative Brimblecom. They expressed the opinion that the Newton Board of Aldermen will not consider the changing of the zone during the next year while the Legislative committee is investigating the matter.

Young People's Conference Feb. 14

Meets at Newtonville M. E. Church

His Honor Mayor Edwin O. Childs will give greetings from the city and a short message at the Young People's Conference to be held Feb. 14 and 15 at the Newtonville Methodist Church. Nineteen organizations representing young people of this community have formed an allied agencies conference which will be a meeting where four or five hundred young people will gather for two days. The co-operating agencies are as follows: Newton Y. M. C. A., Newton DeMolay, Hi-Y Club of Newton, Newton Circuit Epworth League, Tri-Hi Club of Newton, Young People's Inter-Church Council, Waltham Assembly of Rainbow, Norumbega District of Religious Education, Young People's Fellowship, Watertown Hi-Y, Watertown Tri-Hi, Christian Endeavor Society, Belmont DeMolay.

The following discussion leaders have been chosen: Rev. Harold E. Hallett, pastor of the Church of the Messiah in Auburndale; Mr. Herbert Mayer, president of the Norumbega District of Religious Education; Mr. Frank H. Grobe, Director of Religious Education at the Second Congregational Church in West Newton; Mr. Richard Lee, Attorney at Law and Chairman of the Adult Committee for the District; Mr. John Groves. (Continued on Page 6)

Aldermen Pass New Ordinances

During the eight years he has been a member of the Board of Aldermen, John Temperley has consistently evidenced that he must be shown. He again displayed this trait at the meeting of the Board on Monday night when he was the only member to vote "No" against an order which granted permission to the M. & B. Company to operate busses over Allerton, Rowena, Cedric, Atholstone and Langley sts., Parker, Jackson and Daniel sts. Temperley called attention to the fact that it was the first time this matter had appeared on an aldermanic docket and action on it should not be rushed through. He objected to any suspension of rules to permit speedy action on the matter, and asserted that residents of the streets affected should have an opportunity to be heard on the matter. Alderman Kellar of Ward 6 said the streets named are very narrow, and agreed with Temperley that residents on these streets should be consulted. Alderman Colby said the busses would be operated on these streets only for the purpose of accommodating children attending the Bowen and High Schools, and not for general traffic. He explained that the request for this service came from the School Committee. The rules were suspended and the order passed with Temperley's vote alone against.

The Board voted to amend the traffic regulations so that vehicles cannot be parked within 5 feet of any private driveway in this city. Hereafter Section 3 of Article 1 of the traffic rules specifies that no vehicle could be stopped or parked within 10 feet of a private right of way. It was commonly supposed that this meant any driveway, but such was not correct. So, on Monday night the Board corrected this matter by changing the section of the rules so that now motor vehicles cannot be parked less than 10 feet from a private right of way, which may be an unaccepted street; or less than 5 feet from any driveway.

Alderman Cronin objected to the new amendment. He said it is a further curtailment of liberty and will prevent anyone from parking in front of his own driveway. Cronin was the only member to vote against the amendment. Alderman Atkins, using a poker or bribe, he said, "I pass," when his name was called. The other members, mindful of the fact that much inconvenience has been caused by inconsiderate motorists blocking driveways, voted to pass the amendment.

Appropriations passed by the Board included—$43,000 for construction of streets; $18,300 for construction of Meadowbrook rd. extension in conjunction with a WPA project; and $1700 for a drain in that new street. Jurors drawn to serve at civil sessions of the Superior Court in Cambridge this month were—Herman Twombly, 50 Arlington st.; James Cronin, 61 Sheridan st.; Joseph Weinstein, Priscilla rd.; Stanford Dennison, Orris st.; criminal session at Cambridge, Henry McIsaac, 15 Noble st.; Edward Butler, 38 Charles st.; criminal business session at Lowell. ## State Will Allow Traffic Signals On Washington St.

Com. Callahan Says City Took No Action

Traffic signals at danger points on Washington st. to protect pedestrians can be installed as soon as the City of Newton takes formal action on this matter and provides funds for the installation of the signals according to a letter received by the GRAPHIC from William F. Callahan, Commissioner of Public Works of this Commonwealth. Mr. Callahan, who is a resident of Waban, sent the following letter to the GRAPHIC:

"Dear Sir: "After reading the editorial and article contained in your issue of Jan. 17th, concerning the lack of traffic control signals at the intersection of Washington, Harvard and Adams sts., and adjacent to the Church of Our Lady in the City of Newton, I am constrained to take issue with you on the subject involved. The implication in both of these articles is that since the Department of Public Works will not approve the erection of a traffic control signal at this point, the department is responsible for any accidents which may happen at this place.

"For your information and for the purpose of having the records correct, permit me to state the facts in this matter. Several years ago there was considerable agitation for the erection of traffic signals at the location in question. As a result, the City of Newton requested this department to advise them as to the most efficient type of traffic control signal which could be used at this location. The department did. At that time the road was being reconstructed and the department suggested the laying of conduits. Since that time, nothing more has been heard from the City of Newton regarding this matter. Moreover, and this fact is most significant, no formal application has ever been made to this department for the approval of a traffic installation at this intersection. When such an application is received, this department stands ready to cooperate and approve the signal."

Yours very truly,

WILLIAM F. CALLAHAN.

Boy Coaster Hits Auto at New. Ctr.

Eugene Curtis, 6, of 4 Overlook park, Newton Centre, slightly injured on Saturday afternoon when he collided while coasting with an auto driven by Esther Bregner of 44 Mandalay rd., Newton Centre. Miss Bregner reported that the boy coasted out of a driveway on to Mandalay rd., and snow banks prevented her from seeing him until he was almost under the car, which she stopped in time to prevent it running over the boy.

Neffinger Trial Cont. to Feb. 10

John M. Neffinger, Jr., 19, of 18 Withington rd., Newtonville was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday on the charge of driving a car so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Neffinger was the driver of the car which on New Year's Eve hit two trees on Berkeley st., West Newton. Three young men, occupants of the car, were fatally injured. Because a defence witness was absent, a continuance of the trial to February 10th was granted.

33 Newton Police Are Good Shots

Because 33 members of the Newton police became skilled last year in the use of revolvers, $1000 appropriated by the Newton Board of Aldermen as bonus money proved insufficient to pay the sums stipulated as awards for expert shots, and for sharpshooters. The former were to receive $50 each and the latter $25. Fourteen members of the department made scores qualifying them as experts. Their scores were made with regulation 38 calibre revolvers. Nineteen qualified as sharpshooters; they made their scores with 22 calibre revolvers. Patrolman Dave Dalton was high man among the experts. Dalton also won a number of contests against expert revolver shots from other New England police departments. Patrolmen Joe Smith and John McGrath tied for second place. Others qualifying as experts included—Patrolmen Dungan, Taffe, Dan Keating, L. O'Donnell, Corcoran, Lupien, Cummings, Marden, Lawrence Murphy, Lieut. Moan and Serg. Sullivan.

Those who qualified as sharpshooters were Patrolmen Carley, Loveley, J. P. Murphy, Chadwick, Goddard, Albert Smith, F. O'Donnell, Hammell, C. Jenkins, Brosnahan, Rogers, Scott, Greeley, Joe Lyons, Donahue, McHugh, McKenna and Howley, and Lieut. Mahoney.

Coach Richard Dwyer states that the members of the department who have been practicing for the qualifying ratings deserve much praise for persisting under trying circumstances. The practice was done in the cellar of the State Armory at West Newton where there is no heat, and where much of the time, because of the freezing temperature, the men had to shoot wearing overcoats and gloves. It would require $1175 to pay the 33 men the amounts specified, so proportionate reductions must be made in the $1000 appropriated.

Legion Post Will Assist Veterans

Newton Post, American Legion, is offering to all veterans of the World War who reside in Newton, whether, or not members of the Legion, assistance in preparing for the bonus applications. The Legion office at War Memorial Building, Newton Centre, will be open every evening from 7:30 to 9:30. The office of the Veterans Bureau in Boston requests veterans not to go there, but to their local Legion Post offices to obtain this assistance. By doing this the work will be speeded up. All applicants must be positively identified before their papers can be filed, and each must bring his discharge papers and loan pink slips. The service will be free.

Newton's Part In Community Fund

Dennett Attacks Policies Of Roosevelt Administration At Forum Meeting

Warns Against Taxation Burdens Which Are Being Imposed Upon the People By Spending

The gathering that attended the Newton Community Forum last Sunday afternoon was rewarded by a direct and vigorous argument for a return to conservative government and a devastating attack on the present Administration's fiscal policies. The speaker was Carl P. Dennett, chairman of the National Economy League. Addressing an audience that seemed at the outset not too favorably disposed toward his viewpoint, Mr. Dennett elicited storms of applause by his forthright logic and his scathing arraignment of governmental waste and ineptitude.

In the question period conducted by President Kirtley F. Mather following the main address, Mr. Dennett's statements were challenged in a manner reminiscent of some of the more hectic Ford Hall Forum sessions. Friends of the Administration, and some of even more radical tendencies, hurled sharp criticisms at the platform, only to receive quick and convincing answers from Mr. Dennett. In these clashes the speaker usually applied the advantage of his heels, much to the diversion of the audience.

"Congress is faced with the responsibility for spending the people's money," began Mr. Dennett. "When they voted to pay $2,400,000,000 to the veterans nine years before it is due, to write off nine years' interest, and to cancel $263,000,000 of interest on loans already made, they precipitated what may be a budget crisis. To avoid the responsibility for their acts and to fool the people they are now discussing the issuance of printing press money or inflation of the currency."

"Congress has two alternatives in this situation. It can face the responsibility for its acts and impose upon the American people the very heavy burden of taxation which must follow; or it may dodge the issue by attempting to fool the American people into the idea that they are not paying for it, by issuing printing press money. Under either circumstances the rank and file of the American people must pay the bill, as I shall later prove to you; either through added taxes or through greatly decreased values of their incomes, their life insurance policies, their savings bank accounts, and other fixed income assets.

"As to inflation, there are two kinds: inflation of the credit and inflation of the currency. The former we already have with us. Inflation of the credit is brought about by the Federal government spending a great deal more than its income and borrowing the difference. When it borrows this money from the people or from their savings, it does not create a particularly critical situation. When it borrows it from the banks of the country it brings on the so-called inflation of credit, since bank deposits are constantly increased so long as the government issues bonds to the banks to pay its debts.

"Inflation of the currency occurs when the government spends more than it takes in, and Congress authorizes the printing office to print money. As more and more of that money is created and paid out, the money in circulation becomes less and less valuable. It is entirely probable that it is in fact extremely probable that if the printing presses of this country start turning out such money your dollars will be worth perhaps 50 cents, 30 cents, or even 10 cents. Nobody knows what they will be worth.

"We have had examples of what occurs with such inflation since the war in Russia, Germany, Austria and France. In Germany the Mark was finally stabilized at one-third trillionth of an American dollar. Deposits in German banks were wiped out. Life insurance companies lost 97½% of their assets. Educational institutions and hospitals were despoiled of their endowment funds.

"The inflationists will tell you that there are $10,200,000,000 worth of gold and a billion dollars worth of silver in the Treasury, and they can issue money against that to pay the soldiers' bonus, but they do not tell you that there is now 31 billion dollars of government bonds outstanding and in 1937 there will be 35 billions outstanding. Adding the currency in circulation, we have 11 billion dollars in gold and silver to pay it with, plus what they can get from the people in taxation.

"No matter what happens in this country you have got to put your hands in your pockets and produce 39 billions of dollars. That is in addition to the regular annual cost of running the Federal government.

"You may ask why these bills must be paid by the rank and file of the American people—the people of moderate means. The Internal Revenue Department in its report for 1933 contains some pertinent statistics. From them we learn that if you took all the incomes from everybody in the United States who has an income of $5,000 a year or over, you would get a little less than 4 billion dollars. The income of every corporation in the country that earned any income amounted to 2½ billion dollars. Most of it was paid out in dividends and would form part of the 4 billions of individual incomes. However, disregarding such duplication, we can estimate at most 5½ billion dollars. (Continued on Page 6)

WABAN BUS LINES

A correspondent calls attention to the desires of Waban residents for adequate bus service from that section of the city to Brookline where ready connection can be made to trolley service to Boston. Our correspondent further points out that Waban residents do not desire nor have they expressed any opinion seeking to deprive residents of other sections of Newton of existing transportation services. Here again a situation exists where a plan should be developed for the greatest good of the greatest number. In times past franchises have been granted for a limited period of time in which the desirability of permanent service has been ascertained. We would suggest that Waban residents be provided with service which should speedily prove whether or not such a bus line would be worthwhile.

ANOTHER ANNIVERSARY

Today marks the 26th anniversary of the Boy Scout movement in America and also the end of the Silver Jubilee Year. The value of scouting has been immeasurable. It has brought together boys of all creeds and of all colors. Like the acorn from which a great oak has sprung so has this program of the character building of our youth spread throughout the past twenty-five years. Six million scouts of yesterday have become citizens of today. Another million and more scouts of today will become citizens of tomorrow. May the Boy Scout movement continue the influence of good that it has been in the past far into the future.

WASHINGTON STREET TRAFFIC SIGNALS

We print this week word from the State Department of Public Works of their readiness to co-operate and to approve proper installations of traffic signals on Washington street as an effort to reduce the existing danger to pedestrians on this heavily travelled artery. In our editorial of a few weeks ago it is possible that we implied that the state was in a measure responsible for failure to remedy the situation. As the situation stands at present it is clearly up to the city authorities to take steps in the matter if traffic signals are to be installed. We trust that prompt action will be forthcoming.

YOU AND I

With considerable discussion heard on all sides regarding pensions, social security, governmental employees, unemployed and the like, the following data, entitled "Confidential Memorandum from Washington," though possibly facetious, is nevertheless somewhat interesting:

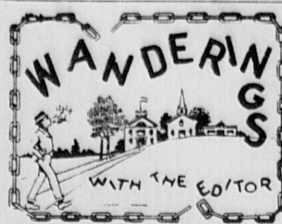

Population of U. S. Reported as . . . . .	124,000,000
Those eligible for Old Age Pensions . . . . .	30,000,000
	94,000,000
Persons working for Federal, State, County and City Governments . . . . .	20,000,000
	74,000,000
Those not eligible to work under Child Labor Laws, or working in homes of idle rich . . . . .	60,000,000
Number of Unemployed in nation . . . . .	13,999,998
Number remaining to produce nation's goods . . . . .	2
(Only you and I, and I'm getting tired.)

Mid-Winter Cabaret Under Jaynes League Auspices

Five entertainment numbers will feature the Mid-Winter Cabaret under the auspices of the Jaynes League of the West Newton Unitarian Church to be held Friday evening, February 14th, in the Parish House. An amusing one act play "While the Toast Burns" will be given, the Misses Virginia Dove, Janet Gwilliam, and Sophia Wright and the Messrs. Lester Holman and Julian Jaynes taking part. The Three Rhythm Boys who made such a hit last year will again give an act and Miss Jeanne Bachrach will sing. Two members of the Jaynes League Miss Betty Wilson and Mr. James Caton will give a dance number and the Grand Finale will be participated in by all the members of the League. Between the acts a group of young ladies will sell candy and serve refreshments. There will be dancing between the entertainment numbers and afterwards. The several acts are being coached by Mrs. Kingsley Van Rensselaer Day of Wellesley Hills, and Mrs. Raymond H. Piper, of West Newton. Mrs. Richard G. Warren and Mrs. Raymond C. Holgate are in charge of properties. Mr. Edmund W. Ogden, Jr. is President of the League and Mrs. Paul Dove is general director of the Cabaret.

Parish Players To Present Three Plays

For their second event of the current season, the Parish Players of Newton Highlands are representing three one-act plays February 18th and 19th in St. Paul's Parish House. The first play, "In a Window" is a romantic impossibility. The cast for this play will include Louise Tupper, John L. Allen, William Newby and Edgar Swail. Mrs. Herbert N. Odell is coaching. A one-act play presented some years ago by Walter Hampden "The Game of Chess" serves the talent of three male parts which will be interpreted by Rev. Charles O. Farrar, Emery N. Leonard and Robert Allingham with Mrs. Winnifred Douglas directing. For a well rounded evening the final play will be a farce concerning the love interest two office girls have for their employer. It is called "The Marrying Sort." The roles in this play will be played by Kathryn Booth, Lillian Seeley, Ruthe Yeager, Dorothy Shute Brown, Ben Evans and Lloyd Yeager. Caroline Allingham is directing. Others assisting in the production are, Virginia Valorie Gilbert, Thalia Clark, Katherine Carrick, Polly Leonard, Kemp Lambert, Mal Cummings, Alan Small, and Sumner Smith.

The Vienna Choir boys were guests at dinner last Friday of the Country Day School for Boys. The Vienna Choir comprise a group of Viennese youths who are on tour in this country. Two concerts were given in Boston last week-end. Among the fifteen boys serving as hosts at the Country Day School were Chapin Wallour of Grant ave., Newton Centre, Edgar R. Tucker of Walnut st. and Frederick W. Rugg of Bulfinch Park, Newtonville, C. Benjamin Myers of Chestnut st., West Newton and David Holden of Hunnewell ave., Newton.

With the approach of March local taxpayers are again struggling with their income tax returns. As usual the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue is providing assistance in the various communities of the state. Deputies have been assigned to this special task during the first two weeks of next month. The Newton city hall on March 10th from nine o'clock until four-thirty has been designated as the place and time Newton residents may avail themselves of this assistance.

The annual meeting and dinner of the Newton Chapter of Commerce will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club on the evening of Feb. 26th. Mayor Edwin O. Childs and Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long will be the speakers. Mr. Long will speak on "The State Taxes and Newton," and those attending are assured of an interesting discussion of a vital question. A question period will follow Mr. Long's address. A short business meeting will also be held at which time the election of officers will be held.

Two Newton clergymen will have a prominent part in the fifth annual Forum of Modern Religious Thought to be held at Bowdoin College next week from Sunday through Wednesday. Rev. Amos N. Wilder, Ph.D., D.D., Professor of New Testament Interpretation at the Andover-Newton Theological Seminary has been assigned as leader of the discussion group in the Psi Upsilon fraternity house. Dr. Wilder is a graduate of Yale and studied at Oxford and at the University of Brussels. He has also served a number of pastorates and has received a number of honorary degrees. He was awarded the Yale Divinity School in 1924. He served in the American ambulance field service during the World War. He has always been actively interested in tennis playing on college teams and winning the State of Maine championships in 1933. He has published two volumes of verse.

Rev. Ben J. Roberts, pastor of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church has been assigned as leader at the Zeta Psi fraternity house. He will also conduct chapel services on Tuesday. Mr. Roberts graduated from Harvard in 1913 and from Andover-Newton in 1916. He served pastorates in Ashburnham, Mass., and Proctor, Vt., before coming to Newton Highlands five years ago.

Another Bowdoin item which is of local interest concerns Thurman E. Philson of Newton Centre. For the sixth time since he entered college in 1932 he has received a grade report which lists nothing but A's. He has received but one grade other than A since he entered college, a B in his freshman year. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa last year while a junior. He is majoring in Latin, has been a member of the Classical Club, and Masque and Gown, dramatic society, for three years. Last year he was prominent in the college Political Forum, as a freshman and sophomore. He was assistant football manager. He is an officer of Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Waban has a child radio star reports in "The Microphone," radio news organ, revealed last week. Adrienne Duplain, 10-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Duplain of 87 Collins rd., has received the plaudits of orchestra leaders and other Boston radio masters. On one occasion she had to sing seven encores after a friend of the Duplains had induced a trial. She possesses not only talent but versatility. Besides being a singer, dancer, pianist, and mimic, she has even entered the producing field. Last summer she and three friends produced "The First Scituate Varieties" in the Scituate Community Hall with unusual success. She will make it in a radio broadcast over WEEI tomorrow at twelve-thirty.

The Newton Cemetery Corporation has recently added some 90,000 square feet to its holdings near Walnut and Homer sts., Newton Centre, according to an announcement through the real estate office of Sydney B. Holden. Deeds have been recorded by which the land formerly owned by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway and used for many years as the location of their power house has changed hands. With the passing of electric cars in Newton a few years ago the machinery and large building was dismantled.

The New England Canoe Racing Association, Inc., will present "College Inn," a musical comedy in three acts at Necra Centre, the former Newton Boat Club at 167 Charles st., Auburn, on February 21st and 22nd, according to announcement made today by Director of Social Activities James Gordon Lovell.

The cast will consist of sixteen members of the N. E. C. R. A. with leads intermixed with many prominently local people of the Newtons, Waltham, Dedham, West Roxbury, Roslindale and Boston. Miss Muriel Callow is to be director and coach, while Frank Devicis, Jr., heads the Executive Committee.

Letters To The Editor

WABAN BUS LINE

To the Editor:

We feel that the news item on the front page of the January 31st issue of the Newton Graphic headed "Waban Wants Bus Line Changes" tends to emphasize the fundamental improvement in bus line service which our Village has requested and tends to misrepresent the requests made by our Association.

During the past year a strong demand has developed in the Village of Waban for bus service directly to Cleveland Circle. This demand was transmitted by our Association to representatives of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Co., in December. At about this same time a demand was presented to the Board of Aldermen from the Oak Hill Improvement Association for service from Oak Hill to Cleveland Circle and consideration was given to an application for a franchise from a competing bus line.

On Wednesday evening, January 29, a hearing was held before the committee on franchises and licenses which was attended by representatives of the Waban Improvement Association, the Newton Centre Improvement Association, the Oak Hill Improvement Association, the Newton Highlands Men's Club and also by representatives of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Co.

In this meeting the fundamental and important request was outlined that bus service be supplied on the south side of the city of Newton from all represented villages, to Cleveland Circle and all the representatives present were in accord that a line extending direct to Cleveland Circle would be very desirable for the different communities.

Your article of January 31 stated that the Waban Improvement Society was in favor of discontinuing certain lines now operating. We have no interest in the discontinuance of the lines which were considered at this hearing but wish to see steps taken by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Co., or by some other properly qualified company to provide service from Waban to Cleveland Circle.

Yours very truly,
Philip VerPlanck, Ch. Bus. Com.,
Lawrence Allen, President.

AMERICA GROWS UP

Stories for Older Girls

Follow the development of your own country in books that interpret the past and present through the experiences of girls your own age.

Uncharted Ways—Snedeker.

A moving story, beautifully written, with fine characterization, of those early days in Massachusetts when Quakers suffered for their religious beliefs. Particularly does it tell the story of two young lives, an English girl, Margaret Stevenson, of Quaker faith, and of Jonathan Coleman, a Puritan who loved her. Together they helped found a new settlement on Nantucket Island and there found happiness.

Alison Blair—Crownfield.

"Of the brave part played by a young English girl when she finds herself alone in the Colonies at the mercy of unscrupulous relatives. Sir William Johnson, and the cruel butlers of unsavory Revolutionary fame, are historical characters in this story of the Mohawk Valley in the time of the French and Indian wars."

Meggy MacIntosh—Gray.

"How a brave Scotch girl of fifteen ran away from Edinburgh and sailed to America in the year 1775. It was her intention to join the rescue of Bonnie Prince Charles, Flora MacDonald, who then lived in North Carolina."

Calico Bush—Field.

"Colonial Maine in its days of first settlement is the background for this story. The hardships of pioneer life and the dangers from hostile Indians make it a very exciting tale of adventure."

House of Her Own—Allee.

"Indiana during the 40's is the scene of this story about staunch Catherine, who proved that she could handle a school which had hitherto been taught by men. She not only succeeds in her school but acquires a home for herself. Kit, her oldest pupil, adds special interest to her school and life."

Rolling Wheels—Grey.

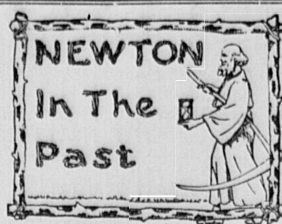

A story of an adventurous journey by prairie schooner from Indiana to California in 1845 and 1846.

Gray Caps—Knox.

This story of the Forest twins, who live on a large plantation tells of the attitude of the South and the privations and adjustments caused by the Civil war, but does not go into the bitter period of reconstruction.

Caddie Woodlawn—Brink.

The author has drawn upon the recollections of her grandmother's childhood experiences as a pioneer in Wisconsin for this spirited story. In Caddie Woodlawn, a tomboyish girl, modern girls of ten to fourteen will find a heroine to their liking.

60 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Feb. 10, 1877

The sixth meeting of the West Newton Lyceum on Monday evening proved very interesting. The debate was on the question of "Drainage in Newton." It was opened by Nathaniel T. Allen who said that no subject relating to the material interests of our city is of such importance as this, whether in its financial or sanitary aspect. The whole subject is founded on the principle of political economy; for the products of sewage should be utilized, and the soil enriched thereby. Our extravagance in not doing so is easily accounted for; our soil is very rich there was no need of fertilization at first, nor will there be for some years to come. Nitrogen in the form of ammonia is one of the chief constituents of fertilizers. This is furnished in great abundance in Newton. It is said on good authority that the nitrogen resulting from the waste of any population can afford two pounds of bread per day to each person. Thus it is seen that the refuse of any town is far too valuable to be thrown away. Mr. Allen read extracts to show the advantages of the irrigation system of drainage.

Ex-Mayor Hyde said the subject was of great importance, although, not perhaps, very popular with the audience. It requires a great deal of time to be properly discussed. He said the system used in Amsterdam had not proved successful. They have no difficulty getting the waste matter out of houses and into barrels, but owing to the great weight, transportation to farms is very difficult, while sometimes the barrels burst because of fermentation of their contents, thus making things very unpleasant. This system is a failure and cannot be adopted by Newton. England tried irrigation among other schemes, but it was not a success and ran them into debt. Our northern climate is not adapted to this system because everything is frozen during a large portion of the year, and besides, the wells are spoiled.

Mr. Hyde continued by arguing that the system adopted in Newton should be one for all time. The best one is that of water carriage. Sewers must be built of brick or other material, flushed with water, and the sewage thus carried off into the sea. Some have objected to this economic waste. How great this waste is can be judged from the fact that one ton of Boston sewage is worth just one cent. Our system should begin at the village of Newton and empty into the Charles River below the arsenal. Some might object to putting this refuse matter into the river, but the tide will carry it to the sea.

Rev. Francis Tiffany agreed with the previous speakers that it is the opprobrium of modern civilization that all this refuse matter should be wasted; but when this waste is reduced to such a state of fluidity that it is worth only a cent a ton, we ought to get rid of it. How can we get rid of the great amount of water used in washing and bathing? In Germany this trouble is avoided partly by the citizens by not washing themselves, and partly by sending their clothes into the country to be washed. Every German has a cesspool, the contents of which are carried by air-tight carts to the farms and thus made useful. Here in Newton we can retain the valuable part in cesspools, and get rid of the water by sewers. The people of Newton ought not to continue drinking well water. They may say, "the wells are all right," but they will find out their mistake when their children die because of drinking polluted well water.

Newton Graphic, Feb. 6, 1886

Policemen are leaving warning notices about town ordering citizens to clear ice and snow off the sidewalks. It's high time some of the eloquence of our City Fathers was diverted from Elliot Hall and turned upon the condition of our sidewalks. One or two $50.00 fines would wake up our city government.

Newton needs a first-class hall capable of accommodating an audience of at least 1200. Nearly every town in the Commonwealth having a population of 4000 or upward has such a hall. In this respect Newton is far behind her neighbors in enterprise and public spirit. In case nothing is done in Ward 1 or 7 in regard to erecting such a hall, it might be well for the city to consider the expediency of building a new city hall at Newtonville and use the present structure at West Newton for other municipal purposes.

Newton Graphic, Feb. 10, 1911

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the petition of the street railway company for a track on Elm rd. was favored by General Manager Sylvester, who said he had made a study of the handling of high school traffic, and he was impressed by the dangers of loading and unloading cars on such a busy street as Walnut st. The track on Elm rd. would permit the company to care for school traffic separate from regular car schedules and would be a great accommodation to the pupils. Objections came in fast led by H. M. Berry, who appeared for C. M. Howell. He said the track would be dangerous to children residing on Elm rd. and make that street a shifting yard. Mrs. H. E. Merritt said she did not believe the company had much school traffic as most of the pupils walked.

Powers' Paragraphs

In his speech before the American Liberty League on January 25th Alfred E. Smith prefaced his remarks by saying—"I have no ax to grind. There is nothing personal in this whole performance in so far as I am concerned. I have no feeling against any man, woman or child in the United States." What a beautiful state Mr. Smith is in. He has no feeling against Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mabel Willebrandt or anyone else. Would to God we had such a kindly disposition. Yet, Mr. Smith, to use one of your favorite expressions, no matter how thin you slice it, it is still "baloney."

Mr. Smith said—"I am in possession of supreme happiness and comfort; I represent no man or group, but I do speak for what I believe to be the best interests of the great rank and file of the American people in which class I belong." The first part of this statement is true. The second is not. Mr. Smith is apparently happy and undoubtedly prosperous. God, fate, circumstances, what you will, have dealt kindly with him. We are glad he is prosperous and enjoying life. He resides amid luxurious surroundings in New York, he enjoys respite from the wintry weather of the North while basking in the balmy air at Palm Beach, that rendezvous of the quite wealthy. But, he is not supremely happy. The zenith of his happiness would have been election as President of the U. S. A. and the thwarting of this ambition by F. D. Roosevelt still rankles Al. Mr. Smith does not belong to the great rank and file of the American people. For the past several years he has been politically, financially and socially affiliated with multi-millionaires.

Mr. Smith asserted—"I have a great love for the United States of America—it has grown to be the great stabilizing force in world civilization. I love it above everything else for the opportunity it offers to every man and every woman that desires to take advantage of it." Dear, optimistic Mr. Smith. Now, let all the men and women who are not happy, who instead of being prosperous as they were in past years, who now are in reduced circumstances or in poverty, cease complaining. They have not taken advantage of their opportunities.

Mr. Smith said: "I have 5 children and I have 10 grandchildren, and you take from me I want the grace of opportunity" left open not only for mine, but for every boy and girl in the country. Bravo! Parents of millions of boys and girls in the U. S. A. who don't possess your influence, Mr. Smith, will call you blessed if you will give them some specific information as to how their children can obtain an opportunity for a decent livelihood. But, he doesn't. This is the advice he gave. "Now, think it over for a minute. Find it out for yourself. It is possible for your children's success to be your success." The boy who made good gives you folks 60 seconds to reason out what you have been pondering over for years.

Al said that he was born in the Democratic party and expects to die in it. If he keeps his word it will be disappointing to a lot of good Republicans.

Mr. Smith continued his speech by pointing out alleged dangers to the fundamental principles of our Government because of the acts of President Roosevelt, his advisers and the present Congress at Washington. The first danger specified by Mr. Smith is—"the arraignment of class against class—the appeal to passion and prejudice that comes from the demagogue that would incite one class of our people against the other." Either Mr. Smith's memory is failing, or he thinks other folks' memories have failed. Let us quote from Al's speech of acceptance of the Democratic nomination for President; a speech delivered on August 22, 1928, at the State Capitol in Albany:

"Government should be constructive, not destructive; progressive, not reactionary. I am entirely unwilling to accept the old order of things as the best, unless and until I become convinced that it cannot be made better. It is our new world theory of government exists for the people, as against the old world conception that the people exist for the government. A sharp line separates those who believe that an elect class should be the special object of the government's concern, and those who believe that the government is the agent and servant of the people who create it.

In that speech of acceptance Mr. Smith continued by saying—"It is a fallacy that there is inconsistency between progressive measures protecting the rights of the people, including the poor and the weak, and a just regard for the rights of legitimate business, great or small. Therefore, while I emphasize my belief that legitimate business promotes the national welfare, let me warn the forces of corruption and favoritism, that I believe that there is no victory means that they will be relegated to the rear, and the front seats will be occupied by the friends of equal opportunity."

How Mr. Smith has changed since 1928. Was he a demagogue then? Was he inciting one class of people against the other? The progressive statesman of 1928 has been transformed to the conservative businessman of 1936. His outlook on things political and social have evolved from the idealism of his younger years to realism—or shall we say materialism.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Friendly Tip

If I could learn the name there would be a Valentine for the thoughtful, if anonymous reader who apparently was deeply moved by what recently appeared in this column regarding my willingness to enjoy coasting. Touched no doubt by the spirit of helpfulness, he or she—the note was typewritten and unsigned—forwarded the sporting goods circular of a swank New York firm, with the message, "Here's your chance." Undoubtedly was the company's offer to supply for winter pastime a bobbed, with a klaxon, brakes, front and back, and a small reflector tail light for the sum of two hundred dollars.

Didn't Do Him Justice

More cameras, large, medium and small, have been clicking of late than is customary at this season because of the new law regarding the possession of revolvers. Even those who duty compel them to tote a gun have to go through the ceremony of fingerprinting and photographing for identification purposes. Three prints of each negative are demanded. You can easily see how a man feels who is sworn to uphold the law and yet is obliged to have his fingerprints and likeness placed on official records as if he were a criminal.

There is nothing specified in the statutes as to how clear and lifelike the picture shall be. Consequently, some have utilized amateur snapshots, products of passport studios and other equally hurried and inartistic work. As these are apt to bring out the worst of one's features, my sympathy went out to an earnest detective of my acquaintance who is by no means an ill-looking chap. But his revolver permit photo—well, you surely must have seen it. Anyway, when he showed it to me he was by no means proud. Solemnly, with a shake of his head, he observed, "If I thought I looked as bad as that I'd turn the gun on myself."

Nitwits at Their Best

If you think the heathen, poor and benighted though they be, lead the people of United States in the matter of self-censorship, then I ask your attention to the remarks of three State officials on the conduct of dance marathons and walkathons. Commissioners of health, of public welfare and of public safety were directed by the Legislature to make an intensive study and they did so.

Dealing with walkathons or the "hot iron grind," as it is advertised on the posters, the report says: "The contestants begin by sleeping on a hard bench for two minutes; then they are rushed to the platform where they start walking, gradually increasing the speed until they reach a running pace. This continues until the contestants are at the point of exhaustion, usually after about 15 minutes. The partners then hold each other up, after which they are separated and made to stand alone."

Chastly, isn't it? But read on: "By this time they are almost asleep and appear ready to drop, but the yelling from the sidelines keeps them awake. The partners then join hands and pivot for a five-minute period, after which they separate and walk singly around the stage. They pivot again and then walk blindfolded. During this process of elimination the contestants fall against the enclosing wires because of dizziness and exhaustion and are carried off the stage."

I remember reading in my youth horrible stories of India where people performed cruel acts for their own suffering but I think that the modern idea surpasses all these. It is no surprise that ten States forbid such exhibitions and that Massachusetts is asked by its leading officials to prohibit such agonizing demonstrations in our own commonwealth.

This May Explain It

Warm and hospitable as a public library usually is found to be, its patrons, as I observe them, have a stiff and distant air. It may be they fear breaking that inflexible rule of silence, and, bending backwards, suppress all feelings of cordiality. That, however, would not explain the exchange of sharp, almost malevolent glances I have frequently noticed. Of course, there is the spirit of competition, more fancied than real, but enough to stir up trouble.

Two men, strangers to each other, enter at the same time. For some unaccountable reason they suspect one another of seeking the very same book. When Number 1 arrives first at the desk and says what he wants, he turns to his rival with a triumphant sneer as if to say, "Well, I beat you to it." Number 2, although he had no such book in mind, returns the insult with a haughty stare.

If conversation were permitted it might promote a better understanding, but I doubt it. Public library patrons are usually serious-minded. They desire to show their appreciation of the city's generosity by reaching forth for all they can conveniently carry, realizing that there are many others of the same acquisitive state of mind. Naturally, this serves to keep them all on edge and make them unduly touchy. Human nature, that's all.

Hutchinson Will Run Unpledged

For some time it has appeared to me that the Republican National Convention of 1936 will be perhaps the most important convention in the history of the Party. Hosts of patriotic citizens, both registered members of the major political parties and independents, are counting upon the Republican party to nominate able men with sane ideas regarding the functions of government as tested and proven to be sound during the growth of our nation; and further to adopt a platform that is constructive and progressive. The opportunity to serve the Nation is there. The Republican party must meet the responsibility.

Recognizing this situation and desiring to be of service to the extent of my abilities, I am presenting my candidacy as one of the delegates from the Ninth Congressional District. If chosen by my fellow Republicans, I shall go to the convention unpledged to any candidate, reserving the right to use my best judgment in the interests of the Nation and of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, both in the matter of candidates and the platform. Because I do not seek office in either the Federal or State governments, nor desire political appointments or favors, it is not logical and practicable for me to exercise this freedom of thought and action.

Conditions and situations have been changing rapidly. Commitments in advance are likely to be regretted, and I can only promise to continue to give conscientious service to the Republican party and through it to the State and Nation.

Second Recital of All Newton Music School

Last Friday evening, Jan. 31st, the second pupils' recital of the season was held at the Claffin School Branch of the All Newton Music School. An interested audience enjoyed a Mozart Concerto for violin, played by one of the post-graduate students with the accompaniment of the Faculty Quartet, as well as the work of the younger pupils on the violin, piano and cello.

The previous Friday, Jan. 24th, a recital was held in the Assembly Hall of the Peirce School for Peirce Branch of the Music School. The severe weather did not prevent an appreciative audience from hearing the work of the little beginners, and enjoying vocal solos and a violin solo by a post-graduate student.

Norma Olson, cellist accompanied by Dorothy Kovitz, pianist, both students in the All Newton Music School, played several selections at the meeting of the Channing Alliance at the Channing Church in Newton on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 28th.

Spring Party For Dartmouth College Fund

Plans are being made for the fifth annual Spring Party to be given for the Dartmouth College Scholarship Fund. This year the party will take the form of a dance to be given in the new ballroom on the Parker House roof the evening of February 28. Music for the dance will be furnished by Gene Hammett of the Brown Derby orchestra, a recent Dartmouth graduate, and for those who do not wish to dance a room nearby has been reserved for bridge playing. The Dartmouth Women's Club is sponsoring the event and all arrangements are being made under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert D. Salinger of Newtonville.

Making Early Plans For Children's Circus

In spite of frequent sub-zero weather the Boston Wellesley College Club is turning its attention to the annual children's circus to benefit the Wellesley College Students' Aid Society. It will be held in May on the college campus. Mrs. Harlan T. Stetson of Collins road, Waban, who is in charge of the circus this year, held the initial meeting of her committee at her home last week. Tea was served.

Among those present were Mrs. Lynn M. Guterson of Locke rd., Waban; Mrs. Warren K. Russell of Hillcrest cir., Waban; and Mrs. George Belcher of Waban ave., Waban.

OUR LADY WINS ON BASKETS BY MORRIS

The Our Lady High basketball team scored a 24-17 victory over the St. Clement's High five on Tuesday at the Our Lady gym when Francis Morris started a late-game streak of five baskets and a foul. Returning to the game in the fourth period Morris tallied the eleven points to bring his total for the game to 15 as the high scorer.

Newton Highlights

Leighton Harris of Highland ave., Newtonville, is playing his second year on the Tufts varsity basketball team. Two years ago as a freshman he was a member of his freshman team. He is active in many campus affairs and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

With the opening of the second semester at Bowdoin college this week six freshman hockey players of the junior varsity team become eligible for places in the varsity. Among them is Richard S. Rosenfield of Waban. Rosenfield has proven one of the most aggressive players of the squad on the ice with plenty of speed. He is expected to see action as a varsity forward in coming games having starred in three freshman games this season. He is a graduate of New Prep School and Andover academy.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

NEWTON SIX HOLDS MELROSE TO TIE SCORE

Newton High sailed out of the hockey doldrums last Saturday at the Boston Garden on the wings of a 1-1 tie with Melrose, a club which had won seven out of eight games before they were stopped by Doc Martin's fighting lines. Newton staged their best performance of the year, and Melrose was forced to come from behind to knot the score with a goal that was chalked up under protest.

Junie Buttrick had a great workout in the Newton nets, and stopped everything within reason. Paul Brown and John Harrington combined to score Newton's goal, and only the breaks of the game deprived the smooth Daniels-Blodgett-Miner line of two or three goals. Ernie MacLeod, Newton captain and now a defense player, took considerable riding from the crowd as he protested several decisions of the officials.

Newton started off badly, but managed to get the range late in the first period, holding Melrose at a disadvantage. Bob Miner was penalized for interference soon after the game commenced, but Smith and Melrose drew a tripping penalty. Sullivan led a pair of rushes that tested goalie Buttrick, but Bill Daniels and John Blodgett also had a good opening and missed. Howie Milner led a power play that gave Birdsell two saves at the Melrose nets.

Newton's second line comprised Harrington, Brown, and Joyce, and Joyce showed considerable improvement over his last game at the Garden. Ernie MacLeod got off a slow backhand at Birdsell on a pass from Joyce, but had no other chances during the period. The Newton captain gave the impression of being either overworked or out of condition all through the game.

Newton forced the play toward the end of the period, feeding Birdsell four hard shots, Blodgett popping a short drive at his leg pads when a score seemed certain. At the very end of the period, Melrose swarmed into Newton ice and gave Buttrick a bad last minute, although the pride of Brae Burn had only one actual save to make.

Harrington Goal Puts Newton Ahead

The first line scrimmage honors went to Melrose as the second period opened, and Junie Buttrick had at least five saves to his credit in the few minutes that Melrose penned the Newton first line in their own ice. It was left to the second line to open the scoring. Johnny Harrington's shot went to the backboards wide of the cage, and Paul Brown raced in, made the pass, and saw Harrington put the rolling puck across the goal line. The goal, made at 4:05, was largely due to Brown's effort in smashing in where a less aggressive boy might have let the play go.

Melrose came back with a vengeance. Buttrick was called on for three hard saves, then was beaten for a goal that came apparently after the referee's whistle had blown. Newton's second line had just come on when Warren Davidson's pass came to rest in front of the Newton goal and Capt. Gil Priestly lifted it over Buttrick as he dived out to smother the puck. From the other end of the ice, it seemed that there was a distinct clanging of whistles, probably from the schoolboy wags, but MacLeod's protests to the officials got no sympathy. Newton carried the fight to Melrose again, and particularly after Fran Sullivan went off for tripping MacLeod. Ernie made one solo flight that ended with Birdsell kicking out a hard shot, but spoiled a pair of promising power plays at the end of the period.

The third period produced no score to break the tie, but both teams played a fast brand of hockey after the opening minutes. Jack Herrick replaced Joyce on the Newton second line and made one solo rush that was marked for a score, but was tripped by Melrose. Both goalies had eagerly on the line. Birdsell making three work to save as the Newton first line bored in. Bob Miner had two good chances, but spoiled them with wild shooting, and Fran Sullivan was robbed by a very good save by Junie Buttrick almost as the game ended.

RINDGE STOPS NINE GAME NEWTON STREAK

Rindge Tech halted the nine-game winning streak of the Newton High basketball team on Tuesday afternoon at the Rindge gym in Cambridge by out-scoring the orange and black 17-12. The defeat left Newton in a tie with Cambridge Latin for the Suburban League leadership, each having lost one game. Next Tuesday the Cantabs come to Newton in the second game between the two this season with the winner the probable league champion.

A powerful man-to-man defense, well-applied, proved too strong for the Newton offense to break down. The Newton defense, too, failed to stop the smooth-passing of the Rindge players early in the game with the result that Rindge built up an 8-1 lead in the first period and was never headed. Although Captain Al Smith was the individual high scorer of the game with seven points, the team's failure to come through with free tries was the deciding factor. The Newton players caged but four of fourteen free attempts on fouls. At half-time Rindge led 11 to 6. In the final minute of play Smith caged a difficult angle shot to bring the score to 12-15 but Duest, Rindge forward, clinched the verdict with a basket in the last thirty seconds of play.

Last Friday on the Newton floor Coach Simmons' aggregation walloped Brookline High to the tune of 36 to 6. Captain Al Smith led the Newtonites with 16 points, followed by Billy Johnston with eight. Newton held the visitors scoreless until after the fourth period had begun.

ENOCH ENTERS TWELVE IN GARDEN RELAY MEET

The Newton High track team, possibly the finest that Don Enoch has ever coached at Newton, is among the first choices to win Class A honors tomorrow in the first Eastern Seaboard Relay Carnival, at the Boston Garden. Matched for the three events against Brockton and Brookline, Newton's one-lap, two-lap and medley quartets will get brisk competition from 21 other Class A teams, as all events will be figured finally on time.

Newton is in the place of honor in Class A, and its races with Brookline and Brockton will be the last run off in each instance. The Enochmen seem very strong in the two-lap event, where Warren Wittens, Bud Huling, Bob Mather and Paul Dussossoit are set to lower the intercollegiate record for the Garden boards. To say that Newton is bound to score in all three races is easy, since the same system will be used as in cross-country, and each team's place will be recorded.

Strong One-Lap Team
In the one-lap relay, Coach Enoch will enter Frank Hines, Joel Covington, Richard Madfis and Paul Forte. While they have never had a chance for competition at the distance, the team looks strong. All four boys have had varsity sprinting experience, and if they handle the baton as well as other Newton teams have in the past, they will not be far in the race.

Everett has almost been conceded the medley relay, with Ventura, Springer, Piscione and Masciana in the running. But several other teams will bid strongly for this title, and Newton will not be the slowest. Elmer Ross will lead off on the three-lap leg, followed by Jerry Allen on the two-lap, Charlie Mergendahl on the one-lap, and Mike Regan on the half-mile.

Tight Meet at Lowell
Enoch's team came as close to defeat as they want to this winter last Saturday at Lowell. Trailing by five points when the relay race was called, Newton's crack quartet of Wittens, Huling, Hines and Dussossoit tore off a fast 1200-yards to carry the event handsily, tying the score at 38½. Ace Wittens nearly left the track at the first bank, but came back to hand over a ten-yard lead to Bud Huling, and Hines and Dussossoit held off their respective opponents, finishing with a fifteen yard lead. The time, 2:30, was slow, but not bad for the narrow, sharply banked track.

Against Lowell, Ray Huling overshadowed his co-captain Wittens for the first time this winter. Ray won the hurdles from Mazur of Lowell, with Wittens third, then leaped ten feet even to take the broad jump, ending up with a valuable quarter in the all-important relay. Nat Heard had no trouble in heaving the 12-lb. shot from one side of the narrow Lowell track to the other, winning the event with a toss of 47 ft. 3½ in. long. Paul Forte edged out a first in the 20-yard dash, beating Mazur of Lowell and Frank Hines of Newton in 3.7s and also took second in the broad jump. Belesis of Lowell had the best of the high-jumping, going over the bar at 5 ft. 8 in., with Mark Messier taking second for Newton.

Ace Wittens continued his string of 300-yard victories, beating MacLean and Bakin in 37.5. Lowell piled on eighteen points in the two long jumps, Levine and Fournier running one-two in both the 600 and the 1000, again proving this department Newton's most vulnerable.

Y. M. C. A.

Squash Racquets

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Class D Squash Racquets team defeated the Harvard Business School Faculty team 5 to 0 in a match played Friday evening at Newton. Newton "Y" continues in first place in its division with the Milton Club of the University Club tied for second place. The results of the match follow:

BOYS' DIVISION NOTES

Slide Constructed On Y. M. C. A. Grounds

For the past week numbers of boys have been making use of the slide on the Y. M. C. A. grounds. Groups of members have been working for the past few days in digging and banking the snow so that a regular path for the sleds now runs from the top of the hill to the athletic field.

On Saturday, February 1st, Joseph Murphy of Church st., Newton, proved to be the winner in a Sliding Contest held on the slide. Richard Hill came in second.

The slide was constructed to take the boys and their sleds off the street:

Amateur Night

The second in the series of Amateur Nights was held at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening, January 31st. David Murray, 70 Page road, Newtonville, won first prize with his rendition of "The Harp" on the piano; Paul Cavanaugh was second with his harmonica; and Malcolm MacGarry third. He sang "I Wish I Was Single Again" and accompanied himself on the guitar.

The "Gong" only came into use once during the evening and the boys are asking for another "Night" in the near future.

Dramatic Club

The members of the Dramatic Club are working steadily on plays to be presented at the Annual Mother and Son Supper which will be held during the month of March under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary.

Robert MacLeod of Brighton is the leader and coach of this club and is keeping the boys interested with a variety of plays.

Weeks Jr. High

The basketball championship of the seventh grade was determined last Friday when Room 311 defeated Room 207, 25 to 11. This game brought to a close the intramural schedule, and intensive work is now being done in preparation for the varsity games.

The Modern Dance Club, sponsored by Miss Cook and Mrs. Dinsmoor, gave an exhibition of various types of dancing at the assembly on Jan. 31. The several numbers included folk dancing, tap dancing, and the modern interpretative rhythmic dancing. During the program the school joined in several choral numbers.

Elections for the new Student Council were held last week. The following will hold office for the last half-year: James Tobin, Room 104; Roger Wharton, 107; Lynn Wilkes, 111; Justine Sherwood, 113; Allen Talley, 204; Herbert Rosenberg, 205; Priscilla Parker, 207; Paul Miller, 208; Robert Liming, 209; Jane Hickox, 210; Clifford Goodband, 211; Stetson Mick, 212; Henry de Rusha, 213; Jacqueline Smith, 214; Christine Cameron, 216; Susan Rogers, 218; Richard Means, 304; Karyl Kern, 305; Patricia Leydon, 307; Edith Howarth, 309; Walter Hurley, 310; Elaine Cummings, 311; Raymond Giles, 312; Paul Edmond, 313; Thomas Burkhard, 315; Marjorie Brown, 316; Stanley Collinson, 318; Joseph Cappadona, 319C; and Barbara Benjamin, 320. In addition, Herbert Bernard, 315; Tersino D'Eugenio, 213; Mary Flynn, 211; and Gilbert Gould, 211, were elected members-at-large from the ninth grade.

Day Jr. High School

On Friday, Jan. 31, a party was given at the Frank A. Day Junior High School in honor of the members of the Student Council and the Student Patrol who served for the first half year. The party was arranged in recognition of the faithful service of these two groups during the last five months. The officers of the retiring student representatives are as follows: Student Council—President, Daniel Needham, Jr.; Vice-president, Doris Martines; Secretary, Ernest Colarullo. The Student Patrol Boys' Captain was Albert Everts and the Girls' Captain, Miriam Cronan.

The members of the newly elected council, chosen to represent each of the three grades, are as follows: Miriam Cronan, Katherine Dargan, Mavis Hayden, Viola Norcross, Rose Ann Penne, Phyllis Petrie, Ruth Putnam, Enid Trull, Ernest Colarullo, Albert Everts, Janice Dodd, Polly Donovan, Maxine Gaddis, Janet Mundy, Paul Hines, Donald Koughan, Albert Shapalis, Alice Birmingham, Helen Chapin, Robert Beatty, Paul Harrington, Francis Leone and John Sauter.

The following seventh grade officers have been elected: President, Francis Leone; vice-president, Virginia Kyle; secretary, Thada Thornton; and treasurer, Joan McGrath.

known as a sponsor of the Day Broadcasting Club and a teacher of eighth grade English, has left to complete her studies for her degree at Columbia University. Her place has been filled by Miss Edith A. Hickey. Miss Hickey is a graduate of Radcliffe College and at present is working for the degree of Master of Education at the Harvard University Graduate School.

At the assembly of Friday, Jan. 31, the official motion pictures of the construction of Boulder Dam were shown. Mr. Roy Williams, the Manager of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, prefaced the pictures with an interesting and highly informative talk. Mr. Williams was introduced by Ruth Putnam.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The 8th grade Dramatic Club under the direction of Miss Larabee presented two plays at the assembly January 29th. The first play "A Kid from the East" concerned a boy from New York who was out to see the Wild West. His cousin and friends were worn out at the end of two weeks from trying to make the West seem wild. The Easterner was Robert Gallant and the Westerners were Leon Schwartz, Kenneth Bryant, Stafford Osborn, John Howard, Thomas Lawson, Donald Colligan, Donald Ferguson, James Melcher, and Herbert Pingree. A special feature was a solo, "Prairie Moon," sung by Kenneth Bryant.

The second play, "Little Black Hellotrope," showed the devotion of a little negro slave, Katchine Hogon, to her mistress, Annette Yanco. Others in the cast were, Nancy Smith, Beatrice Mandelstam, and Virginia Wallace. The early American interior setting was most effective and the costumes were of the Civil War period.

Warren Jr. High

A new Honor Roll which contains names of students for effort only has been adopted. A superior mark in effort in all subjects is required. On the Honor Roll for the second marking period are the following students:

Junior I—Nancy Cannan, Virginia Graham, Betty Harlow, Patricia Lunny.

Junior II—Ralph Burns, William Courtneidge, Kittredge Fisher, John Kellar, Herbert Mayer, Elsa Peterson, Virginia Sidles, Seely Stetson, Frederick Woodruff.

The Mathematics, a group of Junior II students interested in mathematics, presented topics of mathematical interest to the Warren School Community at the assembly on January 24. The program included the following items as studied in the after-school session of the club under the direction of Mr. Goeres: "The History and Construction of the Magic Squares," "The Advantages of the Twelfth Month Calendar," "A Better Thermometer than Fahrenheit's, How to Find One's Horsepower," "The Law of Averages," "The Sextant," "The Pantomime and Its Use," "How to Operate the Slide Rule," "The Pyramid Puzzle," "Mathematics of the Pyramids."

Students taking part were: Kittredge Fisher, Wendel Smith, Mildred Baird, Nancy Jenks, Betty Cort, Estherut Wales, Frederick Woodruff, Warren Young, Ralph Burns, John Kellar, William Courtneidge, Marcia Wade, Hollis Wyman, and Brooks Heath.

The assembly on January 17 was in charge of Miss Annaliese Miss Miles. Miss Aurelio revised and coached a French play, "Les Amis." Miss Miles, assisted by Nancy Blake supervised the making of scenery and costumes.

Eleanor Borden, announcer, gave a brief English synopsis before each act.

James Brady acted as stage manager, with Teddy Madden and Robert Neitzke as able assistants. Jack Carder and William McLellan were the curtain pullers.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 9.

The Golden Text is: "The Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God" (1 Corinthians 2:10).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. . . . For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace" (Romans 8:1, 5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are placed and whom we acknowledge and obey as God. If divine Love is becoming nearer, dearer, and more real to us, matter is then submitting to Spirit. The objects we pursue and the spirit we manifest reveal our standpoint, and show what we are winning" (p. 239).

The Major Has the Right Idea!

WHEN Major Bowes sends amateur radio performers out with his traveling vaudeville units, he sees to it that they earn enough to do three things:

Live, send money home, and save!

Teachers In Newton Schools Hold Party

The All Newton Teachers' Party was held at the High School Auditorium on Wednesday evening, January 29. The committee on arrangements was chosen by Russell Burkhardt, president of the Newton Teachers' Federation, and consisted of Raymond Greene, chairman, Carl Swan, Grace Wallace, Robert Miller, Ruth Burgess, and Carlton Ray.

The Warren teachers presented a radio skit, written by Mr. Penny, carrying out the idea of the Newton School broadcasts. As an opening number the chorus sang a parody on "School Days." Mr. Penny acted as announcer and Miss Aurelio had the role of "Little Red Riding Hood." The other members taking part were: Mrs. Gill, Mr. Regan, Mr. Converse, and Mr. Johnson. The music for the skit was played by the faculty orchestra consisting of the Misses Miles and Turner and Messrs. Tower, Converse, and Goeres. The members of the chorus were: Mrs. Mooney, Misses Aurelio, Winchester, Dudley, Walsh, Pepin, Hasty and Messrs. Hardy, Penny and Regan.

The High School skit was called "Command Performance—Anything Goes," and was written by Jessie Southard of the English Department. Those taking part were: Louise Weatherbee, Louise Richardson, Helen Nute, Marion Maguire, Maude Shippee, Adele Waldmeyer, and Helen Cotton. The tap dancers were: Lucille Burnham, Agnes Peoples, Myra McLean, Evelyn Mooney, Edith Newcomb, Helen White, Helene Breivogel, Chellise Cook, Helen Rohrbough, Madeline Brackett, and Ruth Konkile. The solo numbers were cleverly executed by Lucille Burnham.

One of the real treats of the evening was songs by a double male quartet composed of Edward Griffin, Walter Taylor, Francis Foster, Raymond Greene, Ralph Sanborn, Charles Harrington, Ralph Morse, and Walter Sears. Their accompanist was Elwood Drake.

The Grade School Teachers' Club gave a play entitled "Two's Enough." The cast of characters for this sparkling little comedy included Alice Toulie, Faith Cony, Genevieve Ford, Louise Santosuosso, Dorothy White, Marion Herbert, and was coached by Marion Besset.

The Men's Club skit was written and coached by John Fitzsimmons. Those taking part in this amusing number were James Forbes, John Sullivan, Raymond Greene, Lawrence Drury, Julius Warren, Edward Griffin, Elwood Drake, Edward Boulter and John Fitzsimmons.

Julia Tobin gave a very pleasing interpretation of three songs from the deep South. She was accompanied by Edward Griffin.

Following the entertainment, a social hour was enjoyed in the gymnasium. Refreshments were served and music for dancing was furnished by the Sulzen and Webber ERA orchestra.

Newton Building For January

During the month of January the Newton Building Department issued 40 permits; the cost of the work to be done under them estimated at $182,621. Of these permits 19 were for single residences valued at $161,800, and 5 for garages valued at $2650. In 1934 during January only 20 permits were issued and the cost of the work was estimated at $75,880. Last year during January only 18 permits were issued and the estimated cost of work was $63,050.

Mother's Rest Asso. Has Membership Drive

Mrs. Ernest F. Drew of Auburndale is chairman of the membership drive of the Mothers' Rest Association of Newton being conducted during the first two weeks of this month. For thirty-five years the Mothers' Rest Association has given a two weeks' vacation, in the country, to needy mothers and their young children. All expenses are paid by the association, including: Transportation, Rooms, Meals, Nursing Service, Medical Care, Supervised Recreation for the children, Evening Entertainment for the mothers and Religious Services on Sundays.

The Rest located in the beautiful Oak Hill section of Newton, was especially designed for this vacation service. It has light, airy rooms, one for each mother, modern sanitary bathrooms, large recreation room, with a cheery fireplace for rainy days, a fully equipped kitchen and dining room, also screened porches. In the large pine grove are swings and sand boxes for the children.

The whole atmosphere is one of peace and quiet, wonderfully restful and healthful for tired minds and bodies.

The Staff at the Rest is composed of a matron, a nurse, a mother's helper, a cook, two maids and a laundress.

From June until the middle of September six two-weeks' parties are planned. Each one includes twenty mothers and their children of five years of age and younger. In the summer of 1935—126 mothers and 205 children were given vacations, thirteen nationalities being represented.

Guests are invited from the churches and charitable organizations of Greater Boston, preference being given to Newton families.

The property is entirely paid for and through the generosity of many friends, and by careful and efficient management during these many years, the early expenses have been paid and a maintenance fund accumulated.

The aim of the Organization is to have a membership large enough to meet the annual budget of approximately $4,500.00.

Dinner on Tuesday For Ald. Brocklesby

Alderman John F. Brocklesby of Newton will be the recipient of a testimonial dinner on Tuesday evening, Feb. 11th, at the Auburndale Club. The committee in charge includes W. Edward Wilson, chairman; Bernard McCarthy, treasurer; John Shade Franklin, secretary; Francis P. Frazier, Theodore Morrison, Bernard Farrell, William Noone, Edward F. Dalton, Arthur Russell, Alfred Guzzi, Frederick Joyce, Rufus Lovelace, Charles A. Kearney, Elinor Mulcahy, George Cashman, Paul Stankard, Thomas Lyons, James T. Flynn, Wm. H. Brocklesby, Frank Bergen, Thomas Waters and many others.

Speakers include Mayor Childs, Commander John Walsh, Department of Massachusetts American Legion; Senator Arthur W. Hollis, Postmaster Peter F. Tague, Hon. Thomas W. White, Capt. Harry R. Hayes, M. D. C. and Attorney General Paul A. Devor.

Among the honored guests will be Mrs. Julia Brocklesby and Miss Ada Brocklesby, mother and sister of Alderman Brocklesby, Chief Clarence Randlett and Chief Michael Hughes, W. H. Wilson and Pres. Harry Hanson of the Middlesex and Boston St. R. R. Street Commissioner Charles Mahoney, Rev. John B. Condon, Rev. E. J. Fairweather and Rev. John Shade Franklin.

Fined For Not Removing Snow

Ossian D. Brett of 164 Washington st., Newton, was fined $5 in the Newton court on Wednesday for not having snow removed from the sidewalk in front of his home. Patrolman McLean testified that he had warned Brett to remove the snow, that his warning was not heeded, and later a woman fell on the icy sidewalk and was injured.

Two other Newton residents will appear in court today to answer similar charges on complaints of Patrolman Frank Cain.

City Not Killing Rats

In recent years the Newton Board of Health at various times gave publicity to the fact that it would cooperate in the extermination of rats by providing (at cost) poison to kill the rodents in a sanitary manner. This was done in conjunction with State wide campaigns against rats. As a result many persons in the city have the idea that it is a function of the local Health Department to assist in exterminating rats. So many requests have been received by the department to aid in removing rats from private property that at a meeting of the Board of Health this week it was voted that the control of rats in or on private properties is the problem of the owners or occupants and not of the Health Department. The city approves no money for rat killing. But if you want advice on how to rid your premises of rats, the Health Department will freely give it to you.

Newton Police Transferred

Several transfers were put into effect in the Newton police department last Saturday. Patrolman Charlton was transferred from night duty at headquarters to Newton Corner nights. Patrolman Walter Jenkins is shifted from relief duty days to a day route at Newton Centre. Patrolman Condrin was shifted from night duty at Newton Corner to night relief duty. Patrolman Kerivan was changed from night relief duty to the signal desk at headquarters. Patrolman Timothy Riley was shifted from night relief duty to first-half duty nights at Lower Falls. Patrolman Henrikus was shifted from night relief duty to night duty at Waban. Patrolman Barr was transferred from Lower Falls nights to relief duty nights. Patrolman Doherty was shifted from Waban nights to relief duty nights. Patrolman Gegan was shifted from the signal desk at headquarters to house duty at headquarters.

NEWTON FLOWER SHOP ADDS TO EQUIPMENT

The Newton Flower Shop in Newtonville has added to its refrigeration facilities, a modern electric unit. The new equipment consists of a huge refrigerating chamber 18 feet long, custom built of Cuban mahogany, and finished with chrome fittings. The unit is white enameled, inside, backed with full length plate mirrors. Glass shelves are provided for arrangement of flowers.

A most impressive spectacle greets the visitor to the shop, in the indirect illumination of a gorgeous display of spring flowers, seen through the glass doors of the new unit.

Welfare Dept. Giving Cash

In conformity with the statement made in Mayor Childs' inaugural address, the Newton Welfare Department is now giving checks to many persons whose families are receiving aid. These persons heretofore received food from various markets which had been low bidders for supplying food orders. Investigators of the Welfare Department and members of charitable organizations are assisting in checking up on those who are deemed reliable and capable of purchasing their own food. Those on the welfare lists who are known to divert the money provided by the city checks for other than necessities of life will be continued on food orders.

Judge Johnson Is Speaker At Welfare Bureau

Judge Kenneth D. Johnson, Special Justice Eastern Norfolk District Court at Quincy and leading juvenile judge of the country, spoke at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Welfare Bureau, 12 Austin st., Newtonville, on February 5, his topic being "The Court Looks at the Juvenile." He said historically Massachusetts has been the leader in advancing juvenile court legislation. However, other States have gone ahead of us in this respect. In Massachusetts there have been no changes since the original enactment thirty years ago, and the community must be constantly aware that changes must be made from time to time to meet the present advance in knowledge concerning care of children. Laws were never meant to remain the same when dealing with conduct and behavior problems. Each generation brings its own peculiarities.

However, the language of the original Juvenile Court law cannot be improved as this section reads that care, custody, and discipline of children brought before the courts shall approximate as nearly as possible that which they should receive from their parents. Judge Johnson stressed especially that ordinary court houses should never be used for the hearing of juvenile delinquents, and as far as possible the children should be treated not as criminals but as children in need of aid, encouragement and guidance. One should approach the Juvenile Court in exactly the same way as one approaches a doctor.

Questions to be asked in relation to the individual delinquent includes ones such as: How has this child become what he is? What can best be done? It is important for the community to ask itself what attention we are giving to the natural breeding place of the future Millens, Chapmans, and how much time do we give to the source from which these people sprang. Special emphasis should be put on the care of these youngsters which come into the Juvenile Court, all of them under 17 years of age, especially when we realize the large number of men in State Penitentiaries between the ages of 22 and 23, and that a very large group is 19 years of age. The Juvenile Courts have an advantage to do corrective work in dealing with young people; individual consideration should be given in each instance.

In giving a report of the work of the Bureau for the year 1935, Miss Parsons, the Secretary, stressed particularly the increasing number of families who come for advice and consultation. Problems such as marital friction, personality difficulties, training of children, lack of knowledge of household management have been predominant. Through giving service and advice, the Welfare Bureau stands in the position of many times preventing people from needing relief. She spoke of the challenge of 1936 that the Welfare Bureau stress more and more preventive work because so much of that they are dealing with is family morale occurs before rather than after the acceptance of relief, and the community must constantly strengthen the case work services which can be made available before relief is needed, thereby attempting to avoid family disintegration.

Dr. Cecil Clark reported on the work of the Health Committee which has supervision of the spending of the Christmas Seal Fund. He stressed particularly the value of this work in sending children to Health Camps and supplying them with nourishing food and milk.

Officers and directors for the year 1936 were elected as follows: Officers and Directors—President, Mr. Elliott B. Church; Vice-President, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor; Mr. Richard B. Carter; Mr. Clifford H. Walker; Treasurer, Mr. William M. Cahill; Clerk, Miss Dorothy L. Simpson.

Directors for 3 years—Mrs. H. Reginald Bankart, Mr. Charles W. Blood, Mrs. Robert Bonner, Mr. William M. Cahill, Mr. Albert P. Carter, Mr. Philip W. Carter, Dr. Cecil W. Clark, Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, Mrs. Hugh S. Hince, Mrs. James Kinsman, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, Mr. Walter J. Meadows, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Mrs. William Z. Ripley, Mrs. Arthur H. Shannon, Miss Louise Sherman, Miss Dorothy L. Simpson, Rev. John A. Sheridan, Mr. Nelson Tucker, Mrs. Percy Woodward.

New Health Rule On Measles

The Newton Board of Health has adopted a new rule regarding measles. Heretofore children in this city who have been exposed to measles have had to stay out of school for at least 14 days. Under the new rule children can attend school for the first 7 days after they have been exposed to the disease. Then they must remain out of school for at least 7 days. The change was made because the Health Department believes that anyone exposed to measles does not develop the disease during the first 14 days after contact with anyone having it.

Two Injured In Newton Ctr. Crash

Automobiles driven by Thomas Kilmain of Vine st., Roxbury and Lawrence McDonald of Royal st., Roxbury collided at 12:30 a. m. on Beacon st., Newton Centre near Tudor rd. Kilmain claimed his back was injured. McDonald received an injury to his nose and Dino Fazio, of Needham, who was riding with Kilmain, received a cut on his face. Both were taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

Rotary Club

The Rotary Club was host to the Kiwanis Club last Monday at Brae Burn; or rather, as President Melcher expressed it in presenting the new President of Kiwanis, Ernest Gibson, the two clubs were holding another of their joint meetings. In acknowledging the greetings of Rotary, President Gibson spoke forcibly on the influence of a service club in the community as it manifests itself through the activities of the individual members of the clubs. He told of the support he had always found among such members on community projects when the general public had seemed apathetic.

The speaker for the luncheon was J. Bruce McCullough of the Providence Club who presented some ideas on the International situation as gathered from his own experiences in Europe when serving on one of Rotary's international committees as well as from his reading of the daily press. The headlines reveal constantly an undercurrent of fear in all international relations but Mr. McCullough feels that England, of all the countries, seems to have faced the critical conditions most honestly. She has not yielded to fascism or to Communism, and neither has she bowed before small, closely organized minorities as have we of this country. Hitler went in as a Socialist but now seems to have definitely turned his back on his early friends and to have lined up very clearly with wealth and big business. Unless there is a revolution among the common people of Germany within three years there is every prospect that the world will see there the most extensive military regime it has ever seen anywhere. As for Communism, Mr. McCullough considers that it has proven a great and worthy experiment for Russia although it would be utterly unsuited to most countries in the world.

Roosevelt once said, "Governments make War; we have Peace by Peoples." The relations of international members of service clubs indicate the same thing. At the time Mr. McCullough was working on the Rotary International committee in 1931 members of that committee from France and Germany were working in honest and wholesome fellowship in spite of the fact that the diplomats of each country were in anything but harmony. Such happenings lead to the conclusion that many of the world difficulties would dissolve if only those in the forefront of the conflict could be inspired with the ideas of the service clubs.

To members of service clubs in particular but to citizens in general as well comes this suggestion: Don't let little surface fears overshadow the tremendous dangers to civilization which are so much more to be feared; don't let the fear of losing an order or even a friendship blind you to the fact that they have done exactly the contrary to what they promised to do. Instead of balancing the budget, they have created an enormous deficit.

Young People's Conference Feb. 14

That amount will not come within 2 billion dollars of paying what the President asked for in his last budget message. It will not come within 9 billion dollars of paying the present cost of government. You still have to take $1.40 out of the poor man for every dollar out of the wealthier people and corporations. You must realize that you have to pay this. The President himself stated in his letter to Roy Howard that 60 per cent of the total Federal revenue must be derived from taxes on the consumer. Only 1,700,000 people in the whole country had enough income last year to pay any income tax. Over 71 million people do not file any income tax statements at all.

"Congress passed the 'soak-the-rich' bill last year. They decided they would take all large incomes 70 per cent and estates 75 per cent. Before they passed that bill the Treasury of the United States submitted schedules showing that out of 62 different plans investigated they finally devised a bill which would produce by what amounted almost to confiscation a bare 270 million dollars. That would not pay 1 per cent of the present national budget alone. It would not pay 2 per cent of the present cost of government. But it again brings home to you that the great middle class of this country must pay these bills.

"A committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce recently made a report on this situation and reported these facts: All of the incomes reported for Federal tax purposes by all individuals would defray the cost of government in the United States, Federal, state and local, for only 33 weeks. All the incomes of over $5,000 or more would last the government less than 8 weeks. Incomes over $100,000 or more would defray the cost of government for 10 days. It would take about 61 cents out of every dollar of retail purchases to pay the cost of government last year. All the wages and salaries of all the people in this country would not defray the cost of government for more than 18 months.

"From every viewpoint you get the same answer. There is nowhere else to get the money than to take it away from the poor people of the country. The sooner you show the members of Congress that they are not our masters, and that they must heed the will of the country to stop the reckless spending, the sooner you will get action to cut down wasteful bureaucracy.

"Anything I may say today is not intended to have any political bias. We simply want a government that lives up to its promises. Everything that could have been desired was in the Democratic platform. When Roosevelt and the senators and representatives were elected to office they received a mandate from the majority of the people of this country to carry out these pledges—to reduce the cost of government 25%, to balance the budget, and to give us sound money. You know that not one of these things has been done. They have not only broken every pledge but they have done exactly the contrary to what they promised to do. Instead of balancing the budget, they have created an enormous deficit.

"You have an irredeemable paper currency. You cannot tell next week or next month what the purchasing power of your dollar is going to be. It can be changed at any time at the will of the President. Your representatives in Congress have already voted to give the President the right to issue 3 billion dollars of currency any time he sees fit. When you listened to the Democratic platform would you have imagined that sound money meant that all the gold in the country was going to be seized by the Government? Did you expect that gold bonds were going to be repudiated? Did you think the Government would reduce the gold content of the dollar by 40%? That the Government would go into the markets of the world and buy silver, paying up to 60 and 70 cents an ounce for it? If that is sound money, then I don't know what sound money is.

"There is a way to prevent these things, that is, the voice of the people. There are 30 million young people who have come of age since the War in this country. There were 40 million votes cast in the last presidential election. These young people had nothing to do with the War and are going to be burdened for the rest of their lives. They have the balance of power if they will speak up, organize, and work for better government.

"We are paying foreign labor in other countries to replace the animals we killed and the crops we destroyed in this country. All along the line there has been destruction of the people's money. If you value your homes, if your families or your business mean anything, your life insurance policies, your savings banks accounts, you must take a stand in their defense. You cannot sit idly by and do nothing about it. The National Economy League has a very definite program of education which it is endeavoring to bring to the American public. It is putting the facts before the people as fast as it can and speaking. It has memorialized Congress a number of times and has submitted balanced budget plans to Washington, prepared by experts. We are all giving our time and money toward this cause without compensation. We ask of you that you help us in our efforts to help you."

Acres Needed by Deer
An acre of forest will support a deer in summer; several acres are necessary in winter.

Girls Favored for Adoption
Girls for adoption are four times as popular as boys among foster parents, according to New British statistics.

Recent Weddings

COLLINS—FOLEY

Catherine M. Foley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Foley of 951 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, was married to Edmund Collins, son of Mrs. Rose Collins of New Bedford by Rev. Bernard Winn, at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Newton Centre, on Sunday, February 2nd. Mr. Joseph Quinn of Watertown, and Miss Dorothy Hoar of Newton Highlands attended the couple.

A reception for the immediate families was held at the home of the bride.

After an extended wedding trip the couple plan to make their home in Brookline, Mass.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gordon Hughes, of Chestnut Hill have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean Mary Hughes to Richard G. Hartigan of Brookline.

Miss Hughes graduated from Villa Maria Convent, Montreal, in 1933 and attended Emmanuel College, Mr. Hartigan graduated from Holy Cross College in 1934.

Stone Institute Elects Officers and Directors

At the 37th Annual Meeting of the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People, held on Saturday, February 1st, the following officers and directors were elected.

President, Metcalf W. Melcher; vice president, Seward W. Jones; treasurer, Albert P. Carter; clerk, William H. Rice.

Directors: Lewis H. Bacon, Mrs. Geo. W. Bartlett, Russell Burnett, Albert P. Carter, Mrs. Albert P. Carter, Wm. F. Chase, Marshall B. Dalton, Mrs. Marshall B. Dalton, Mrs. James Dunlop, Frank Fanning, Mrs. Albert M. Fowle, Mrs. John A. Gould, Frank J. Hale, Mrs. Frank J. Hale, Mrs. Wilton E. Harding, Mrs. Fred R. Hayward, T. E. Jewell, Seward W. Jones, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, Miss E. W. Leatherbee, Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, Donald D. McKay, Metcalf W. Melcher, Mrs. Metcalf W. Melcher, John E. Peakes, George E. Rawson, Mrs. George E. Rawson, Wm. H. Rice, Mrs. Frank L. Richardson, Charles E. Riley, Mrs. Charles A. Sawin, Mrs. Cyrus T. Schirmer, Mrs. Charles L. Smith, Mrs. George S. Smith, Thomas A. West.

The treasurer's report showed an excess of income over disbursements of approximately $2,000 and indicated total subscriptions and donations of $4,500.

President Melcher said in his annual report among other things—"The principal improvement which we have made has been the installation of automatic sprinklers in the basement and diet kitchen and fire alarm signal apparatus in the attic. Among other improvements which have been made are the enlargement of one of the rooms in the lower floor, the re-surfacing of the driveway and the construction of two granolithic walks in addition to all necessary matters of maintenance.

"I must remind you that Newton needs a Home at least twice this size and I urge you to talk this Home to all you come in contact with that your good work may be better known. We need some large gifts and endowments to carry out this enlargement and I am sure these will come if you keep the need ever before your neighbors and friends."

Newton's Part In Community Fund

bing efforts to meet the fund quota for Newton.

Stressing the necessity for making a strong finish, Mr. Pratt said today: "Last week citizens of Newton contributed 15 per cent of our local quota in the Community Fund. If we are to do our full share, solicitors and contributors must cover a hearty during the few days which remain.

"Remember, last year approximately 992 men, women, and children from Newton were helped on a single day by Community Fund agencies. Day and night throughout the year these agencies answered the cry of human need. Let us all do our part to keep them working at maximum efficiency by contributing to the 1936 Community Fund Campaign.

"For the success of this united campaign an army of 12,000 volunteers, numbering in its ranks prominent leaders in all walks of human endeavor, have given unsparingly of time, energy, and thought over a period of many weeks. The campaign was planned and is being directed by the best minds of this great metropolitan community of which we are a part. Success or failure now rests with the volunteer solicitors and the thousands of Good Neighbors to whom appeal will be made during these vital last days. Let us all go over the top together in this final drive to build a better, safer community."

Recent Deaths

JAMES D. COLT

James D. Colt of 27 Suffolk rd., Chestnut Hill died on January 31. He was born in Pittsfield 73 years ago, the son of Judge James D. Colt for many years a judge of the supreme court. He graduated from Williams College in 1884 and from Harvard Law School in 1888. In 1896 he married Jeanne Guth of Peoria, Illinois. For the past 30 years he had been senior member of the law firm of Colt & Newell. He was a director of the Earnshaw Knitting Company of Newton and the Brookline Trust Company.

Mr. Colt had served as a lieutenant in the naval reserve and on the military staff of Governor Murray Crane with the rank of major. He was a member of the Middlesex, Boston, Massachusetts and American Bar Associations; Union, Middlesex, Harvard and Longwood Cricket Clubs and the Williams Club of New York. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jeanne Colt; a sister, Mrs. Clement Houghton of Chestnut Hill; and a brother, Samuel Colt of Pittsfield. His funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon at the First Unitarian Church, Chestnut Hill.

JAMES G. McGRATH

James G. McGrath of 340 Linwood ave., Newtonville died on January 31. He was born in Warren 74 years ago and had resided in this city for 30 years. He had been a painter by occupation. ## Women Hear of Fire Hazards

Chief Randlett Talks to League of Women Voters

The regular meeting of the League study group on "Know Your City" met at the home of the President, Mrs. Walter Hartstone, 950 Centre st., Newton Centre, on Monday morning February 3rd. The subject was Department. Chief Randlett gave an interesting and informing talk on his line of work. A brief summary of the most important points follows:

The Department employs 101 men and one woman, a clerk in the Chief's office. There are 10 fire stations, 9 engines and three ladder trucks. The cars of the Chief and the Assistant Chief are equipped with radios so that they can be reached instantly in an emergency. The Department also possesses a great variety of apparatus of the most modern description among which may be mentioned a lighting plant truck which can illuminate the whole area of a fire and two inhalators for reviving persons overcome by smoke or fumes of any kind. It should also be noted that fire hose 1½ inch in diameter is available for use in buildings when possible, thus lessening the necessary water damage.

Fire alarm boxes are of two types. In the older type it is necessary to break the glass door to reach the hook whose pulling gives the signal; in the modern "push action" the hook is more easily accessible. This makes more easy mischievous false alarms. It is therefore worth while to warn that the perpetrator of such a trick if caught is mulcted $50.00—the mere cost of bringing out the apparatus.

Two operators are on duty night and day in the Fire Alarm Office to operate the Central Office Fire Alarm System. A small fire calls for only a single alarm; a three-alarm call brings out the entire Department.

Such an alarm might leave the rest of the city unprotected were it not for the invaluable "Mutual Aid System." By this system any Newton call is sounded also in Boston, Waltham, Weymouth, Needham and Brookline. Upon a three-alarm these cities and towns make arrangements by which each of them will protect adjacent portions of Newton. And on the other hand should one of them be threatened by a major fire Newton would undertake protection of that part of the threatened town which is nearest to her.

Besides the fire hazards which were familiar to our grandmothers a few were mentioned which are the outcome of modern conditions. Gasoline is a dangerous friend; if it must be kept in the house it should be in a safety can. If used in a room in which there is an open flame, as the pilot light of a kitchen range, it may cause an explosion. The vapor of gasoline is very heavy; cases are on record in which it has rolled along a kitchen floor and down an open door to the cellar where in contact with a light, it has produced an explosion. When silk is cleaned with gasoline the friction of rubbing is enough to generate a fatal spark.

Electric devices like the radio should never be left running over night; a fire may be the consequence of some undetected defect in the mechanism. The electric pad should be turned off before one goes to sleep. If one lies on a pad and goes to sleep, it is produced and almost every one knows that if it becomes wet a dangerous short circuit is set up. If we leave an electric iron for even a moment memory should not be trusted—the plug should be pulled out. Rags soaked in turpentine, paint or floor polish may give rise to a fire by spontaneous ignition—they should be burned.

Some of the causes of fires in 1935 may be mentioned. Burning of brush, grass, leaves, etc., 441; dumps, 169; chimneys, 64; careless smoking, 45; oil burners, 40; spontaneous ignition, 6; defective lighting cords and short circuits, 6.

A large proportion of the calls are by telephone. Such a call should give the street and number and if feasible, some idea of the seriousness of the fire. An excited call, "Fire on Commonwealth Avenue" is hardly adequate.

Most persons have but a vague idea of the cost of fire protection. The appropriation for 1935 was $255,426.39; the actual expenditure was $248,909.27. Losses in 1935 were $137,414.49; in 1934, $130,096.39; in 1933 (estimated) $30,000.00. The Chief modestly says that this decrease is mainly due to luck and that this is in a measure true is shown by the fact that while in 1931 they were $111,796.79, in 1932 they dropped to $79,130.49.

Few people are aware of the possibilities of smoke explosion. In the presence of intense heat and in a confined space the carbon of smoke unites with the oxygen of the air to form a gas whose expansive power may even throw a man down stairs. It is for this reason that firemen always throw open windows in a burning room.

One of the many duties of the Chief is the investigation of the cause of every fire, the loss sustained and the extent to which the loss is covered by insurance. As Agent of the State Department of Public Safety it is his duty to report his findings to that Department. His inquiries may cause annoyance to a person who does not know that they form a part of his official duties and that they are made for public protection.

Another duty is to supervise the destruction of rubbish. Citizens are asked to separate from their ashes all other waste, such as papers, bottles, cans, etc. When, as formerly, they were mixed with ashes, rats were attracted to the dumps and became not only an annoyance but a menace. They are now consigned to the city incinerator whose heat is great enough to "burn" not only cans but bottles.

The League of Women Voters is asked by the National League to report for each town or city the extent to which Civil Service is in operation. It is therefore a pleasure to state the following facts: Men are appointed, after Civil Service examinations, to the lower posts. They are then under the supervision and training of the head of the division to which they belong. No man of over 35 is permitted to take examinations; after a probationary period of six months his tenure is secure until he is retired at the age of 65 on half pay. It was said that his tenure is secure; for any grave breach of duty he may be dismissed. If he believes injustice has been done he may apply to the court for a reconsideration of his case.

Aldermen Meet

Daniel Wilks, Woodbine ter.; George Hutchins, 105 Harvard st.

Alderman Guzzi, acting on a suggestion from Street Commissioner Mahoney, moved that Section 162 of the City Ordinances be amended. This section now reads—"Any person who shall place snow or ice upon any street, shall cause the same to be spread evenly; and no snow or ice except that removed from an abutting sidewalk shall be thrown or put onto any street, or upon a bridge, without obtaining a permit so to do from the Street Commissioner." Guzzi said this ordinance was passed in the horse and buggy days, and that many persons, especially those operating gasoline stations, shovel snow out onto the streets after it has been plowed off the street. The amended ordinance would compel abutters to pile snow shovelled off sidewalks only into gutters, and would prohibit other snow from being thrown out onto streets to menace automobile traffic. This matter was referred to the Claims and Rules Committee.

Alderman Akins suggested that the city might increase its revenues by collecting $20 fines from persons who allow awnings in front of stores to be less than 9 feet above sidewalks, as specified by city ordinance. Akins, who is about 6 feet, 2 inches tall, said he is continually bumping his head against low awning supports. Alderman Inghes got humorous and said the trouble is that Akins has acquired a swelled head because of being president of the Jefferson Club and an Alderman.

A letter was received from the Waban Improvement Association objecting to residence zones along Boylston st. being changed to business zones. The Newton Centre Improvement Association asked for a traffic signal at the junction of Boylston st. and Hammond Pond Parkway. Henry C. Howell of Waverley ave. sent a communication asking that the ordinance requiring snow to be removed from sidewalks be extended so that snow will be removed from gravel sidewalks. Petitions were received from Davis & Vaughan asking that South Meadow Brook be covered from Up-land rd. for 250 feet easterly, and that Stearns Brook be covered from that brook to Dedham st. John McCarron of 19 Pearl st., Newton, presented a claim for damage to his fence by one of the motor snow plows. Beatrice Higgins of Hunnewell terrace sent in a claim for injuries received when she fell on a stairs at the Newton Library on Dec. 6. Davis & Vaughan petition that land on Winchester st. between Goddard and Dedham sts. be changed from private residence to single residence zone. The Monaghan estate petition to alter its property at 1545 Washington st., West Newton, where there is a gasoline station.

Oppose Zone Change on Boylston

More opposition has developed to the petition of Augustus Thorndike and others who seek to change a large stretch of Boylston st. (the Worcester turnpike) from single residence to business zone near Hammond Pond. At the last meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen a communication was received from Herbert J. Kella-way who is a member of the Newton Planning Board. This communication stated that Edwin S. Webster of Chestnut Hill is opposed to the zoning change. Mr. Webster, one of the largest owners of real estate at Chestnut Hill, many years ago donated a large area of land to the public as a parkway for the Hammond Pond boulevard. He has been greatly interested in preserving the natural attractiveness of that section.

The Newton Highlands Men's Club has also gone on record in opposition to any change at present of the land in question from residence to business zone.

Skating Carnival at Crystal Lake Saturday, Feb. 8

A skating carnival will be held tomorrow on Crystal Lake, Newton Centre with a program opening at nine o'clock and continuing throughout the day. If weather conditions are unsuitable the carnival will be postponed until Saturday, Feb. 15th. The morning program will be devoted to skating races and figure skating contests for children. At three o'clock there will be skating exhibitions and dancing. Many prominent figure skaters are expected to participate including Miss Joan Tozzer and Bernard Fox, Mrs. Mason and Charles Wyman, Miss Louise and Jack Madden, Miss Suzanne Davis, the latter an ex-champion. All are members of the Newton Figure Skating Club which is arranging the program through the cooperation of the Newton Playground department.

"Collegiate" and "Perfect Gentleman" at Paramount

Production of Paramount's new musical picture, "Collegiate," proved a task of stupendous proportions, with more than 2,000 persons contributing to the film's completion and with about seventy different studio departments taking part. "Collegiate" has more than thirty speaking parts. The cast includes Joe Penner, Jack Oakie, Ned Sparks, Frances Langford, Betty Grable and Lynne Overman. The picture opens on Sunday at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, for four days.

The story deals with the efforts of Penner, Oakie, Sparks and Overman to conduct a girls' plant, including the dormitory rooms, the teacher's living quarters, classrooms and executive offices. Mack Gordon and Harry Revel not only wrote eight different songs for the picture, but also acted in it themselves. This isn't their first appearance before the camera—they pecked in on one scene of "Sitting Pretty," but it is the first time they have had acting parts. Two orchestras played their songs. One was a girl band of twenty pieces. The other was the studio orchestra of thirty pieces led by George Stoll, with which Miss Langford, Miss Grable, Jack Oakie and Joe Penner sang their respective songs. On the same program is Edward Arnold in "Crime and Punishment."

Starting Thursday, February 13th, the Paramount Theatre presents Frank Morgan in "The Perfect Gentleman" with Cicely Courtneidge, Heather Angel, Herbert Mundin and Una O'Connor. Introducing a new English comedienne, with America's ranking comedian, in the funniest picture of the year. The co-feature will be Myrna Loy and Spencer Tracy in "Whiplash."

RED CROSS

Waban Imp. Asso. Wants Turnpike Protected

The Waban Improvement Society, through its president, Lawrence Allen, has sent a letter to the Newton Planning Board, adding its protest against petitions to rezone land along Boylston st. so that such areas would be in business zones instead of residential. The letter reads:

"It has been brought to the attention of our Society that various petitions have been presented to the Newton Board of Aldermen to change various areas along the Worcester boulevard from residential zones to business zones.

"It is the feeling of our Board of Directors, as indicated by a unanimous vote on its meeting of Jan. 13, that some comprehensive plan of zoning be adopted which will so maintain the character of the above boulevard that the original objective of this through way can be maintained. It appears to us that it would be distinctly a step in the wrong direction if business areas were allowed to develop along this boulevard, as this would bring about conditions which would tend to hold up traffic and increase accidents.

"In addition to this practical phase of the matter it is the feeling of our Board that every step that is possible should be taken to beautify the areas contiguous to this main entrance to the City of Boston from the west.

"We understand that consideration has been given to the subject by the State Planning Board and we wish to go on record as being heartily in favor of developing some sound board plan for controlling the areas along the Worcester boulevard in this manner."

Stores Close February 22

Charged With Serious Offense

Everett (Scheinfain) Shepard and his wife, Mildred Shepard of 22 Park st., Newton were arraigned in the Federal Court in Boston on Monday for alleged violation of the Mann Act which involves a 15 year old Passaic, New Jersey girl who was taken into custody by the Newton police at the Park st. house a couple of weeks ago. The girl was arrested after the police had received anonymous letters. She was arraigned in the Newton court on January 31st and remanded to the custody of a welfare organization pending the continuation of her case. After the girl was taken into custody Newton police notified Federal officials because of evidence that the Mann Act had been violated. A warrant was issued for Albert Scheinfain, a brother of Everett Shepard who was at the Park st. house when the girl was arrested. He disappeared and the police are looking for him. He is charged with a statutory offense. Shepard and his wife were held in $5000 bail each and their cases continued to February 26.

Shepard, his wife and brother moved from Brookline to Newton the first of this year. The Scheinfains formerly resided on Washington st., Newton and Everett was a star football player at Newton High several years ago. A couple of years ago he had his name legally changed to Shepard.

Suspicious Fire At Newton Ctr.

A fire at the Karalekas Fruit Market 1365 Centre st., Newton Centre, at 7:30 Tuesday night caused damage of about $200 and was referred by Chief Randlett to the State Fire Marshal's office for investigation. The blaze is supposed to have started in a pile of empty crates and boxes. Ladderman Fred Fontannay, of Ladd 2, received a bad cut on his right hand when he was hit by an axe. He was taken to the Newton Hospital to have the injury treated.

Awarded $300 For Dog Bite

Mrs. Muriel Clow of 44 Jefferson st., Newton, was awarded $300 damages in the Newton court on Wednesday as a result of having been bitten on November 17, 1934 by a dog owned by F. Clark Atwood of 68 Maple st., Newton. Mrs. Clow was bitten while in her own driveway with her dog. According to testimony she was bitten on the back and has permanent scars as a result.

Skating Carnival At Crystal Lake A Big Success

5000 Persons Witness Skillful Skaters

The Newton Figure Skating Club held its first winter carnival Saturday, Feb. 8th, on Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands. A children's competition was held at 10:30 a. m. The judges for the five events included the two Vice-Presidents of the Club, Miss Marjorie Banton and Mr. Brigham; and Mr. Henry Witz, executive committee member. The events and winners of the children's competition are as follows:

1. Spiral Inside Forward Edge: 1st, Mary Reidy; 2nd, Jean Herley.
2. Outside Forward Circle Eight: 1st, Jean Herley; 2nd, Marion Barstow.

3. Spiral Outside Back Edge: 1st, Fay Kirby; 2nd, Mary Reidy.
4. Inside Forward Circle Eight: 1st, Audrey Vaughan.

5. Ten-Step: 1st, Fay Kirby; 2nd, Jean Herley.

At three o'clock a large group of spectators assembled, estimated in excess of 5000. The program started with a Snake Dance being led by Mary Reidy; Dances and Exhibitions followed. Those performing single exhibitions were: Fay Kirby, "Dick" Roger Reidy skated with Mr. "Jack" Shultz in the Circus Act while Mr. Bradbury executed twist turns. Mr. Paul Norton maneuvered the rope in cowboy style, and Mr. "Dick" Witz and Mr. Mike DiPoli skated their daring airplane stunt which brought enthusiastic applause from the spectators. Flower corsages were presented to Miss Olivia Stone, Miss Nancy Follett, and Miss Joan Tozzer, and candy to Mr. Ashton Parmenter, for their generous participation. The carnival committee consisted of Mr. Elbridge Wasson, Treas.; Mrs. E. E. Wasson, Miss Marjorie Banton, Vice-Pres.; Miss Ruth Wilkie, Sec. Special gratitude and appreciation must be given to Miss Ruth Wilkie, Secretary of the Club, for her willing efforts and loyal cooperation which made the first carnival a success. The Newton Playground Department cooperated in every way possible in preparation of good ice, music, amplifying facilities which made the best possible conditions prevailing at the first carnival. Races for children were held in the morning under the auspices of the Playground Department.

The results were as follows:

Girls' Events—Girls 11 and under, 100-yard dash: Won by Margery Guimaraes; Martha Miller, second; and Fay Kirby, third. Girls 15 and under: 220-yard dash: Won by Barbara Peabody; Ethel Schall, second; and Sybil Martinez, third.

Boys' Events—Boys 11 and under, 100-yard dash: Won by Marshall Hodgkins; James Munroe, second; and Richard Bicknell, third. Boys 11 and 12—200-yard race: Won by Douglas Pope; John Sircom, second; and James Munroe, third. Boys 15 and under—440-yard dash: Won by John Gaban; Robert Mann, second; and Edward Stone, third. Boys over 15, 1 mile race—Won by Robert Wilkes; Earl Vaughan, second; and Philip Jeffries, third. Relay Race, open for junior and senior high school boys of Bulloughs Pond, Crystal Lake and Auburndale—Won by Bulloughs Pond Team (Charles Angel, William McRobbie, Earl Vaughan and Robert Wilkes).

Low Bids On Street Contracts

Last Friday bids were opened at the office of the Street Commissioner in City Hall on the resurfacing of a number of Newton streets; the work to be done under PWA grants. John P. Condon Company of Watertown was low bidder on two of the projects, and Simpson Brothers of Boston were low bidder on the third. For resurfacing Adams st., Walnut st. and Auburndale ave., Condon was the lowest of 13 bidders with a figure of $46,337.50. Simpson Brothers were second lowest with a bid of $48,058. O'Malley & Delaney of Waltham were third with $48,935. The highest bid on this contract was $75,812.50.

For resurfacing Beacon and Ward sts., Lowell and Waverley aves., Condon was again the lowest bidder with a figure of $47,746.75. Tomasello & Sons were second with a bid of $52,134.25. O'Malley & Delaney were third with a bid of $52,854.25. The highest bid of the eleven on this project was $80,181.75. For resurfacing Centre st. and Commonwealth ave. the lowest bid was Simpson Brothers, $32,816.90. O'Malley & Delaney were second with $35,673.50. Condon was third with $35,346.85. There were twelve bidders on this project and the highest bid was $66,915.15. The three contracts will probably be awarded to the lowest bidders providing that the approval of PWA officials is received. The total of the three lowest bids is nearly 50 per cent under what it was estimated the cost of the resurfacing of the various streets would be.

Newton More Than Meets Comm. Quota

George W. Pratt of Newton Centre, chairman for Newton in the Community Fund Drive, informed the GRAPHIC yesterday that Newton had gone over the top in subscribing to this philanthropy. The quota for this city was $12,000 and the amount collected totalled $13,381.25. Mr. Pratt stated that this result was made possible by the generosity of Newton residents and the efforts put forth the past three weeks by 100 workers in this city.

George A. Parker, chairman of the Metropolitan Division of the 1936 Community Fund Campaign, this week commended the city and town chairmen and their hundreds of workers throughout Greater Boston who have helped to oversubscribe the division quota by 3 per cent.

Praising each of the individual communities which has already gone over the top in this record campaign, Mr. Parker at the same time exhorted those towns and cities which have not yet reached their goal to keep going to a successful finish.

"I am very proud of the achievement of our Metropolitan Division, numbering some 40 communities suburban to Boston," said the former Registrar of Motor Vehicles. "It has been a great satisfaction to work with the far-seeing men and women leaders who have understood so well the urgent human needs of those 100 health and social agencies dependent upon the success of the campaign."

Fined For Not Removing Snow

Hyman Shapiro of 470 Waverley ave., Newton, was fined $5 in the Newton court last Friday for failing to remove snow from the sidewalk in front of his home. Shapiro told Judge Weston that he had instructed his son to shovel off the snow, but the youth became ill. Patrolman Cain told the judge that Shapiro had neglected to remove snow from the sidewalks in previous winters. Bernard Feldman of Gralyn rd., Newton Centre, was also charged with failure to remove snow. His case was continued until Feb. 11th. On that day he was also fined $5.

Program For Joint Concert

An attractive program has been announced for the joint concert of the Highland Glee Club and the Newton Symphony Orchestra on Monday evening, Feb. 17th, at the First Baptist Church of Newton Centre. ## Crafts Candidate For Atty. General

Frederic A. Crafts of Weston has announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of Attorney General. For 8 years he was an assistant district attorney of Middlesex County and he is also an associate justice of the Waltham district court. He states that his 20 years' experience as a lawyer and his public service as a judge and prosecuting attorney give him qualifications for the proper conduct of the office he seeks.

Auto Hits Two At Auburndale

A car driven by John Avery of 65 Woodbine st., Auburndale hit George Eycleshymer of 4 Rowe st., Auburndale and Robert McNamara of 65 Auburndale st., Auburndale as the two were trying to free another car from a snow bank on Commonwealth ave. near Rowe st. on Sunday. Both received slight injuries. Several cars, including Avery's skidded on the icy surface of the street at that point.

Neffinger Gets 2 Months in Jail

John M. Neffinger, Jr., 19, of 18 Withington rd., Newtonville, driver of the automobile which shortly before midnight on the night of December 31st hit two trees on Berkeley st., West Newton and was wrecked, found guilty in the Newton court on Monday of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public and sentenced to serve two months in Middlesex County prison. Three young men, including Neffinger's brother, Paul Neffinger, were fatally injured in the crash, and a 15 year old girl, Audrey Zaun has her pelvis broken and is still in a serious condition at the Newton Hospital. The two other youths who were killed were Norman Pluksne of West Newton and James Ward of Waltham.

At the trial on Monday Serg. Sullivan and Patrolman Corcoran of the Newton police testified that they questioned young Neffinger at the Newton Hospital following the accident and he told them that he became peeved when one of his companions on the fatal ride, Norman Pluksne, gave him wrong directions, so he stepped on the gas and was traveling at between 40 and 45 miles per hour when the car got out of control. The police also testified that they detected the odor of liquor on the defendant's breath and that he had admitted having had a drink of gin at 9:30 that night. Judge Allen stated that he would not consider the allegation of driving under the influence of liquor in his decision on the case.

Fire In Vacant House at N'ville

A fire in a vacant house at 32 Washington park, Newtonville, last Friday afternoon caused damage estimated at about $5000. The fire was discovered about 4 o'clock and five engine companies fought it for over two hours before it was extinguished. The building is owned by James P. Murphy of Fordham rd., West Newton, and had been unoccupied since last August. Chief Randlett notified the State Fire Marshal's office and Inspector Shumway has been investigating the fire.

Hot Ashes Cause of Newton Fire

Hot ashes placed in a wooden box on a rear porch of the upper apartment in the two family house at 22 Holland st., Newton caused a blaze which aroused two families at 5:15 Monday morning and resulted in damage estimated at $600. The fire spread to the interior of the house. The porch was at the rear of the apartment occupied by Henry Simon. The lower apartment is the residence of Norman Gay.

Newton Teachers Flay Politics In Federation

Threaten to Secede From State Organization

The Newton Teachers Federation, composed of teachers in the Newton public schools announced this week that its members almost unanimously voted to protest against the action of the directors of the Massachusetts Teachers Federation in endorsing the appointment of James G. Reardon as Commissioner of Education. Two questions were submitted to the teachers to be answered on a secret ballot. One question asked the teachers if they approved of the action taken by the Springfield Teachers' Association in condemning the abrupt dismissal of former Commissioner of Education, Dr. Payson Smith. On this question the vote of the Newton teachers was 449 in the affirmative and 1 in the negative. The second question asked the teachers if they would consider withdrawing from the Mass. Teachers Federation unless there is a change in the policies of those who are controlling that organization. The vote of the Newton teachers on this question was—Yes, 447; No, 3.

The following explanatory letters relative to the attitude and action of the Newton teachers were received by the GRAPHIC.

Newtonville, Massachusetts

The Editor, Newton Graphic, Newton, Massachusetts.

Dear Sir:

Recently copies of the Springfield Teachers' Economic Association letter were sent to the three teachers' clubs of Newton, as affiliated members of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation. Given wide publicity in the dailies of the Commonwealth, this communication condemned activities resulting in the abrupt dismissal of the former Commissioner of Education, Dr. Payson Smith. It expressed, moreover, shaken confidence in the administration of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation. Teacher groups throughout the state were asked to find out the individual teacher sentiment in these proceedings.

Working earnestly the officers of the Newton Teachers' Federation duplicated this Springfield message for each member of the Newton teaching staff, enclosing a ballot. Within thirty-six hours the returns indicated an overwhelming vote in favor of the Springfield action. Also, the returns empowered the Newton officers to register a similar protest. It may be recalled, furthermore, that the Newton teachers on December 18, 1935 expressed by ballot a vigorous protest both to Governor Curley and to the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation for their part in the ousting (Continued on Page 10)

BLAZING A TRAIL

Announcement of the resignation of Miss Caroline Freeman, Director of the Newton Local Council of Girl Scouts is received with sincere regret. She has been Newton's first and only Scout Director for eighteen years. She began as a part-time Director, but it was soon apparent that a full-time Director was needed, and since 1920 she has held that position.

The year 1922 saw the start of Camp Mary Day, Newton's camp on Nonesuch Pond. Miss Freeman has been its Director since its first season. She is responsible for its friendly atmosphere and high ideals. As "Mother Carey" she has endeared herself to hundreds of Newton Girl Scouts and their parents.

Under her direction, the organization in Newton has grown until on January 1, 1936 there were 35 Girl Scout Troops, and 11 Brownie packs, with a membership of about 1,000 girls between the ages of 7 and 17. In addition to the number of young people, Miss Freeman has built up a sponsoring group of almost 200 adults who are giving their time as volunteers to the organization.

With foresight, vision, and ability, not only to create, but to carry through, and by understanding guidance and splendid leadership she has brought Girl Scouting to its present high standard in Newton. Always working for the good of the organization, entirely forgetful of self, she has typified the best in Girl Scouting. Appreciation cannot be adequately expressed by words—but the esteem of the whole community is hers.

As Newton carries on, along the trail which she has blazed, her example will always be an inspiration.

SQUANDERLUST IS RIGHT

Countless thousands of Massachusetts residents had portrayed to them this week a vivid picture of extravagance and waste which is going on in certain of the state departments. Not only has the executive department of the Commonwealth expended more than five times the average yearly sum spent in previous administrations for non-essentials, but other departments have wantonly purchased luxurious office equipment with a lavish display of the public's money. While it has been somewhat difficult in the past few years for the average person to appreciate what it means to spend millions upon millions it is quite inconceivable that any one can fail to appreciate the extravagance of purchasing ten dollar waste baskets, nine dollar ash trays, and similarly high priced equipment such as desks and chairs. We believe that the voters will not countenance such non-essential expenditures and that at the next opportunity they will forcibly express their opinion upon the ballot. Speaker Saltonstall's characterization of such actions as "squanderlust" is quite accurate.

"A GOVERNMENT BY LAWS"

There were a number of phases which Colonel Frank Knox used in his speech in Boston on Wednesday night which we liked immensely. Although an avowed candidate for the presidency he stated that "this is no time for the intrusion of selfish ambitions . . . the issues are too grave and the crisis too real . . . select the best standard bearer and whoever he is he will have my support." In other words we believe that Col. Knox places the country's welfare above any desire he may have to become president. He also said "I do not want to live under a government which is in the complete control of any group . . . history teaches they will use their great powers to their own advantage . . . therefore I am against the government of men and in favor of a return to the government of laws." Since the beginning of this nation we have progressed under such a government of laws and during the past decade or two have seen European nations falter and fall through attempted government by men. As the days go by we can visualize more and more clearly the foresight of our forefathers in their determination that the administrative, legislative and judicial powers should be distinctly separate. There were many other solid truths expressed by the Chicago publisher and although it is quite possible that he may not be the Republican presidential candidate it is evident that he will be a factor in the forthcoming national convention.

THE TEACHERS SPEAK

The school teachers of Newton have spoken. They rightfully decry the steps that have been taken in the past few weeks in the affairs of the state department of education. They join with other organized groups of teachers in various parts of the state, namely, Springfield, Quincy, Melrose and Wakefield, in agitation to see that the Massachusetts Federation of Teachers is ruled by a majority and not by an organized political minority. The forthcoming annual meeting and convention of the public school teachers of the state will be watched with great interest upon the part of the public. Meanwhile the teachers of Newton have once again proven that they are entitled to the respect, admiration and support of the many parents of Newton. While housecleaning is almost always an unpleasant task, willing hands make light work. The teachers are certain, know what they want in the organization which speaks for them.

Win this fall with Saltonstall.

The Newton Village Players, well-known amateur dramatics organization of Newton, Mass., will be the guests of honor on Mary Young's Dramatic School of the Air program to be broadcast over Station WNAC and associated Yankee Network stations on Tuesday, Feb. 18th, from 1:15 to 1:30 p. m.

E. Erving Locke, President of the Newton group, will act as host in the round table discussion that will concern the choosing of suitable plays for amateur groups, and the problems of production that must be faced in all amateur productions.

Mrs. Frank A. Mason and many other prominent members of the Village Players will take part in the discussion.

Mary Young, the widow of John Craig, prominent New England actor, is well known in New England dramatic circles, and especially for her outstanding radio programs. It is her hope that in the future many amateur groups from all over New England will have the opportunity to appear on her program in order to bring to attention of the public the outstanding work that is being done by these groups in the cause of dramatics.

An original program of the Ford Theatre issued on the night President Lincoln was shot, and which was loaned through the courtesy of Mr. LeRoy P. Guion of Newton, has been on display this week in the window of the Campbell Hardware Company at Newton Corner.

Tobogganing on the Newton Centre Playground has been the mecca of those who are fond of tobogganing for many weeks. The splendid condition of the slide is attractive even for the lovers of this sport from surrounding towns.

Most of the time the toboggan shoot is used to limited capacity but there are times when more sliders could be accommodated. Those Newton young people who do not own toboggans can rent toboggans for twenty-five cents an hour. Such a toboggan accommodates four people.

The slide is open all day and being electrically illuminated is kept open until ten o'clock at night. At least one supervisor is constantly on the job to help beginners and to regulate the traffic.

The eighty-second annual meeting of the Newton Cemetery Corporation was held at the administration building on Feb. 5th. The report of the treasurer showed the cemetery to be in a strong financial condition with new development work planned. The perpetual care fund is approaching $500,000. The following officers and trustees were elected: President, William F. Bacon; Vice-President and Assistant Treasurer, William H. Rice; Treasurer and Clerk, H. Wilson Ross; Auditor, James B. Melcher; Trustees, William F. Bacon, William F. Chase, Henry B. Day, John H. Eddy, Charles B. Floyd, Frank J. Hale, Seward W. Jones, William H. Rice, H. Wilson Ross. H. Wilson Ross was re-appointed supt. with Nils H. Mattson, asst. supt.

Sailing on the inaugural trip of the S. S. Telsa of the United Fruit Company's Great White Fleet, which left Boston on Wednesday on an 18 day Vagabond Cruise were the following Newton residents: Mr. and Mrs. James F. Malley of Waban, Mr. and Mrs. John Blanchi of Newton Centre, Miss O. Beatrice of Foxborough, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Delesky, and Miss Evelyn G. Delesky of West Newton and Mr. Albert B. Allison of Newtonville. The ports of call will be Havana, Cuba, Santa Marta, Republic of Colombia, South America and on the return home at Charleston, South Carolina, returning to Boston on March first.

Work was started last week on excavating a tunnel at Newton Upper Falls in connection with the extension of the sewer from Charlemont toward Oak Hill. The tunnel will be about 1000 feet long and is 35 feet underground. It was started on Needham St. between Oak and Jaquett. The contractor is V. Barletta of Roslindale and about 20 men, including some Newton residents, will be employed on this WPA project.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Johnson of New York were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Wilbur Thompson of 35 Everett st., Newton Centre. Mr. Johnson is managing editor of the International Musical Courier Magazine.

He is also a well known composer of both vocal and instrumental music. On Sunday afternoon, Feb. 9, his Symphonic Poem "Astarte" was rendered by the People's Symphony Orchestra and it was received with much appreciative favor by the audience, at which time he was called to the front of the stage and presented by Mr. Seivitsky, the conductor, to acknowledge the applause which was given.

Mrs. Johnson, writing under the name of Helen Redington, is a well known author and playwright. At the close of the concert, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were entertained by Mr. Seivitsky and several musical friends, and after enjoying a most happy evening returned on a late train to their home in New York City.

Beginning Monday, March 2nd, a class in First Aid will be started through the Newton Red Cross Chapter, 12 Austin st., Newtonville. The course will be held Mondays at 10 a. m.; charge for 10 lessons $3.00; price of First Aid Book 60 cents.

Those interested will please contact the Chapter Secretary at Newton North 2717.

Letters To The Editor

ZONING IS A PROTECTION

To the Editor:

Not many weeks ago I was reminded of the difficulty in the passage of the first act of zoning in Newton, of the many considerations that were needed to be able to secure any ordinance at all. The reason being, I presume, that it was a new idea and was not understood because the individuals thought their rights would be legislated away from them.

However, since its passage there has been quite a change in the public sentiment and large areas have been rezoned to a higher plane. There remains some more areas that need consideration. One is the Nonantum section now zoned as manufacturing and has been since the first adoption. Business or manufacturing in this area has not increased and the homes of the people in the section are clouded by this act. It should be removed and brought into either general, private or single residence, so as to be in keeping with this home-living section.

The reason for zoning is the preservation of the home, granting proper light, air and to avoid the crowding of buildings upon the land, usually done for personal income but later on is the beginning of a slum. Buildings deteriorate, tenants move, the repairs are not kept up and a general down-trodden appearance and unhealthy condition exists.

We cannot live to ourselves alone in this age but must be subject to the regulations for health, fire and police power and protection. Often there are persons who desire changes from the generally adopted zoning laws. These are for selfish reasons but the neighbors are becoming more and more insistent that the region shall be bettered rather than lowered. A recent instance is the adoption of a large area along Boylston st. for single residence supported by a goodly group of property owners who desire to keep the tone of the region at a high level.

Several times petitions have been received asking for changes from the existing condition into business, these in many cases would be spot zoning and if granted would give a most unusual spotted arrangement of occupation that would be detrimental to much of the region. Now the Worcester Turnpike is a main artery and must be studied from many angles, through traffic, as well as local use, and the congestion that would occur unless properly planned. There are three lanes on each side of the grass strip; one for fast driving, the second for moderate speed and the third for slow or for safety, in case of trouble or accident. There is no place upon the "pike" for business parking as such it would be necessary to give a new highway free of the present layout so as to provide proper facilities.

The new idea of such highways is to have free ways, this is, a main highway set aside like a railroad location, this for the safety of the public and the better condition of the adjoining property. Boylston st. should not have any business until there is a general plan that would be approved by the State authorities as well as the local government. There should be consideration of this region by others than individuals who own the land but by the communities adjoining and are tributary to its use.

If we do not desire to have an illuminated way in Newton of the usual hot dog stands and other vendors looking for the tourist patronage, then we must be wide awake to preserve our city of homes.

HERBERT J. KELLAWAY.

Stories for Older Girls

Follow the development of your own country in books that interpret the past and present through the experience of girls your own age.

Master Simon's Garden—Meigs.

"Master Simon's garden was the loveliest in the Puritan colony of Hopewell in the early days. The story takes in three generations of the family, all of whom cherish the garden. It ends in revolutionary times with the return of the first great trading ship come back from China. Will interest older girls and boys who like history."

Try All Ports—Whitney.

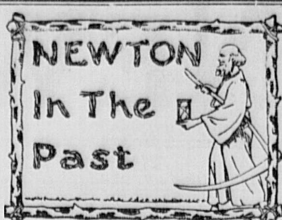

"Martin Bedford, a young English boy, comes to America to discover long lost papers which will establish his brother's claim to an estate in Surrey. After many adventures he returns to England in triumph. The scene is Boston and England in 1850, the age of the clipper ships and packet lines. Daniel Webster and the famous shipbuilder, Donald McKay, are figures in the story."

The Calico Ball—Sterne.

"Amarantha Gay," an old friend to readers of Mrs. Sterne's book by this title, and her earlier one "No Surrender," is an important character in this third story of the old South. A book for the teen age.

A Bend in the Road—Raymond.

A realistic novel for girls about sixteen-year old Martha Richards, who faces her first job and the hardships of depression years with real courage.

60 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Feb. 17, 1877

Friday night as William P. Bosson was going to his home on Court st., Newtonville, from the 10:30 train, he was waylaid by an unknown man who jumped from behind a tree. Mr. Bosson jumped one side and shouted for help. In an instant windows opened, heads appeared, the fellow got alarmed and started on the run. Mr. Bosson arrived at his home in safety. This is the second case of this kind in Newton within a week. Citizens are beginning to think that one patrolman is not enough to patrol as large an area as Ward 2.

At the Common Council meeting on Monday night Councilman Eldridge stated that a tomb at the old graveyard on Winchester st., Newton Highlands, is in a sadly neglected condition. It is inscribed Noah King-Joseph Hall, 1827. The door at the entrance has fallen in and the coffin can be seen from the street.

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday afternoon the committee on salaries reported regarding the pay for firemen. It recommended $50 per year for firemen and laddersmen, $55 for clerks and assistant firemen, and $70 for firemen. Alderman Barnes warmly espoused the cause of the firemen, claiming that their present pay is not sufficient. The fact that firemen in Watertown and other surrounding towns receive the same pay as Newton is no criterion, as the service performed by Newton firemen is greater. He admitted there are enough men now who will serve as firemen for even less pay than we are now giving but we want reliable men and their services are worth paying for. We cannot afford to hire cheap men for such important service. The report was recommended to the Finance Committee.

The committee appointed by 150 citizens of Newtonville to confer with officials of the Boston & Albany Railroad regarding a new depot at Newtonville awaited on the vice-president of the railroad on Saturday morning and presented a petition. This petition stated among other things that there is no freight depot at Newtonville, that the present passenger depot is only 18 feet wide and 50 feet long and within this is the ticket office, baggage room, two privies with out water and with vaults underneath, a telegraph operator's room, a ladies' waiting room and a gentlemen's waiting room. In consequence of there being no freight depot, the gentlemen's waiting room is occupied with trunks, baggage and freight and that more people can take trains from this station than can be crowded into the station. Many people think it is dangerous to their health to wait in the depot because of the foulness of the air arising from the vaults under the building, and either they stand on the platform in all kinds of weather, or seek shelter in neighboring stores. The petition stated that since travel has increased in the last dozen years, reasonable accommodations for passengers require that a more commodious station be built at an early date.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Feb. 13, 1886

The lamp post and gas light on that dark part of Newtonville ave. between Mount Ida and Centre sts. is the result of the private benevolence of Messrs. Allen and McFarlin.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC: "You were pleased to note in your paper last week the clean state of the sidewalk of Dr. Scales on Centre st., Newton, but you said nothing of the state of the sidewalks on Church st., particularly in front of the new church which was in bad condition when there was much snow, and now that there is a thaw, is very shocking. I would respectfully ask whose duty it is to see that sidewalks are properly cleaned?"

A SUBSCRIBER.

Sunday afternoon Fred Parker, while lighting a lamp outside the West Newton depot, slipped and fell from a stepladder, and wrenched his shoulder badly. He was attended by Dr. Thayer.

City Marshal Hammond has called attention to a city ordinance relating to the clearing of snow from sidewalks. The special notice has been served on householders who are required to clear the walks adjoining their premises without delay. If they fail to do so the Supt. of Streets shall cause the snow to be removed at the occupant's expense. The occupant, in addition, shall pay a fine of not more than $10.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Feb. 17, 1911

The dedication of the new armory of Company C, 5th Regt., M. V. M., on Washington st., West Newton, will take place next Wednesday evening and will be a most brilliant affair. Governor Foss will be a special guest and will be accompanied by members of his staff and other high military officers. These guests will be dined at the Brae Burn Club at 6 o'clock by Mr. Lewis R. Speare, president of the Cladlin Guard Veterans Association, and will reach the new armory about 8 o'clock. The keys of the armory will be delivered to Capt. George Guilford by Governor Foss at the exercises.

Powers' Paragraphs

In his address to the American Liberty League former Governor Smith said—"In my time I have met some good and bad industrialists; I have met some good and bad financiers, but I have also met some good and bad labor, and this I know—that permanent prosperity is dependent upon both capital and labor alike. And I also know that there can be no permanent prosperity in this country until industry is able to employ labor, and there can be no permanent recovery upon any governmental theory of soak the rich or soak the poor."

Any fair minded person will agree with Mr. Smith that there have been (and are) good and bad both among industrialists, financiers and labor leaders. But the significant thing is—that while in 1928 Mr. Smith seemed more concerned about the masses of working people getting a square deal, the past few years he has seemed to have a complex that the rich are getting soaked. Possibly, Mr. Smith's viewpoint has been changed because he met some very good industrialists and financiers such as Mr. Raskob and Mr. Dupont.

We agree with Mr. Smith that there can be no permanent prosperity in this country until industry is able to employ labor. Unfortunately, for years before the Roosevelt administration industry and agriculture employed less and less labor. Millions of men and women workers in all lines of industry were deprived of opportunities to labor and obtain an income because of modern machinery. Mechanized production led to a large degree displaced hand labor. Less informed persons than Mr. Smith years ago realized this fact and he has referred to it in the past. This country, like others, has a surplus of labor that cannot and will not be absorbed by any normal surge of business. Immigration restriction laws were passed some years ago in an endeavor to overcome the unemployment situation in this country, but this remedy failed to solve the problem. Economic conditions have greatly changed and as Mr. Smith stated in his speech of acceptance in 1928 "progressive laws must be passed to change the old order of things." Otherwise production of wealth and distribution of wealth will not synchronize and the existent economic and social muddle will continue despite all hucknory references to the interdependence of capital and labor.

Mr. Smith says—"We don't want any autocrats, either in or out of office. The next danger that is apparent to me is the vast building up of new bureaus of Government, draining resources of our people in a common pool and redistributing them, not by any process of law, but by the whim of a bureaucratic autocracy." Any person who believes in democracy is opposed to autocracy. Any person who favors the ideals on which this country was founded must be against bureaucracy. Personally, we believe there has been too much trend toward autocracy and bureaucracy under the present administration. We also believe, that the financial and industrial autocrats of this country (who were referred to by Mr. Smith in 1928 as forces of corruption and favoritism) were and are at least as undesirable menaces to common welfare as governmental autocrats and bureaucrats. Most people in the U. S. A. don't want the resources of this country placed in a common pool to be redistributed by autocrats or bureaucrats, with politicians, their relatives and hangers receiving the largest shares. Neither do the people of this country want our resources distributed so unfairly as they have been the past quarter-century, a fact which caused Mr. Smith to say in 1928—"Prosperity, to the extent that we have it is unduly concentrated and has not equitably touched the lives of the farmer, the wage-earner and the individual business man." Few of these three classes specified by Mr. Smith were present at the dinner of the American Liberty League at which Al delivered his broadly disseminated oration.

Would that we could have back, Mr. Smith, the happy economic days that characterized those years when those of us who have passed 50 were boys. When the natural resources of this country still remained in abundance for a population which was but a fraction of what we now have. When the age of machinery was in its early stages and men and women who wanted work could find it. When there were plenty of opportunities for rugged individualism and most of the business of this country was conducted by individuals or partnerships and not by huge chain organizations and gigantic financial combines. When almost every American citizen took pride in being independent and self supporting, and chiseling from public treasuries had not become the occupation or avocation of millions. But, Mr. Smith, times have changed, and those undesirable changes which have so completely altered the conditions under which the founders of this country lived, and the ideals for which they strove have been brought about largely by men of financial and political might and not by the masses. Those of us who are still trying to be independent, who have not received government subsidies or salaries in large amounts, or government aid in small amounts—are the goats.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

This Is the Day

Valentine greetings in the form of icicles and snowballs from this column to:

Men who step in front of women in getting on train or trolley.

Motorists who run by the red and yellow stop light and frighten us poor pedestrians half to death.

Householders who never remove the snow from their sidewalks and policemen who don't seem to care whether they do or not.

Grouchily folk who resist every appeal for charity and pleasantly slick people who in other ways dodge the same responsibility.

High pressure peddlers who try to get into your house on the bluff that they want to inspect something or other.

Radio announcers who repeat addresses and prices in their sales talks as if they considered listeners half-witted.

Moving picture players whose apparent conceit spoils whatever good points they may possess.

People who say, "Is it cold enough for you?" or "How does this weather strike you?"

All pests who may have their human side but who manage to entirely conceal it.

Where the Heart Is

No advertisement has intrigued me more than that of last week telling of the Washington's Birthday cruise to Bermuda. In the words of Al Smith, I'd like to "take a walk" and leave the weather man flat.

For the Brave and Strong

Among the unsung, and largely unremembered heroes, are those who roll their own—I mean their own waste barrels. This is not a reply to anything J. P. Morgan said about the leisure class. I am speaking only for the householder who performs the weekly chore of getting barrels out loaded and getting them in empty—barrels, I said.

What I would like to see in Newton are neighborhood contests for the backyard championship. I feel it would promote interest in domestic science and a greater friendliness among the dwellers on every street. Naturally, there would be rules. In participating, I should demand, of course, that the man who owns a hand truck, if that's what it's called, or a pair of wheels, be barred. The man who uses his little boy's wagon or sled would be entered but given a handicap. Much would depend on distance, whether the service path were level or uphill as it approached the street and whether the contents of the barrel were paper, ashes, scrap iron or what. This would probably necessitate several classes which would not only be more equitable but provide wider interest. If urged I can provide more details. However, I will now go as far as to say that here is a novel idea that might well be developed.

Cold Weather Puzzle

It would be interesting to learn what gets into those of us who study the thermometer and why we become more and more studious as the mercury drops. There is nothing superior in my attitude towards this practice and I am as constant as the next one in keeping tabs on the readings. Cold weather somehow seems to be tapping out the first thing before breakfast to see whether I ought to shiver or feel comfortable. Taking the cue from the glass I begin to make comparisons with the day before, the day before that and the same date last year, etc. Then I listen for the radio weather report and rush back to my thermometer to see if there is agreement of difference. It is one of those things I do unwittingly—an impulse I cannot resist. In fact, it has become a habit which I cannot explain. If I thought there was any cure for it I'd be glad to try it.

The Unexplained Hook-Up

No public dinner is complete, as far as I have been able to observe, without its political speech. Often an aspiring candidate takes the opportunity to announce himself. Or the occasion may be a politician's attack on his own or the opposite party. Some speakers have made it a fashion, for what reason I know not, to criticize their fellow partisans.

Whatever it may be it follows the food, but I am unable to see its value as an aid to digestion. After the tables have been cleared, and promptly, too, because the radio time has been purchased and must not be wasted, the microphone is placed in position and the big event is on. Why this attempt to merge good food and propaganda? Whoever started it may have been trying to make votes among the cooks and waiters. Possibly hotel keepers and caterers conceived the idea to boost business. Whatever the origin I don't get it.

It Can Happen Here

Winter raptures warm my soul,
Drifted snow and crystal ice;
Crisp and sharp the fresh winds blow,
From my fireside entrance.

Skies are cold, but clear and bright,
As, undaunted, I proceed
To absorb the thrills and joys
Of the trail, where'er it lead.

High I soar in ecstasy,
Stirred my heart with ev'ry thump,
Suddenly I strike a slide—
Down I fall, (*!*!*) Gosh, what a bump!

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotarians listened this week to one of the most thought-provoking talks in a long time this week when Mr. Claudius Pendill discussed the theories of money and credit. The discussion was the more stimulating because Mr. Pendill, who is a Vice-President of the Towle Mfg. Co., (silversmiths) of Newburyport, spoke as a business man and not as a proponent of any organization or as a professor of economics. His facts are the result of a long period of study which was first initiated—indeed necessitated—as a result of the government's silver policy and its effect upon his business. From that initial interest he became involved in the whole matter of money and credit; and his research has been intensified recently by the suggestions in many of the most reliable business services that we are heading into another cycle exactly similar to that of the late 1920's and the 1930's to date. His desire has been to seek the fundamental cause of these cycles and to consider possible remedies. With the Rotarians he had time to do little but imply remedies, at least so far as definite, concrete set-up goes; but he did give much to think about as to causes.

His comments gained added force from their fair-mindedness, their admission that there were varying viewpoints on some of the matters, and particularly from his plea that the whole question sorely needs very competent and intensive study by open-minded business and professional men in order that we may not alone break the cycles of panic and plenty but that we may also ward off the threats of the various forms of dictatorship which now loom so seriously on the American horizon.

HIGHLAND REBEKAH LODGE NO. 82, I. O. O. F. ENTERTAINS STATE PRESIDENT

Highland Rebekah Lodge No. 82, I. O. O. F., of Newton Highlands entertained the President of the Rebekah Assembly on Wednesday, February 5, at Odd Fellows Hall. Following an early meeting at 5 p. m. dinner was served to the members and guests at the Cline Memorial M. E. Church, Newton Highlands, at 6:30 p. m. The meeting reconvened at 8 p. m.

Noble Grand, Mrs. Effie Nagle and Vice-Grand Mrs. Ella A. Elkins and members of the lodge received Mrs. Cora Frackelton, P. R. A., with Mrs. Iva Burns, Marshal and staff of officers, also Mrs. Beulah Graham, district deputy president with Mrs. Dora McKee, marshal and staff as their guests, who witnessed the conferring of the degree.

The president and marshal spoke at the close of the ceremony thanking the lodge for their gifts and beautiful bouquets of spring flowers. The district deputy president and marshal also expressed their thanks for their beautiful bouquets.

Mrs. Harriet P. Reeves, P. R. A., and member of Highland Lodge and the degree mistress, expressed her pleasure in receiving the guests.

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Ernest Cobb, director of the Motion Pictures department of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on the subject of "Motion Pictures as We See Them Today" at the February meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union. During her address Mrs. Cobb emphasized the efforts of the independent theater men towards the passage of the Pettingill Bill by Congress, giving greater freedom in the selection of pictures suited to the particular community. Mrs. Clara Birdsall, president of the Newton Union, presided and introduced the speaker.

Middlesex Court To Observe 50th Anniversary

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., will observe its 50th anniversary on Tuesday evening, February 25, by holding a banquet and entertainment at Elks Hall, Newton. The court was instituted in this city a half century ago and has since provided relief for hundreds of families by the payment of $1000 insurance to dependents of deceased members and by other assistance. For many years it has been the largest court in the M. C. O. F., its membership totalling over 1000. The committee in charge of the golden anniversary is headed by J. A. McDonald, Past Chief Ranger, as chairman; Mary D. McDonald, secretary; Thomas Bryson, treasurer, and the following officers of the court: Miss Marion Goode, Chief Ranger; Joseph Farragher, Thomas Fitzgerald, James Flynn, Timothy Gannon, Eleanor Mulcahy, Mrs. Ellen Cassidy, Mrs. Winifred Herlihy.

Among those who will speak at the anniversary observance are: Mayor Edwin Childs, Joseph Cahalan, High Chief Ranger of the M. C. O. F., and other members of the High Standing Committee. Of those who assisted in organizing the court, the following charter members survive: James J. Divney, Boyd St., Newton; Michael McDermott, Clarendon St., Newtonville; Dr. F. M. O'Donnell, Washington St., Newton; Thomas Waters, Court St., Newtonville; Patrick Waters, Clinton place, Newton Centre.

Girl Scouts

More than 50 Newton Girls Scouts and their leaders participated in the Winter Carnival at Cedar Hill, the Massachusetts Girl Scout Estate at Waltham, last Saturday. They joined a group of over 200 Girl Scouts from Greater Boston, who spent the day snowshoeing, skiing and skating.

Two troops from the village of Newton, 12 and 32, were in charge of the snowshoeing events in the morning. Leaders of the two troops, Mrs. Warren C. Merrill, Mrs. John MacNeil, Miss Margaret Bascom, and Mrs. Frederick Hawkins, were aided by the following Girl Scouts: Marie Campbell, Mary Curran, Christine McDonald, Awe Kendrick, Doris Linberg, Virginia Weston, Virginia Carter, Mary Lewis, Jane Finnell and Jane Merrill of Troop 12; Bessie Rilla Bacon, Marjorie McNeil, Barbara Fitzgerald, and Barbara Dunmore of Troop 32.

Members of the Newton and Dorchester Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps combined to present a demonstration in the afternoon. Skating on the ice of the pond, they executed fancy figures, to the time of their own music. The two corps were led by Miss Dorothy McGee of Dorchester, Massachusetts Champion Drum Major. Bass drums were pushed on sleds drawn by skaters. Members of the Newton Corps who took part were: Doris Oldfield, Nancy, Polly and Patty Chase, Betty Egan, Doris Linberg, Esther Ruth Wales, Virginia Weston and Barbara Thurston.

Among the Newton Girl Scouts who attended the Carnival were: Constance Linberg, Betty Munroe, Rachel Heymer, Marion Black, Jane Hickox, Betty Sheridan, and Barbara McNaught of Troop 11, Newton Highlands; Jacqueline MacLean, Jocelyn Riley and Marion Card of Troop 31, Newton Highlands; Mary Bowen, Barbara Healey, Mary Treddin, Helen Quinn, Marinette Hickey, Dorothy Joyce, Mary and Ruth Dungan, Virginia Moran, Mary McClellan, Mary Crowley and Eleanor Gaw of Troop 35, West Newton; Ruth Edwards, Virginia Knott, Lillian McLaughlin, Priscilla McDaniel, Rosemary McDaniel and Florence Traffery of Troop 19, Newton Lower Falls; and Victoria Bourque, Helen Meserve and Diana Cumner of Troop 13, Newton Centre.

Leaders who attended were: Miss Helen A. McClure of Newton Highlands, who was in charge of the traffic; Miss Dorothy McKinnon, Mrs. Mary Dungan and Mrs. Walton S. Redfield of West Newton, Miss Eloise A. Barber, Newton Field Captain; Mrs. Arthur McDaniel of Newton Lower Falls, and Betty Wright of Newton Centre.

Tea For Wellesley Seniors In Greater Boston Area

Local alumnae of Wellesley College who belong to the Boston Wellesley College Club are keenly interested in the present seniors who are so soon to join their group and to take part in the affairs of the Alumnae Association as well. Mrs. William V. M. Fawcett of 34 Hyde ave., Newton, is the member of the Boston Undergraduate-Alumnae Relations Committee who has the seniors of the Boston area as her particular charge. She is planning a tea for them on Friday, February 14th, at the home of Mrs. Frederick J. Fawcett, 30 Hyde avenue, Newton.

Among the seniors from the Newtons who are to be guests are Miss Phyllis Baker and Miss Esther Breznea of Newton, Miss Selma E. Goldman of Chestnut Hill, Miss Janet McKinney of Waban, Miss Allison Thorogood of Waban, Miss Alma Warner of Newtonville, Miss Marion Willard of Waban, Miss Virginia Wood of Newton Centre, Miss Helen Chase of Newton Centre, and Miss Elizabeth Glidden of Newton.

Mrs. Norman Southworth of Waverlyton St., Newtonville, who is chairman of the Boston Undergraduate-Alumnae Relations Committee, will also be at the tea.

NEWTON CENTRE NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB

Miss Dorothy Taylor is opening her home at 238 Grant ave., Newton Centre on Monday evening, February 17, 1936 to the members of the Newton Centre Neighborhood Club and their guests. Mrs. Richard Cooley will speak on rare china.

Kiwanis Club

Despite the bad going and cold weather, a large number were on hand for weekly meeting Tuesday, February 11, 1936.

Archie Bellinger made a report on the bowling team, and likewise, as chairman of the inter-club relations committee, he reported on a trip which three of the members made to Worcester last week.

The Club felt like singing and between courses no less than seven or eight songs were led by Tom Wall and enthusiastically entered into by all the members.

The speaker was Mr. William G. O'Hare, at present an insurance broker in Boston. Mr. O'Hare was, for nine years, a teacher in the Boston schools; thereafter, for five years, he was Suffolk County Penal Commissioner. He is on the Executive Board of the Volunteers of America, is active in the Salvation Army and the Red Cross. He made an appeal to the Club to know and help youth. Mr. O'Hare was a most sincere man and a forceful speaker. His plea was for a real home life and a spiritual inspiration for the young people of today.

Y. M. C. A.

Squash Racquets

The Class C Squash Racquets team at the Newton Y. M. C. A. completed its season last week by defeating the Weston Golf Club 5 to 1 at Weston. The team finished in second place in its division having won 30 games and lost 12, one game behind the first place Harvard Club team which won 31 games and lost 11.

The Class D team at Newton "Y" which is in first place in Division Two, plays its last match on Friday before the play-offs start, meeting the second place Milton Club team at Weston.

Track

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Track team meets Brookline "Y" in a return meet at Brookline on Saturday evening. With the addition of several new men to the squad, the "Y" squad has been strengthened considerably.

1000 Point Athletic Contest
The sixth event, the 300-yard run, in the 1000 Point Athletic Contest, was held last week in the Senior gymnasium groups at the Newton Y. M. C. A. The best times in this event were 40 2/5 seconds by Arthur Linthwaite and John K. Morris, and 41 3/5 seconds by Bob Quigley.

The men who have won 300 points or more so far in this contest are "Bob" Stewart with 465, John K. Morris 424, "Ken" Scanlon 384, "Art" Linthwaite 375, Francis Greeley 372, "Ed" Hammond 326, "Bob" Quigley 312, and Warren K. Lewis, Jr. 305.

Church League Basketball

The first half of the Newton Church League Basketball Schedule was completed last week at the Newton Y. M. C. A. with Newton M. E. defeating Central Congregational 34 to 25, Grace Episcopal defeating Trinity Episcopal 26 to 24, and Elliot Congregational defeating Newtonville M. E. 48 to 28.

The standing is:

	Won	Lost
Elliot Congregational	5	0
Newton M. E.	4	1
Central Congregational	3	2
Trinity Episcopal	1	4
Grace Episcopal	1	4
Newtonville M. E.	1	4

Round Table Club

The Round Table Club met at the Hotel Puritan for a Banquet Meeting on Monday evening. Those present were Messrs. W. Clarence Lodge, Dr. Thomas Burns, John Chant, Thomas Finnigan, Dr. Roland Barrette, Vito Baravacchio, A. C. Zinck, Dr. Alfred E. King, Edward M. Rowe, Dr. Philip D. Woodbridge, and Walter S. Bruton. Awards of splendid books were made for the best speeches made at the October meeting of the Club. First prize went to Dr. Woodbridge and the second prize to Mr. Chant.

Boys' Division Dinner

The monthly dinner of the Boys' Division will be held on Saturday, February 15th at 12:30 P.M. After a dinner of Frankfurters and Beans, the boys will spend an afternoon of fun, coasting and skiing on the hill on the "Y" grounds.

Races will be held on the slide constructed by a large group of boys and ski practice will be in order for the Winter Carnival to be held on the 22nd.

Boys' Annual Winter Carnival

The members of the Boys' Division are looking forward to the 22nd of February as on that date they are to be the hosts of the Younger Boys from the Y. M. C. A.'s of Eastern Massachusetts.

Through the courtesy of the Newton Playground Department, arrangements have been made for the use of the toboggans at Newton Centre and the Skating at Crystal Lake.

This is the third Annual Winter Carnival and one of a series of events conducted throughout the year for the Younger Boys of the Y. M. C. A.'s of Eastern Massachusetts.

Senior Club News

Members of the Debating Club, meeting next Monday evening, February 17th, are debating the question: "Resolved, That Franklin D. Roosevelt Should Be Re-elected." While this is not a public debate, yet any young man who is interested is invited to attend.

On Thursday evening, the 20th, Co. "B" of the Prospectors under the leadership of Mr. Francis E. Tucker, will hold their second meeting of the month. A timely topic will be discussed at this meeting.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

N. H. S. RELAY TEAMS WIN CLASS A TITLE

Newton High school's track team, blazing its way toward the state championship, outscored eighteen rivals in the Class A competition in the first Eastern Seaboard Relay Carnival last Saturday. Newton's low score of nine points in the three races was three points better than Brockton, the runner-up, and well ahead of the third-place tie of Boston English and Lowell at 18 1/2 apiece.

Newton's weakest team, the medley relay, fairly outdid themselves to place fifth in the strong field, while the one-lap team of Forte, Covington, Madfis and Hines came within a fifth of a second of winning their event from the strong Brockton quartet, which tied Boston English for the class championship. The two-lap team, well advertised in advance as Newton's strongest, hung up a record of 2:14.8 in winning, a record that will not likely be broken soon unless the same team lowers it in the coming State Meet.

Sprint Relay Team Third Best

Don Enoch can well be proud of the twelve boys who brought home the relay title. They fought for every yard, turning in a better performance than was anticipated in each instance. The one-lap team, three of them underclassmen, were outrun by only two teams in eighteen. Newton was paired against Brockton and Brookline for all races, and the less experienced Newton sprint team had only to dog the heels of the Brockton flyers all the way to register a fast time.

Frank Hines led off against Watson of Brockton and Guthrie of Brookline, and was just one stride back of Watson when he handed the baton over to Dick Madfis. Newton employed the slightly risky underarm pass in handling the baton, but it worked smoothly enough after the first pass. Madfis and Joel Covington held their own against Bob Mallory and Gardner Mandeville, giving Paul Forte about two yards to make up on Brockton's ace, Louis Montgomery. These two had finished second and third in the Northeastern games sprint, and they wasted no time. Forte drew closer to Montgomery on the last bank, but had no chance to overtake him. Brockton's time was 64.4s, Newton's 65s even. Boston English, with 64.4s, divided the first and second points with Brockton, and Newton was an undisputed third, ahead of Medford and Everett.

Veterans Set Two-Lap Record

Newton's two-lap team of Huling, Muther, Dussossoit and Wittens was more than a second under the Northeastern meet record of 2:16, but they had a battle with Brookline for three-quarters of the way. Bud Huling, running in the outside lane, came off the bank with only a yard lead over Gene Redmond, but gave Bud Muther a five-yard advantage over Bob Hartman when he gave up the baton. Hartman had to run a fine "300" to get close to Muther, but he cut the lead to three yards. Stan Livingstone, Brookline's fastest man, reduced it to less than a yard as he pulled closer to Paul Dussossoit on the second lap of their race, and Wittens took the baton with Jacques Abels right at his heels. Newton's captain, wearing his best seven-league boots, went out ten yards in one lap and had about 12 on Abels at the finish. The time, 2:14.8, has probably never been touched on this track by a high school team, and was beaten Saturday only by Moses Brown, Bridgton and St. John's of the preparatory school division.

Newton's medley one-mile team, four understudies of better-known athletes, saved the day with a very good team race. While Brockton and Brookline battled for the lead all through the first half of the distance, Elmer Ross, Charlie Morgenson and Jerry Allen pattered around their appointed distances of three, one and two laps, ending up with less than 10 yards' deficit to hand over to one Mike Regan, Mike, who may be listed as the white hope of the distance runs, lost no time in overhauling Joe MacDonald of Brookline the third time around, then eased ahead of Edmund DiSalle of Brockton to take the lead on the fourth lap. DiSalle went out again, and had two yards over Regan at the bell, then held that lead to the tape. But Regan's game fight put Newton fifth in the list, and enabled Newton to bring home the Class A trophy.

STONEHAM WINS 4 TO 2 TO CLINCH ICE TITLE

Stoneham High, beating Newton 4-2 for their eighth victory in nine games, made sure of their first league championship in the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League last Friday night at the Boston Arena. In the other first division game played, Arlington defeated Melrose 4-2.

Newton got an early lead against Stoneham, John Blodgett scoring on the rebound from Bill Daniels' shot at 1:10. Cliff McCaleb, Stoneham reserve forward, tied the score on a fluke shot from inside his own blue line at 7:35. Stoneham went into the lead in the final moments of the first period, Danny Orr batting in a long shot by Cliff Thompson.

The Newton defense was never too dependable, and looked bad on the third Stoneham goal. Cliff Thompson took the puck on the opening faceoff of the second period, spent twenty-five seconds waltzing through the Newton team, and beat Buttrick with a hard shot. McCaleb, still on the job, slapped in a pass from Dana Wandless, his right wing, at 3:17 giving Stoneham a commanding 4-1 advantage. Newton's second goal came at 5:18, less than halfway through the game, as Paul Brown flipped a backhand shot into the corner to beat Howie Truesdale.

Newton Highlights

Johnny Garrison, Frank Stubbs and Frank Spain, Newtonians with the United States Olympic hockey team, are playing a very prominent part in the Americans' drive toward the final matches. Garrison, former Harvard ace, has scored or assisted in scoring three out of four of the goals. He set up the scoring play for Gordon Smith which won the opening game from Germany in a blinding snowstorm. Frank Spain opened the scoring against Switzerland, driving home a goal on a pass from Jimmie Stubbs, while Garrison passed to Elbridge Ross of Melrose for the second goal, then scored the third unassisted, the United States winning, 3-0. Italy gave Americans their first setback, by 2-1, scoring again in the overtime after Johnny Garrison had tied the score late in the game. Against Czechoslovakia, the United States won, 2-0. Spain and Garrison making goals on passes from Phil LaBette of Minneapolis.

Newtonians figured in the Boston Athletic Association's very fine track meet last Saturday night. Milton Green of Harvard was a good third in the 45-yard high hurdles final, won in world record time by Phil Good of Bowdoin from Sam Allen of Oklahoma Baptist. Stan Johnson of M. I. T. went out 23 ft. 3 in. in the broad jump, but was beaten by Eulace Peacock of Temple University, the only bona fide 25-foot jumper now in competition, who did 23 ft. 3 1/2 in. Dave MacLellan of Waban turned in one of the finest individual performances in the relays, pulling up from a 30-yard deficit on the anchor leg of the Tech mile relay, and coming within a couple of yards of Princeton's fourth man with a grand finish. Allen Freeman and Bob Kiley seemed to lack their customary drive when running for the Northeastern freshman mile team, but it developed that they had run first and second in the 600-yard run against Exeter Academy in the afternoon, helping the Huskies win, 45-23.

I. Walter Jenks of Newtonville was recently elected captain of the Ski Squad at Proctor Academy, Andover, N. H.

WE GRANT you that Buick looks expensive—smart things usually do! We grant you a lot of people think of it in terms of a $1500 automobile because Buick used to cost all of that—and some still do.

But give us a chance, and we'll show you in cold figures how to own a Buick for little if any more than one of the lowest-priced cars would cost you.

We'll show you a big car with a small car operating cost. We'll show you roominess and comfort and safety, with a freedom from repair bills that makes costs-per-mile hit a new low. We'll show you how to get a luxury car—on a brass-tacks budget! There's no mystery to it—no trick figuring. Buick simply licked the problem of building first-class quality in a low-priced car. Now we've got some interesting figures that will change your ideas about automobile values.

Don't resign yourself to small-car comfort, small-car ability until you find out how very little per week it costs to own a Buick.

"Captain Blood" Next Week at Paramount

Daring and debonair Peter Blood, immortalized by the novel of Rafael Sabatini, has been brought to life on the screen by Cosmopolitan Productions in "Captain Blood," a mammoth production which comes to the Paramount Theatre starting next Wednesday for four days, with a continuous performance on Saturday, Feb. 22nd from one to eleven o'clock.

The gentleman pirate of fortune is portrayed by Errol Flynn, a young Irishman comparatively new to films, but who won this role, considered one of the most important of the year, over a score of famous actors after a series of screen tests. The leading lady, portraying a beautiful noblewoman who falls in love with the bold pirate, is Olivia de Havilland who leaped to fame over night by her work in the Max Reinhardt production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

In addition there is an all star cast of more than forty principals, headed by Lionel Atwill, Basil Rathbone, Ross Alexander, Guy Kibbee, Henry Stephenson, Robert Barrat, Hobart Cavanaugh, David Torrence and J. Carroll Naish.

Lionel Atwill has the role of a plantation and slave owner who later becomes the governor of Jamaica; Basil Rathbone is the pirate Levasseur; Ross Alexander, Guy Kibbee, Robert Barrat, Frank McGlynn, Sr., and David Torrence are fellow slaves of Blood, who escape with him and form part of his pirate crew. On the same program will be Alice Faye in "Music is Magic."

"Midsummer Night's Dream" At Wellesley Theatre

Considerable interest is attached to the announcement by the Community Playhouse in Wellesley Hills of the presentation beginning Monday and continuing through Thursday of next week of the outstanding motion picture production, "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Enthusiasm for the showing has resulted in the forming of a committee of endorsement which includes Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and many other important educational and civic leaders.

Originally conceived by Max Reinhardt for production on a smaller, less elaborate scale, the success of the original when offered in the Hollywood Bowl, led to the impressive present version of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." A 63 piece symphony orchestra gives beautiful interpretation to the especially arranged Mendelssohn music which accompanies. Bronislawa Nijinska, sister of the famous Nijinsky, directed the ballets. Both music and ballet are an integral part of the delightful Shakespeare fantasy which now, with even a higher standard of artistic merit, is reaching a degree of popular favor never before known.

Parish Players Present Plays Tues. and Wed.

An entertaining evening is promised next week when the Parish Players present three one-act plays in St. Paul's Parish House, Newton Highlands, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

The first play "In a Window" is called a romantic impossibility in one act. It concerns the life of two store models and the story is handled with a delightful fantastic touch. The players will be: Louise Tupper, Wm. Newby and Edgar S. Swail. Mrs. Herbert N. Odell is coaching.

The dramatic touch of the evening will be supplied by Rev. Chas. O. Fisher, Emory Leonard and Robert Allingham, who will interpret "The Game of Chess," a one-act play which served as a vehicle for Walter Hampden a few years ago. Mrs. Winifred Douglas is directing.

To complete the variety for the program a farce entitled "The Marrying Sort" will be enacted by a list of players including Katharyn Booth, Lillian Seeley, Dorothy Shute Brown, Ruth Yeager, Lloyd Yeager and Bill Chaplin. The coaching is in the capable hands of Caroline Allingham.

Those connected with the productions in various capacities include Virginia Valorie Gilbert, Thalia Clark, Polly Leonard, Florence Smith, Katherine Carrick. The stage crew is headed by Kemp Lambert with Herbert Odell, Sumner Smith, Alan Small, and Mal Cummings as assistants.

This is the second presentation of Players for the current season.

Charged With Hit-Run Driving

Peter J. Cox of 270 Cabot st., Newtonville, was arrested at his home on Saturday evening after the car he allegedly was driving had struck two other cars and a young girl and had not stopped. About 5:30 Saturday evening a car driven by Mason Stone, Jr., of Breamore rd., Newton, was hit at Washington and Richardson sts., Newton, by an automobile which did not stop. The other car lost a hub cap which Stone picked up and gave to the police. Stone stated his back was injured. About 6 o'clock at Charles Cuniff, Jr., of Parsons st., West Newton, was backing his car out of a parking space on Walnut st., Newtonville, it was hit by another car, the driver of which continued on. Cox chased the car and as it was proceeding along Cabot st. it hit Beatrice Nellson, 14, of 43 Gay st., Newtonville. Cuniff picked the girl up and took her to the office of Dr. Cecil Clark where she was treated for a cut on her forehead.

Cuniff had observed the registration numbers on the offending car and as a result Patrolmen Whalen and O'Donnell went to Cox's home and placed him under arrest. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and with leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. His case was continued until Feb. 17th. Following his arrest, Cox was examined at police headquarters by Dr. Francis Mullins who stated that the man was not under the influence of liquor.

N'ville M. E. Church Women's Association

Showing a most interesting collection of articles which she had found in various shops throughout Europe, Edith Winifred Fisher told the members of the Women's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church at the afternoon meeting on Wednesday of last week, "How Some European Women Broke Their Own Depression." Many of these women are doing creative work to support themselves while giving work to many other women and some are fostering the work solely to give others a chance to earn a livelihood.

Miss Fisher's exhibit contained teddy bears and bunnies from a shop in Europe which claims the nobility among its patrons, a shop started by women who had done occupational therapy work during the war, and were forced because of the depression which followed to make their own way. Further showings were tapstries from Denmark and Norway, hand woven linens from Sweden, mittens from Finland and wood carvings from Germany. Miss Fisher found the best religious figures in a shop in an old coach house in England.

The women of the Association sewed during the morning for the Mayor's Relief. Luncheon was served by Group five, Mrs. Earl L. Ham and Mrs. A. A. Alexander, chairmen. Among the coming events of the Association there will be a guest day in the Woman's Bible Class Feb. 16, an all-day food sale Feb. 29 at 323 Walnut street, a dessert bridge at the home of Mrs. John L. Elliott, 404 Waltham street, West Newton, March 16, and a church dinner in March. The three act play, "Chintz Cottage" will be presented at the regular meeting, March 4, by a cast selected from the members.

Open House At Edison Shops

All customers of the Boston Edison Company in Newton are invited to attend "Open House" day on Saturday, February 15, at the local Edison shops, 415 Centre st., Newton, and 95 Union st., Newton Centre. An all-day program from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. will include many interesting features to signalize the 50th anniversary month of the local electric utility company.

The local office staff will be assisted by members of the domestic science staff, known as the company's "home service" division, in the presentation of a complete and interesting routine throughout the day. Attendance prizes will be awarded by the store manager.

Lecture demonstrations will be given on the complete line of modern electric appliances on display at the local Edison shops and sales specialists will be offered for Saturday only.

The general program to be presented was offered in other sections of the Edison service area last Saturday, and attracted hundreds of visitors. The Edison Company's 50th anniversary date is February 20.

Weeks Jr. High

After the ninth grade class meeting last week, the following were elected from their respective home rooms to serve on the president's cabinet: Room 104, Sherman Waterman; 204, Seth Riley; 208, Edward Mickoski; 209, Alfred Low; 210, Jack Lane; 211, Peggy Hangarter; 213, Barbara Crosby; 216, Eric Courtney; and 315, Barbara Benjamin.

The newly-elected Student Council held its organization meeting last week. Tom Burkhard and Mary Flynn were reelected president and secretary, respectively. Allen Talby was made vice-president, and Jane Hickox, captain of the Girls' Student Patrol, and Tersino D'Engenio, captain of the Boys' Student Patrol.

The boys' athletic achievement tests have been completed in the gym classes. Victor Leebler of the ninth grade was the individual high scorer in the school. The next in order were Edward Coan, Richard DeLaunier, John Ryther, John Pozzi, Clarence Anderson, Jack Holt, Tom Burkhard, Robert Liming and David Theodore, tied, and Robert Marshall. All but Jack Holt, who is a seventh grader, are members of the ninth grade.

The next meeting of the Weeks Parent-Teacher Association is to be held next Monday, February 17, at 3:00 o'clock. This afternoon's meeting was especially planned for the benefit of many of the mothers who are not able to attend the evening sessions. Mr. Arthur Wellington, New England Representative of the National Recreation Association will speak on "The Value of Recreation to the Community."

On Thursday, February 6, at 1:30 p. m., the Weeks Junior High School gave the program in the series of broadcasts known as "Newton School Days." These programs are sponsored by WEEB. The participants were Richard Gove, Richard Means, Margaret Kent, Barbara Mitchell, John Glorieux, Elaine Cummins, Carolyn Cooke, and Robert Joy. The group presented a program honoring Dr. Henry Barnard, the first United States Commissioner of Education. They showed how his ideas of 1845 have been put into effect in the Newton schools today.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 16.

The Golden Text is: "Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths" (Psalms 25:1, 4).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, Master, which is the great commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment" (Matthew 22:35-38).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Dost thou love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind? This command includes much, even the surrender of all merely material sensation, affection, and worship. This is the El Dorado of Christianity. It involves the Science of Life, and recognizes only the divine control of Spirit, in which Soul is our master, and material sense and human will have no place" (p. 9).

What's the Answer?

NOTHING, of course. But 366 multiplied by 10 equals 3660.

Now if the "366" represents each day in 1936 and the "10" a dime, the answer is $36.60.

That's exactly how much you'll have if you save a dime a day. But we shouldn't say exactly, for if you deposit those dimes in the Newton Centre Savings Bank you'll have more, thanks to compound interest.

Many Children Have Poor Teeth

Under the leadership of the Newton Dental Society a survey of the conditions of the teeth of the children of the elementary schools in Newton was carried on from December 9th to December 19th, 1935. All children in the kindergarten and first six grades were examined by one of the 34 dentists who participated in the survey and have been rated according to the condition of the teeth. In this rating "A" signified one or more cavities present, "B" one or more teeth needing extraction, "C" teeth needing cleaning, and "D" teeth requiring no immediate dental attention. Deciduous teeth were included as well as permanent teeth since it is generally accepted by dentists that the first or temporary teeth are just as important as the second or permanent teeth.

In summarizing the results the children have been divided into two general groups: 1) those requiring immediate attention (Children with an "A" defect, a "B" defect, or both) and 2) those requiring no immediate attention or cleaning only (Groups "C" and "D") at the time of the survey.

The following important facts have been brought out by this project:

1) The dentists of the city as individuals and as a group have a very genuine interest in the problem of dental health of the children as witnessed by their willingness to donate their time to the children survey. The city was roughly divided into districts and in most cases the dentists from each section examined the school children in their locality. To those who made the arrangements it was most gratifying to find all schools so readily staffed.

2) The data accumulated made evident the fact that medical examination of school children is not adequate to determine dental needs. In the annual physical examination of school children 16% of the children were found to be in need of dental care as against 49.6% detected by a dental examination.

3) There are an enormous number of school children (3105) in this city in need of immediate dental attention. This number represents 49.6% of the school children surveyed. Although the percent of children with defective teeth ranged from 17% in one school to 91% in another, the general need for more adequate dental care was obvious.

These figures, showing conclusively that dental disease is by far the most common defect of the children attending the Newton public schools, offer considerable challenge to the practicing dentists, and to the health department. The solution of the problem lies in proper dental education of parents and children from an early age. Experience has shown that not only is it easier and more economical but that it is most important for the child's growth and nutrition to fill small cavities when they first form rather than to treat and finally extract abscessed teeth. Many of the children surveyed have family dentists but those with defects have not presented themselves at their dentists' offices for regular care either because of economic reasons or the common belief that care of the first teeth is not important.

Annual Report of John Hancock Co.

Notable gains and improvements in the financial condition of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston during the year 1935 were shown in the annual report of that company, presented by President Guy W. Cox at the 73rd annual meeting held February 10, 1936, at the home office in Boston.

Assets showed a gain over 1934 of seven per cent ($47,435,148.90) and surplus resources increased 5.13 per cent ($3,171,571.33). Mortality experience was more favorable. There was a reduction in the percentage of operating expenses to total income. A decrease was shown in policies lapsed and surrendered. Policy loans made were 13 per cent less than in 1934 and cash repayments amounted to $4,125,494.27.

Total gross income in 1935 was $180,365,913.61, the highest in the company's history, an increase of more than fifteen and one-half million dollars over 1934, the previous high record. Of this amount $141,124,430.89 represented premium income.

Insurance in force on December 31, 1935, showed an increase of $19,181,333.00 over 1934, making a total of $3,593,148,922.

The amount paid to policyholders and beneficiaries during the year totaled $87,736,087.35 or $291,482 per business day.

Total investments made and renewed during the year, other than loans on policies amounted to $151,632,151.88.

Surplus resources at the end of the year totaled $64,987,816.03, an increase of 5.13 per cent over 1934. This figure includes a general surplus or safety fund of $46,987,816.03 together with a contingency reserve to provide for asset fluctuation of $18,000,000.

Gain in Assets—$731,500,916.33 is the amount of admitted assets, which represents a gain of seven per cent over 1934. The principal items are notes and stocks, $314,169,374.63, which sum includes obligations of the United States, $63,555,164.79; bonds of States, Cities, Towns and other civil divisions, $97,006,432.20; public utility bonds (almost exclusively of operating units), $84,910,680.70; railroad bonds, $38,924,910.69; miscellaneous corporation bonds and notes, $8,039,299.15; stocks preferred and guaranteed, $19,957,391.44; and other stocks, $2,675,423.66.

Real estate mortgages amounted to $187,071,581.50; cash in banks and office, $22,185,933.31; interest and rents due and accrued, $15,977,141.32; loans and liens on company's policies, $92,503,144.47; home office and other real estate, $89,266,696.79; premiums due and deferred, together with miscellaneous items, $11,227,044.31.

The company has set aside $15,974,706.37 to cover the full year's distribution of surplus to policyholders during 1936.

"As this report shows a substantial increase in new insurance, in assets, in income and in surplus, and a decrease in expense," said President Cox, "the condition of the Company and its operations in 1935 may be viewed with satisfaction and well may be regarded as a source of confidence and inspiration for continued success in 1936."

Water in Snow

The weather bureau says that the amount of water varies widely with different snowfalls, some snow being quite light and dry, others wet. As a general average, 10 inches of snow may be taken as equivalent to 1 inch of water.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

The 26th annual Boy Scout Week celebrated Feb. 7th to Feb. 14th by all the Scouts and Scouters, one million strong throughout the United States. Scouting has grown in the past 26 years from the handful that were inspired by the good turn done by Mr. W. B. Boyce in the Unknown Scout in London, England, 27 years ago. On Feb. 8, 1910, the official starting of the Boy Scouts of America by the signing of the first National Charter at 8 o'clock in the evening has been commemorated annually by the Scouts and Scouters all over the country reaffirming themselves to the Scout Oath.

In the Norumbega Council during the past week the observance of Scout Week was made at the Training School where over a hundred men from Newton and Wellesley are learning to become leaders in Scouting. Mr. Charles Peterson of the Newton High School, with John Myrick and other Scouts from Troop 1 dramatized the incident of the Unknown Scout performing the good turn to Mr. Boyce in London, England, for the benefit of the Scouting Institute.

A number of the Scouts throughout the Council held special meetings to celebrate Scout Week. Some of the Troops made arrangements to attend church as a body. Troop 18, under the leadership of Mr. Charles Coughlin; 20, under the leadership of Mr. John Hitchcock; 10, under the leadership of Mr. John M. Bierer; 4A, under the leadership of Mr. Edward Patterson; 4B, under the leadership of Mr. Richard Schroeder and a number of the Cub Packs observed Scout Sunday. Pack 20 of the Trinity Church under the leadership of Mr. Carroll Hoffman. On Tuesday evening of last week 200 Scouts, Quinequin District, assembled at the Angier School in Waban and participated in a general Troop Meeting. The Committee in charge of the affair was Mr. John M. Bierer, chairman; Mr. George Graf, Mr. Richard Schroeder, Mr. William Dillaway and Mr. Edward Patterson. Tonight a similar meeting is being held at the Levi Warren Junior High School of West Newton: Mr. Maxwell P. Gaddis, District Commissioner, Chairman of the Committee, assisted by Messrs. E. C. Hilliard, Lyman Hutchins, Harold Amidon, Frank Liscomb, Frank Jones and Donald Curtis.

The Seascouts tonight are also holding a convention of the leaders from 14 towns around Boston at the Ship headquarters in the Old Fire Barn, West Newton. Mr. Charles Wilson, Chairman of the Ship Committee, will be the host and Mr. Seymour Clark, Mr. "Sandy" Moffatt, the Regional Sea Scout director, will be present also.

On Saturday, Feb. 15th, at the Mason School, Newton Centre, at 3:00 p. m., Mayor Edwin O. Childs will open the Club Craft Palava that will terminate the festivities of Scout Week. This exhibition of Craft work made by Cubs 9, 10, and 11 years old will be the first of its kind to be held in New England.

The Norumbega Council has been recognized by the National Council as being the most progressive Council so far as the Cub program is concerned. The committee in charge of this Palava are Mr. Everett Bunker, Nathaniel Doten, Jr., and the Cubmasters of the various Packs. This exhibition is open to the general public and any who are interested in attending may do so. There is no charge for admission and the hall will be open from 3:00 in the afternoon until 6:00 in the evening. On Sunday, the 15th, the men who are attending the Elements Training Course will assemble at 3:00 p. m. at the Monson Lodge, Nobscot, for the second outdoor session of the Elements School.

Buchanan Put On Probation

John L. Buchanan, 21, of 1191 Washington st., West Newton, pleaded guilty in the Newton court last Friday to five charges of breaking and entering and larceny. He had entered filling stations and garages at West Newton and stolen automobile accessories. Buchanan was ordered to make restitution to the amount of about $100 and he was given a suspended sentence to the Concord Reformatory.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER D. A. R.

The Chapter House was gay February 10 with the Chinese decorations and the heavily embroidered costumes worn by a number of the women in keeping with the subject of the afternoon—"Memories of China New and Old," which was ably presented by Rev. George L. Davis, who has lived for many years in that country. Mr. Davis warned against the danger of being misled by rumors in our judgment of oriental matters. On his return to China last summer he had found many things unchanged but in Nanking the buses were seen as well as donkeys, and loud speakers announced their hours of departure. The work in the Gin Ling college had accomplished a great deal in the training of nurses and in the saving of the lives of children. Mr. Davis had seen remarkable honesty in public life and a stern enforcement of law and order which put to death offenders and drove away the bandits. He felt that we need not fear that Japan would seek dominance in Hawaii as Japanese are becoming American citizens and refuse to perform military service in Japan. On request Mr. Davis translated the American's Creed into Chinese. An ancient portrait of Prince Shu and valuable altar pieces of teak wood were loaned by Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

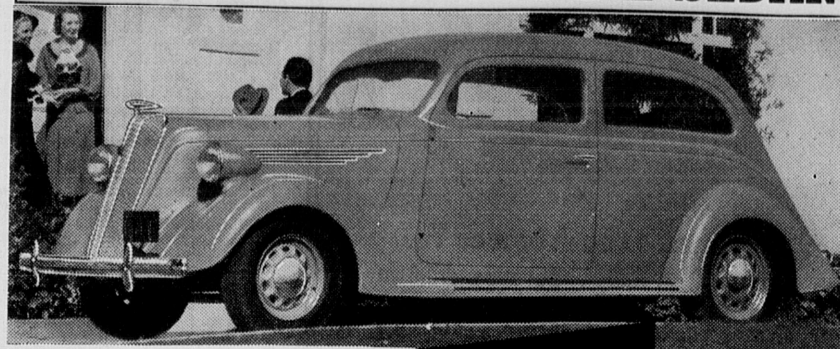

Mr. Bliss Wyant, professor of music in Yen Ching University, Peking, described China as a pre-eminent musical country, whose language has inflections baffling to those of untrained ears. We owe to China the gourd instrument, forerunner of the pipe organ. Victrola records of orchestral and operatic forms aroused much interest.

At the business meeting the name of Mrs. F. W. Cowell was added to the list of alternates to the Continental Congress. Prospects for the Valentine bridge party, Feb. 14th, are promising. Mrs. Cowell is chairman. Mrs. Friend, chairman of the House Committee, reported that the expense of painting and repairs on the Chapter House $400, had been met. Miss Emily Jordan suggested that measures be taken to have the small flags placed on graves removed before they become weather beaten and unsightly. In accordance with the request of the Registrar General, it was voted to allow the examination of application papers by those wishing to establish their lineage. Mrs. J. Walter Allen, the Regent, passed on the suggestion of the State Board of Management that classes be formed to study the Constitution of the United States. These groups may be formed at a later date.

The Chinese motif was carried out in the serving of jasmine tea and in

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Guest Night and Other Events

Aboard their ninety-two foot schooner "Yankee," Captain Irving Johnson, Mrs. Johnson, and their crew, sailed out of Gloucester Harbor to circle the globe. This thrilling adventure will be told by lecture and moving pictures on the evening of Tuesday, February 18th, when the Newtonville Woman's Club will observe its Annual Guest Night. Captain Johnson, who is an author as well as an adventurer, has sailed around the Horn in a square-rigger, and was mate on Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht, "Shamrock V," when a hurricane nearly destroyed both boat and crew. Aside from the lecture "Circling the Globe in the Yankee," the program will include solos by Franklin Field, well known in Greater Boston for his rich, smooth voice, and pleasing selection of songs.

Refreshments and a social hour will follow the program under the direction of the Hospitality chairman. Hostesses will be Mrs. George A. Edmands, Mrs. Henry B. Nickerson, Mrs. Walter P. Phillips, and Mrs. Clarence A. Wentworth.

Mrs. Charles J. Trowbridge, chairman of the International Relations committee, announces the third in the series of lectures "Let's Look at the World," by Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor, to take place on Wednesday, February 19th, at 10:30 a. m. Club cards admit members; non-members will be admitted upon payment of fee.

The Education committee will conduct the third of its Conferences on Education at the Frank A. Day Junior High School promptly at 2:30 o'clock, on February 19th. (PLEASE NOTE CHANGE FROM ORIGINAL DATE, THE 26TH.) The meeting will be in charge of Miss Lois Gibson, the school librarian. The school Cooking Class will plan and prepare refreshments, and the Library Club will serve them. The previous conferences in this series have been concerning the co-operation of the Newton Library with the primary and grade schools. Following the one at the Junior High School there will be the March meeting at the Senior High School. All club members and interested adults are invited, particularly mothers of the pupils attending the school.

Members of the Club will be welcome to join the Hospital committee for the monthly Sewing Day at the Hospital on Thursday, February 20th, at 11 a. m. The workers should take sandwiches; the Hospital will provide coffee and dessert.

Public Invited To Community
Sing on Sunday

A Community Sing, sponsored by the Chorus of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, will be held at the Club House on Sunday, February 16th, at 2:30 p. m. There will be an interesting program of music for two pianos, played by Mary Barr Snyder and Ida May Bunting. This Sing will be free to the public.

Dr. Miriam Franc Skirball will speak on "My Country and My People" by Lin Yutang, at the sixth and last Book Talk, to be held at the Club House on Tuesday, February 18th, at 10 a. m.

The Literature Study Group will meet with Mrs. William H. Nelson, 40 Mason road, on Wednesday, February 19th, at 2:30 p. m. The subject will be "Blossoms." The Work of Roger Fry, Clive Bell, and Lytton Strachey. The Leaders are Mrs. John Merrill and Mrs. Edwin Ward.

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will speak on Current Events on Thursday, February 20th, at 10 a. m. at the Club House.

Tea In Honor of
New Members

The Auburndale Woman's Club will give a Tea to new members and their sponsors at the Auburndale Club House on Tuesday afternoon, February 18th, from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock.

The Tea is in charge of Mrs. Arthur T. Freeman, chairman of the Membership committee. Through the efforts of Mrs. Freeman and her energetic committee, sixty-four new members have been added to the Club, the largest number of new members to be admitted for several years.

The president, Mrs. Edward B. Gray, and the other officers, including directors and chairmen of committees, will meet the new members informally. The pourers will be the directors, Mrs. Strabo V. Claggett, Mrs. Walter S. Wells, Mrs. Herbert E. Athens, Mrs. Stuart L. Southgate, Mrs. George A. Follett, and Mrs. John I. Helbeck.

The Drama Day program has been changed to take place on Tuesday, February 25th, at 8 p. m. when the Club will present The Village Players in "The Bishop Misbehaves."

Waban Juniors
Elect Officers

At their meeting on Monday evening, February 3rd, the newly-organized Waban Junior Woman's Club voted upon the Constitution and By-Laws of the Club. The following officers were also elected: President, Miss Louise Cane; vice-president, Miss Helen Stetson; recording secretary, Miss Dorothy Whitaker; corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Warren; treasurer, Miss Marjory Whitaker; and directors, Miss Phyllis Reinhardt, Miss Virginia Codman, and Miss Marjory Jones.

Members' Day With Short Talks and Reception

The February meeting of the Newton Centre Garden Club will be held on Monday, February 17th, at 10:30 o'clock, at the Newton Centre Library. This meeting is to be featured as "Members' Day," with a Reception to new members, and coffee served.

The program will consist of Short Talks by Members: "Gourds," by Mrs. Lewis R. Spear; "Shrubs for Fall Color and Fruit," by Mrs. William H. Lothrop; "House Plants," by Miss Edith B. Read; "Ferns for the Garden," by Miss Eliza Philbrick; "New Varieties of Peonies and Iris," by Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf; and "Electric Hot Beds," by Mrs. John M. Sweeney.

Fashion Show
Interesting Event

The Annual Dessert-Bridge and Fashion Show, held under the auspices of the Newton Community Club, and given at the home of Mrs. Henry I. Harriman on February 3rd, was a very successful affair. Mrs. Steven Bayard Wilson, a former president, was in charge.

There were, in addition to the seventy-four tables of bridge players, a number of Club members and guests who came only to view the Fashion Show.

Following a delicious dessert, served by Mrs. Frank Dennison and her committee, bridge was played, during which the Fashion Show was presented by Mrs. Wheeler of the Sally Wheeler Froek Shop, with Mrs. Arnold Barker as chairman.

Piano selections were rendered, during the Style Show, by Mrs. Howard Moore and Mrs. Carl Thornquist, and the following Club members modelled the gowns: Mrs. Fred Hawkins, Mrs. Herbert B. Dwight, Mrs. William W. Colton, Mrs. Alexander T. Skakle, Mrs. Wallace Wales, Mrs. Wye Shaw, Mrs. Joseph W. Gerrity, Mrs. Loren D. Towle, Mrs. Joseph N. Palmer, Mrs. Arthur Mansfield, and Miss Emma Montanari. Non members who also modelled were Miss Geneva Brown, Miss Elmira Mason, Mrs. Benjamin Fawcett, and Miss Phyllis McKay.

Flattering pastels, and a variety of attractive prints, in both afternoon and evening gowns, were shown. The last showing was Miss McKay as a bride in white lace, and carrying white roses; with Miss Montanari as bridesmaid in rose colored moire, and carrying sweet peas. The flowers were donated by the Boston Gardening Company.

The presenting of bridge prizes to each table closed what the president, Mrs. Alfred Handley, termed the outstanding social event of the Club Year.

Program of Monologues

On Wednesday, February 19th, the regular monthly meeting of the West Newton Community Service Club will be held at the Unitarian Church, at 2 o'clock.

Because of the illness of Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, who was to have given a talk on "Abraham Lincoln," the program has been changed. Marian Hendrick Cahalin will give a series of Monologues, and there will be music by Louise Cane, Harpist.

The Exchange Table for members of the Club will be open, and Mrs. Louie A. Bacon and her committee will be in charge of the Tea.

Ideas For New Gardens

The Newton Highlands Garden Club will meet on February 19th, for a Catalogue Day, with a general discussion of the new things offered in the 1936 Catalogues, and of the tested things of the past year.

"Dish Gardens," designed and made by members of the Club, will be the Decorative Arrangement Contest for the meeting.

Exhibition of Children's Drawings

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will deliver the second of her Talks on "History in the Making" at the Newton Highlands Woman's Club on Tuesday, February 18th, at 2 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House. The Club Chorus, Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, director, will sing.

There will be a Community Sewing Day at the Club Workshop on Columbus street, on Monday, February 17th. An Exhibition of Children's Drawings and Paintings from a collection by Miss Helen Cleaves, Supervisor of Art in the Boston Schools, and from the Newton High and Junior High Schools, will be held at the Workshop on Friday, February 21st, from 2 to 5 p. m. It is especially urged that the children be brought to this Exhibit.

Choice Collection Of Gem Stones
Illustrates Talk

A rare treat was enjoyed by those members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club who braved the storm on Tuesday afternoon, February 4th, when Ethel Doane presented her charming and instructive talk on gem stones, illustrated with specimens from her own collection.

Mrs. Doane discussed at length the many types of semi-precious stones used for jewelry, and informed her hearers how to tell the finer qualities from the inferior ones and from imitations, the commercial amethyst from the rarer jade. She urged the women to examine and handle any specimen in her collection which interested them. "Women," said she, "love to touch things. We learn by handling."

Mrs. Doane feels that the perfect collection should contain three types of specimens: a crystal, a carved, and a polished specimen of each stone. While her own collection is still far from this completeness, it is the perfection towards which she is striving. Among the choice pieces exhibited were a small piece of bloodstone in taglio engraved with a bird-cage, a bird, and the inscription "Listen to the Songs of Love"; another in onyx of an old-fashioned bicycle with the large front wheel; and what Mrs. Doane called her "Sweetheart Stone," a piece of agate, heart-shaped, and containing all the colors in which agates are found.

The Art committee, of which Mrs. Edward D. Wallace is chairman, is responsible for bringing Mrs. Doane to the Club with this entertaining program.

Discussion of Economic Recovery
Stimulating

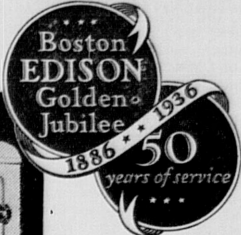

Members and friends of the Newtonville Woman's Club filled the auditorium on the afternoon of February 4th to hear Professor J. Anton de Haas, the well-known student of international conditions, who was sponsored by the Women's Advisory committee of the Newton Trust Company. Professor de Haas was introduced by Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, representing the bank. The speaker plotted his talk on the international situation in reference to its effect on the United States. He made particular reference to the question: "Are we on the path to economic recovery, and if so, how permanent may the recovery be?" He referred to the optimism of the "economic crystal gazers of 1929," when, perhaps, words of warning might have made the depression less severe. From 1816 the country has weathered eighteen slumps of various durations, the longest one holding for eleven years, and though the speaker granted that we were undoubtedly climbing out, he hoped that the evident weaknesses in our system of the operation might be corrected intelligently. Such problems are not solved by prosperity, neither is the era of prosperity the time to sit back, but it is the time

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT

PWA PROJECT NO. MASS. 1136R

Sealed proposals for the construction of additions to and alterations of the City Garage on Crafts Street, in the Newtonville District of Newton, Massachusetts, prepared in accordance with instructions contained in the contract documents, will be received at the office of the Public Buildings Commissioner, City Hall, Newton, Massachusetts, until 2 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, Tuesday, March 3rd, 1936, and at that time and place publicly opened and read. Plans, specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Architect, Frank H. Colony, 164 Stuart Street, Boston, Massachusetts, upon the deposit of $150.00, which amount must be included in the bidder's proposal. All deposits except that of the successful bidder will be refunded when such documents are returned in good condition, within thirty (30) days after receipt of bids. Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check upon a National Bank or Trust Company in the sum of $2,000, payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the proposal. All certified checks, except that of the bidder to whom the contract is awarded, will be returned within thirty (30) days after the awarding of the contract. The project is to be financed and constructed under the terms of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 and Chapter 366, Mass. Acts of 1933, as amended, and attention is called to the Construction Regulations prescribed by the PWA. Attention is called to the fact that minimum wage rates are established for the project and are set forth in the contract documents. In accordance with PWA regulations and the requirements of Chapter 461, Mass. Acts of 1935, the office of the United States Employment Service designated by the government for this project is the Waltham Branch of the National Re-employment Service, Bemis School, Orange Street, Waltham, Mass. The right is reserved by the City of Newton, acting through its Public Buildings Commissioner, to reject any or all proposals, or to accept any proposal, which it deems most advantageous, subject to the approval of the State Director, PWA, and the Mayor of the City of Newton and in an amount equal to one hundred (100) per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful bidder.

Buick Motor Co. Safety Legion

The Buick Safety Legion, with an expected immediate membership of more than 200,000 Buick owners throughout the United States and an objective of 500,000 by the middle of the year, was launched by the Buick Motor Company a few weeks ago.

The project, plans for which were announced by Harlow H. Curatie, president of the company, will be part of a major safety campaign to be carried on by the company among more than 2,500,000 Buick owners in the United States throughout the coming year.

Purposes of the Buick Safety Legion are the promotion of safe and courteous driving among Buick owners, and to encourage Buick owners, by their own example and by their influence in their local communities, to become leaders in a movement to reduce accidents on the highways.

All owners of Buick cars are eligible for membership in the Legion, the requirement being the signing of a membership card pledging courtesy and care in the operation of a motor vehicle and careful observance of local and state traffic laws.

All members of the Buick Safety Legion will be entitled to display on their cars a membership emblem which will be supplied without cost by the Buick Motor Company. This consists of a metal medallion or disk, bearing the words "Member—Buick Safety Legion," which can be attached to the license plates of the car.

"The starting point of a safety program is the man behind the wheel," commented president Curatie. "A great majority of automobile accidents, in fact practically all of them, can be prevented by intelligent care and courtesy on the part of the driver."

"I know that careful drivers are sometimes the victims of reckless ones—and that pedestrians are often at fault. You cannot always count on the other fellow stopping at a red light, or signalling when he is about to turn, or staying on the right side of the road in the open country. But knowing all this, one can anticipate the other fellow in many cases and keep out of trouble regardless of what he does."

"The largest single cause of fatalities is what the insurance companies list as 'collision with pedestrian,' the exact figure being 44 per cent. 'Slightly more than 50 per cent' of all accidents happen after dark, despite the fact that there are more cars on the road during the daylight hours."

of Payson C. Smith from the Commission.

This, in brief, is the history back of the enclosed statement from the teachers of Newton. We would appreciate the publicity you might care to give this.

Very truly yours,

RUSSELL V. BURKHARD,
Chairman Newton
Teachers' Federation.A LETTER OF PROTEST TO THE MASSACHUSETTS TEACHERS' FEDERATION FROM THE
TEACHERS OF NEWTON

1. We thoroughly disapprove of the action taken by the Board of Directors of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation when it assumed authority to speak for the teachers of the state endorsing the appointment of a Commissioner of Education.

2. We believe that this Board should be composed of those who are professionally rather than politically minded, and if the time comes when the Board must endorse a candidate for any position in the State Department of Education, each affiliated club should be given an opportunity to vote on this endorsement before the Board acts in the name of the teachers of Massachusetts.

3. Moreover, we are further disturbed concerning a leading, full-page, unsigned article entitled "Our New Commissioner" appearing in the January, 1936 issue of The Massachusetts Teacher, the official publication of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation.

This editorial purports to reflect again an endorsement of the teachers of Massachusetts regarding changes in the State Department of Education. We believe this is definitely inaccurate. It is noticeable, moreover, that the author of this article could find no opportunity to express even a passing reference to the very able service to the former Commissioner of Education.

4. We serve notice, that unless there is a complete change in the policies of those who control the Federation, the teachers of Newton stand ready to consider seriously the matter of withdrawal from this organization.

Newtonville
Scouts Plan
Annual Show

The Sixth Norumbega Group, Boy Scouts and Cubs, of Newtonville are making plans for their annual "N. B. C. Radio Stars" Show to be held Friday evening, February twenty-eighth at the F. A. Day Junior High School to raise the additional two hundred dollars needed to complete their new Scout Building on Court street and to pay for its running expenses for the coming year.

The building has been erected by the fifty-odd Scouts and Cubs in the Group and their fathers. Originally it was one of the portable school houses used by the city to care for overflow classes. Torn down and trucked to its new location, the building has been remodeled to provide an ideal meeting place for the boys.

Although not yet fully completed, it has been in steady use since the middle of January, not only by the Scouts and Cubs of the Sixth Norumbega Group, but also by two troops of Newtonville Girl Scouts and by the Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America for their Cubmaster's Training Course.

Erected on a lot of 20,000 feet of land made available by the Trustees of the Morse Estate, the building has a sixty-six foot frontage, with an ell in the rear eighteen feet long. The interior arrangements provide a large "L" shaped meeting room, a shop twenty feet by ten for handicraft work, a smaller room for meetings of committees and such groups, a kitchenette and an office.

The boys have constructed sturdy tables, benches and chests for storing their equipment. Across the end of the sunny ell is a twenty foot window seat. With the aid of the funds raised by the coming entertainment a fireplace will be erected at the end of the meeting room. Curtains, material for which has been donated by a Girl Scout leader, are being made by the Mother's Auxiliary of the Group under the direction of Mrs. Edward Saunder, president of the auxiliary.

A unique undertaking, Newtonville is one of the first villages in New England to have a building designed and erected solely for the use of Scout groups, and enthusiasm runs high among leaders and parents who realize the possibilities for better Scout programs which it provides.

Due to the fact that use of the land has been donated, and that almost all the labor of erection has been undertaken by the boys and their fathers, the total cost of the building when completed will not exceed five hundred dollars, although it is valued by insurance companies at well over two thousand dollars.

The proceeds from the contemplated entertainment are expected to finish paying for the building as well as pay for its running expenses with the exception of small contributions of groups using the building, for the coming year.

The undertaking has been made possible by the interest of the fathers, under the direction of Edgar Burkhardt, chairman of the Group Committee, and H. G. Carter, chairman of the Cub Committee. Clifford White has been in charge of erection, with Cubmaster Clarence Doten as his assistant. Electrical work has been done under the direction of Everett Boulter. Other men on the combined Scout and Cub Committees are: F. E. Eastman, in charge of finances, Daniel Needham, George Oleson, W. J. Kidder, Warren Brimblecom, and J. V. Gormaghty. Wm. Bradford Gove is Scoutmaster of the Group.

Annual Meeting of Central Cong. Church

The Annual Meeting of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, was held Thursday evening, January 16th, the moderator, Frederick L. Edwards, presiding. The clerk, G. Winthrop Brainerd, reported a membership of 885. The expenditures for church support during 1935 were $18,942, reduction of the debt $1755.00, benevolences totaled $4,407, and there is a balance in the treasury of $572. Joseph R. Ludwigan, Director of Religious Education and of Music, spoke to work among the young people. The Church School enrollment is 503, and there are graded organizations which aim to provide work, play, worship and study for the different ages. The pastor, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, gave a summary of the activities. He said that many of the results which the church strives to accomplish are too intangible to be included in a report, but that definite achievements can be shown. He referred to the loyal support he receives and to the fine spirit of co-operation, expressed in such typical manner in Friendship Village, where all the organizations contributed to its success. Mr. Merrill challenged the members as individuals to aid in increasing church attendance and membership.

Chauncey W. Waldron gave the third of his series of annual moving pictures, descriptive of the church events, showing scenes from the play given by Central Club, the Easter pageant, and the Easter chancel flowers. The audience were also taken to the Boston reception for Admiral Byrd, to the Public Garden in tulip time, to Turtle pond, and to scenes around Mt. Sugarloaf, in the Deerfield valley. The Maine woods and lakes sunset moved the audience to join in "Day is Dying in the West." Henry B. Nickerson gave the report of the Finance Committee, and Walter T. Kelley, of the Nominating Committee. The following officers were elected: Moderator, Frederick L. Edmonds; treas., James D. Bennett; auditor, Alan D. Duff; deacons, Wynn C. Fairfield, T. E. Shepard; Deacons, Mrs. R. C. Whitehill, Mrs. J. T. Webster, Mrs. W. P. Phillips, Mrs. David F. Hill, Mrs. E. K. Titus; Members of the Standing Committee, Mrs. Walter S. Adams, Mrs. A. H. Decatur, Franklin A. Holloway, H. H. Lounsbury, Miss Louise R. Sherman,

Girl Scouts

Warm Springs Foundation, Georgia, now boasts a troop of nine Girl Scouts who are under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Skelton, a former Newton Girl Scout who is a physiotherapist on the Foundation staff. Miss Skelton, who is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Skelton of Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, went to Warm Springs last autumn. She found that some of the girls in the Foundation had been Girl Scouts in their own towns and wished to go on with Scouting. Miss Skelton applied to National Headquarters in New York and was encouraged to establish a troop. When the girls were ready to be Scouts, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt invested each with her Tenderfoot pin.

Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, chairman of the committee for promoting the work for the physically handicapped Girl Scouts under the Newton Council, hopes that she will be able to establish one such troop in a Newton institution in the near future. She is planning to make contact with shut-in children throughout the city for the promotion of "home" Scouting, and she will also try to find places in the regular local troops for girls who, although slightly handicapped, may be able to attend the troop and need the social contacts provided by Girl Scouting.

Girl Scouting among the physically handicapped both in institutions and in their own homes, has grown rapidly in the past few years. The program offered helps to build the morale of the girl, and to increase her self reliance. No exceptions to the regular requirements for badge and rank work are made, nor indeed are they asked for, and the girls take pleasure in doing things "just like other girls". Several girls, one who is deaf and mute, have been awarded the Golden Eaglet, and many others have qualified in various parts of the Girl Scout Program.

Boy on Sled Hit
By Car at U. Falls

A sled on which two small boys were coasting and a car driven by Fred Grossman, of Waltham, collided last Thursday at Chestnut st., Upper Falls. Jacob Boghosian, 6, of 38 Sullivan ave., Upper Falls, received a bad cut on his forehead and was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

Alleged Drunken
Driver Arrested

Joseph L. O'Neil of Pond st., Waltham, was arrested late Wednesday night after the car he was driving had skidded and tipped over on an icy surface at Crafts and Waltham sts., West Newton. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Thursday charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor.

Young People's Conference Opens

"Facing Life Squarely" is the theme of the fifteenth annual Young People's Conference which opens this evening, in the Newtonville Methodist Church. Registration begins Friday at 6:30 p. m. and the opening meeting is at 7:15. Saturday, registration begins at 2 p. m. with an afternoon session at 2:30 p. m., a supper at 6:15, and an evening session at 7:50 with a closing "chain of friendship" at 9 p. m. Early registration indicates that the attendance will be well over four hundred or nearly twice that of last year.

The main speaker is Dr. Samuel Graftlin of New York, a noted young people's speaker, who will have as the subjects of his talks, "Facing Life Realistically", "Facing Life Cooperatively" and "Facing Life Enthusiastically." The discussion groups on these themes, which will be held Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, will be led by prominent young people's workers of the community. Mr. Joseph Ludwigan of the Central Congregational Church will lead the song services, and the recreation will be under the direction of Lawrence Theobald of the Boston District Epworth League.

Each of the fourteen organizations representing the young people of the community which are co-operating in the conference will bring greetings at the banquet on Saturday evening. Mayor Edwin O. Childs will bring the greetings of the City of Newton and make a short address.

Mansfield Wins
Long Law Suit

On Friday, February 7th, the Supreme Court, on the appeal returned by the Superior Court at East Cambridge about a year ago, awarding Arthur J. Mansfield, Publisher of the Arlington News, a considerable sum of money in a civil suit brought against E. Copeland Lang, director of The Melrose Free Press.

Mr. Mansfield brought suit for breach of contract, claiming two years salary and expenses for the unexpired term of his contract as manager and treasurer of the Consolidated Press, Inc. and its subsidiaries The Melrose Free Press, the Mansfield Printing Co., and the Columbus Press, Boston.

Young People's Conference At Newtonville

Dr. Grafflin Tells 400 How To Face Life Squarely

Despite the severe storm, nearly four hundred young people gathered at Newtonville on February 14 and 15, and endeavored under the able leadership of Dr. Samuel Grafflin and through discussion among themselves, to determine how they might best "Face Life Squarely." The occasion for this meeting was the Fifteenth Annual Young People's Conference, held this year under the joint auspices of fourteen organizations for youth of this and neighboring communities.

On both Friday and Saturday, Dr. Grafflin, a noted young people's worker, graciously and humorously, yet with an underlying sincerity which inspired his listeners, developed the theme of the conference under the topic of "Facing Life Realistically," "Facing Life Co-operatively," and "Facing Life Enthusiastically," after which groups met under the leadership of prominent young people's workers to discuss the thoughts presented and apply them to their everyday problems.

Lawrence Theobald of the Boston District Epworth League, on Saturday afternoon led the young people in a merry period of fun, affording everyone a chance to get acquainted. Joseph Ludwigson of Central Congregational Church also conducted several spirited song services.

At the closing session, Mayor Edwin O. Childs brought to the conference the greetings of the City of Newton in a brief address and received the heartfelt applause of 350 youthful admirers. Representatives presented the greetings of each co-operating organization and told something of the purpose and work of each group. After Dr. Grafflin's concluding address, the entire conference joined hands in a chain of friendship, led by Clyde G. Hess.

The following officers of the Young People's Council were elected: Franklin Rich, President; Richard Buckley, Vice President; Madeline Dunne, Cor. Secretary; Louise Andrews, Rec. Secretary; Arthur Derbyshire, Treasurer; Kimball Loomis, Chrm. Registration; Alice MacLennan, Chrm. Publicity.

ASKS OWNERS TO PARK CARS IN DRIVEWAYS

Street Commissioner Charles A. Mahoney issued a statement this week asking all Newton automobile owners to park their cars in their driveways during snowstorms and until the plows of the street department can clear the streets. Cars parked upon the streets provide a very serious handicap to the efficiency of the city's snow fighting forces.

Fire In Newton Apartment Block

A fire which occurred in the store of the Garden City Furniture Company at 294 Centre st., Newton, corner of Jefferson st., forced tenants of several apartments on the three upper floors of the four-story Weld building to leave their homes on Monday night. The fire was discovered at 9:28 by John Kearney of 300 Centre st., one of the occupants of the building. He pulled an alarm from Box 152 and then warned the other occupants of the building, assisted by Patrolman James Halloran. Among those who were warned were Mrs. Ellen Ward and son, Mrs. Della Quinn, Dillon Porter, Robert Jensen and family, Harry Zember and family and John Fallon.

The fire started in a room at the rear of the furniture store and was prevented from spreading. It caused damage estimated at $800. Michael Hamsey of Boston is the owner of the store.

Want West Pine Street Improved

A renewal of the agitation to have the city improve and accept West Pine st., Auburndale, has been started. This street from Melrose st. to the Auburndale Playground is about 800 feet long, and apart from a road on the Metropolitan Park reservation, is the only approach to the playground. Some years ago residents of the street urged that the city improve it under the general law without cost to the abutters because of the traffic over it during the months that the playground is in use. Alderman Brocklesley is now advocating that the city improve this street and he has requested the Playground Commission to cooperate.

Doctors Testify For Autoist

In the Newton court on Monday Peter Cox of Cabot st., Newtonville was arraigned on charges of driving a car while under the influence of liquor and for leaving the scene of accident without revealing his identity. Patrolmen Whalen, O'Donnell, Gaquin and Cummings, who took the defendant into custody, testified that he seemed under the influence of liquor. Medical Examiner T. M. Gallagher and Dr. Francis Mulligan testified that Cox's physical condition caused him to have temporarily become dazed on the evening of the accident. Judge John Lynch of Milford, who heard the case, continued it until March 16th to consider the evidence.

Dr. Little On Cancer Research At Newton Forum

Noted Pathologist Speaks Sunday on Dread Disease

Next Sunday afternoon, Feb. 23, in the Newton High School auditorium, the Newton Community Forum will present Dr. Clarence Cook Little as its guest speaker, on the subject "Recent Progress in Cancer Research."

There is probably no one in the entire country who is better qualified to speak authoritatively on this topic than Dr. Little. Throughout his long and distinguished career as educator, pathologist, and leader in race betterment movements, he has been interested in cancer control activities. A graduate and later assistant dean of Harvard College, he became president of the University of Maine in 1922, and in 1925 went to the University of Michigan as president of that institution. He has presided over many associations and conferences on eugenics and has contributed many articles to magazines on genetics, cancer research and social biology. He is now head of the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory and managing director of the American Society for Control of Cancer.

In view of the hesitation felt by some members of the Forum with regard to this subject, it is stated that, although the address will thoroughly cover the facts regarding progress achieved, repellent details will be avoided. In view of this fact and the universal interest in the subject, it is hoped that another representative audience will be present to maintain the remarkably successful record which the Forum has already made in its discussions of social and economic problems.

Following the address, President Kirtley F. Mather will conduct the discussion period in which the speaker will answer questions from the floor. An unusual feature of this session will be the issuance of a questionnaire which will give everyone an opportunity of expressing his views on the work being done by the Forum and the nature of the programs and the type of speakers to be selected next season.

State A. B. C. Overrides Local License Board

Reverses Two Former Decisions—Grants Licenses

Because the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission this week reversed two previous decisions it had made the past year or so, Sandy DiPucchio was successful in his third appeal from the refusal of the Newton License Commission to grant him a license to dispense beer and wine at his lunch room, 97 Elm st., West Newton. In 1934, DiPucchio applied for a common victualler's license and a liquor license. The Newton License Commission granted him the common victualler's license but stated he would not be given the liquor license because there were sufficient lunch rooms dispensing beer in West Newton. Shortly after, DiPucchio applied for a liquor license, was turned down by the local commission and took an appeal to the State A. B. C. The State Board upheld the decision of the Newton License Commission.

Several months later DiPucchio again made application to the Newton Board, this time for a license to sell all alcoholic beverages. Again the local board refused him and again he took an appeal to the State A. B. C. That body for the second time sustained the action of the Newton License Commission.

The Newton License Commission announced that it would not issue a license to DiPucchio, so the liquor permit will have to come direct from the State A. B. C.

Two Platoons For Fire Dept.

The Aldermanic committee on the Mayor's Address met at City Hall on Wednesday night. The committee is composed of Aldermen Melcher, Inches, Akins, Lyon and Walker. Chief Randlett of the Newton Fire Department urged the creation of the two platoon system in the department, as recommended by Mayor Childs in his inaugural address. This would require the appointments of 30 more men and officers. Randlett also recommended that new fire stations be erected at Elliot st., Newton Highlands, and on Washington st. near Felton st., West Newton. The former station would house Ladder 2, and Engine 7 now at Pettee st., Upper Falls. The West Newton station would house Engines 2 and 4 and Ladder 1.

The Playground Commission asked that land be purchased at Nonantum between Allison and Victory Playgrounds to consolidate these two places. A community building at the Hawthorn Playground, Nonantum was also asked for.

Newton V. F. W. 4th Annual Ball

The fourth annual military ball of Eugene Daley Post, V. F. W. will be held tomorrow evening at State Armory, West Newton. The ball committee is headed by John Hickey, chairman, and the program committee by Martin F. Santon, chairman. The grand march at 9 o'clock will be headed by Commander George E. Tufts and "taps" for departed comrades will be sounded at 11.

Aldermen Discuss Removal of Snow From Sidewalks

Alderman Guzzi Argues Long But Ineffectively

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night started at 8 o'clock and adjourned at 10:05. But only 23 minutes of that period were taken up in the open meeting of the Board. A "short recess" lasted 10 minutes. Most of the recess was used by the Claims and Rules Committee discussing two proposed amendments to the city ordinances relating to the removal of snow. These amendments had been offered by Alderman Guzzi at a preceding meeting. One would amend Section 151, which now specifies certain sections of the city where snow must be removed from brick, stone or concrete sidewalks by abutters within 24 hours following the end of a storm. Guzzi moved that this be amended so that this ordinance would apply to all parts of the city. The second amendment affects Section 152, which now permits abutters to throw snow onto streets (with the permission of the Street Commissioner) provided said snow is spread evenly. At the meeting of the Board on Feb. 3 Guzzi asked that this section be amended. He said that in its present form it is a relic of "horse and buggy" days and should be changed to end a menace to automobile traffic. He remarked that the Street Commissioner favors the amendment he offered, which would forbid abutters throwing snow onto highways except that shovelled off sidewalks.

SIDEWALK SNOW REMOVAL

Considerable controversy is being made over the question of the removal of snow from the sidewalks of property owners in the city of Newton. The present city ordinances provide that the snow shall be removed from the public sidewalks by the adjoining property owner within twenty-four hours of a snow storm. Recently a number of cases where snow has not been removed have been brought into court and fines levied upon the responsible party. Alderman Alfred Guzzi would enforce this ordinance. Alderman Cronin, who is chairman of the committee of the aldermen named to consider this subject, differs from his colleague and suggests that the city take over the function of removing snow. Under this plan the tax rate would necessarily have to be increased.

There is, however, an intermediate plan which seems to have considerable merit and which we understand is working satisfactorily in Portland, Maine, and other cities. Under this plan the city takes over the removal of snow from public sidewalks abutting private property and charges the individual property-owner upon his annual tax bill. We understand that the charge thus made is upon hourly basis, although it is possible that a linear basis might be even more satisfactory. Under such a plan the property owner may still take care of his own snow removal, but if he does not do so within a reasonable length of time after a snowstorm the city then does it for him. Furthermore the cost of removing snow which should be borne by the property owner involved is borne entirely by him and not assessed on all residents. We believe there are no legal complications involved in such a procedure as it is somewhat similar to methods once in vogue.

Two advantages of such a plan are plain. First it would provide additional temporary employment for a large number of men and result in a probable decrease in welfare expenditures. Secondly it would provide decent conditions for pedestrians particularly where houses are closed for the winter or vacant, and where at the present time many residents now are content with only clearing their driveways in order to be able to use their automobiles.

THE TVA STANDS

Friends of the New Deal are hailing with great glee the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in upholding the right of the government to produce electric power in competition with private industry. Foes of the New Deal are pointing out that the decision pertains to only a portion of the entire question involved and that later on other questions will be argued as to the rights of the government. The right of governmental ownership of a public utility can hardly be questioned. The question of municipal ownership versus private ownership is not an issue. The right of the government to enter into competition with private capital and impair the rights of private capital is a vital matter. In the TVA case the question was as to whether or not the government could sell electric power in competition with private industry where the power involved was surplus from a project which was built for other purposes.

An interesting angle to the TVA question is found in the dissenting report of Justice McReynolds and it seems inevitable that there will be further discussion on the matter. The dissenting report takes notice of the possibility of the government entering into competition with private utilities under the pretext of erecting a dam for war defence, navigation, flood control, and other purposes. It is conceivable that the government can initiate a project for such purpose with the full intent of deriving electric power. We have not the slightest quarrel with endeavors to supply electric power at the lowest cost to the consumer but at the same time we cannot overlook the fact that for a generation or two, billions of dollars of private capital have been poured into this industry and that banks, insurance companies, and many individuals will be seriously affected by the destruction or impairment of the rights of this private capital. The TVA decision means a great deal but the entire question is far from settled.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Tomorrow is George Washington's birthday. As we recall the many anecdotes and legends which are related about the "father of our country" there is one point which Mayor Edwin O. Childs noted the other evening in an address which is worthy of reflection. In contrasting Abraham Lincoln and Washington he expressed the thought that Lincoln typified the boy who had nothing to start with becoming a national leader, and that Washington was a true example of the possibility of a wealthy leader being a true patriot.

We agree with the judge who ruled that a wooden leg does not bar a man from operating an automobile. It's wooden heads that cause much of the trouble.—(McPherson, Kansas, Republican).

Pipe smokers are said to have better dispositions than other men. Perhaps it seems that way because the man with a pipe in his mouth finds it difficult to argue himself into a fighting frame of mind.

The year 1936 may be a break for the girls but to the pedestrian it is just another leap year.

Newton has come in for a fair share of the attention of Jack Frost in his "Fancy This" column in the Boston Herald recently. A few weeks ago he described a maple tree in the Newton Cemetery which is regarded as masquerading as a poplar tree. How the tree came to be in the Newton Cemetery and further details regarding it have come to us in the following letter from Miss Mary E. Hyde of Newton Highlands, daughter of the late ex-Mayor J. F. C. Hyde, who was responsible for saving it for Newton:

NEWTON'S CURIOUS TREE
In the Boston Evening Transcript of Aug. 21, 1920, an article entitled "A Maple Masquerading as a Poplar" came to my notice and now in the Boston Herald of Feb. 6, 1936, is a picture of that same tree.

The article speaks of this tree as "one of the curiosities of the Arnold Arboretum which rejoices the hearts of horticulturists." The said article says the parent tree was found in the Newton Cemetery in 1855.

All this is true, but before 1855, where was this freak of nature? How came this peculiar Acer Saccharinum or Sugar Maple to be in the Newton Cemetery? Newtonites should be very proud of this singular tree which stands on the knoll south of the main gate of the beautiful cemetery. How many of you have noted it since 1855? There it stands, thanks to our first Mayor, J. F. C. Hyde. He was a horticulturist and a man who always kept his eyes open to Nature. He had watched that tree for years growing in a schoolhouse yard in Newtonville.

One day while driving with his wife on Walnut st. in Newtonville, as they approached the Claffin Schoolhouse, he saw workmen digging up that tree from the school yard.

Reining in his horse, he jumped over the fence and asked, "Whose men are you?" and "What are you doing to that tree?"

They answered, "We are Arnold Arboretum men and we are removing this tree, for your Mayor has sold it to Harvard University."

Mr. Hyde said, "As a citizen of Newton, I forbid you to lift another shovel of dirt until I see the Mayor."

They obeyed, and Mr. Hyde started for the Mayor. Mr. Hyde never minced matters, if you remember, finding him, he said, "Mayor, do you know what you have done in selling that tree?"

"No, I didn't know there was anything particular about that tree. Is there?"

"Is there?" Mr. Hyde said. "Why, there isn't another such tree in the world! I have watched it grow for years and was waiting until it was old enough to be moved."

The Mayor said, "We were going to enlarge Claffin Schoolhouse and the tree was in our way; the Arboretum wanted it, and I sold it."

"Of course they wanted it; they know its worth," Mr. Hyde said, "but you can't deliver it. That tree shall never leave Newton."

The Mayor said, "What shall I do about it? Where shall we put the tree?"

Mr. Hyde replied, "We will carry the tree right up to the Cemetery, where all the people of Newton can see it."

"What about the Arboretum?"

Mr. Hyde suggested that they be allowed to take cuttings from that tree.

So the Sugar Maple which grows like a Lombardy Poplar (whose branches grow upright instead of spreading) was taken to our beautiful Cemetery to grow on the knoll.

Many cuttings were taken from the tree for the Arboretum. The tree then was about three inches in diameter and perhaps twenty feet tall. They were also given some other trees by Mr. Ross, the superintendent of our Cemetery.

After a few years, Mr. Hyde bought of the Arboretum one of their young trees for his lawn, and it still stands on Mrs. P. B. Hayward's lawn at 1547 Centre st. It is peculiar in its growth but not as fastigiated as the parent tree, which is a spontaneous freak of nature.

The Arboretum named their new maple (which is much like the original tree) Acer Saccharinum monumentale, and they are proud of it as a new species.

Newton should be justly proud of this curiosity, for this tree is the first Acer monumentale in existence and is known throughout the country by horticulturists.

Yesterday Jack Frost returned to Newton to mention the Newtonville M. E. Church, which was built around the old wooden church that formerly stood there. The story of this feat, of more recent occurrence, is widely known among residents of Newtonville.

Work on the Meadowbrook Road extension in the Oak Hill section of Newton is progressing even under trying weather conditions so that the road will be completed by the middle of April. This road construction is being pushed along rapidly so that there will be no delay in starting the new Oak Hill School and the School Playground.

The city government of Newton appropriated $18,300.00 on February 3, 1936, to be expended for an extension of Meadowbrook Road, running north from Country Club Road in the Oak Hill Village community. This money is to be used "for labor, materials, tools, equipment and transportation for the construction, drains, grading and layout out of Meadowbrook Road in Oak Hill Village." At the same time an additional $1,700.00 was appropriated for a drain outlet for Meadowbrook Road on what will be known as The Thoroughfare which runs west of the road to Parker Street, Newton Centre.

Rotary Club

Last week at the regular weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club, held at Brae Burn Country Club, Feb. 17th, the address following the luncheon was made by Mr. Frank L. Richardson, Executive Vice-President of the Newton Trust Company. His subject was "Social Credit, Could It Possibly Be Worth Its Cost?"

Social Credit is, according to its advocates, a plan to relieve unemployment and largely increase general purchasing power of the people by and through paying a "National Dividend" to the entire adult population.

In Alberta, Canada, where the experiment is promised by the new government elected on that platform, the "dividend" promised is $25 per month per person. It is stated that the payment of such a "dividend" based on the "National Resources" would greatly increase demands for goods of all kinds and that unemployment would be quickly absorbed in the effort to meet this demand. It is emphatically urged that "inflation" would not result because the "just price" to be fixed for all goods sold would prevent any rise in prices.

His conclusion stated that he had found it difficult to ascertain from the book issued by the "New Economics Press" entitled "From Debt to Prosperity, The Proposals of Social Credit" where, if there was to be no inflation, the money was coming from which would meet the cost of the "National Dividend" amounting in this country, he said, at the same rate as promised in Alberta to $2,000,000,000 per month, or $24,000,000,000 plus a year.

Are we ready to approve the idea of trying to fix prices of everything bought and sold, especially by the government? Such a thing would be impossible except through an absolute dictatorship. An army of "cost ascertainers" and price fixers would overwhelm industry. Labor would have its "just price" fixed together with the price of all goods.

Let us clearly comprehend, not merely that this Utopian Scheme for "National Dividends based on the National Wealth" would bring to every one twenty-five dollars a month from "Real Credit figures," but that the attempt would, if carried out, mean the end of capitalism in this country.

Next week the Rotary Club will hear Stuart MacMillan, Boston lawyer, representing the National Economy League, who will speak on "The Pros and Cons of the Townsend Plan."

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

The annual meeting of the Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution was held Wednesday, Feb. 12th, at the home of Mrs. John G. Goding, 611 Centre st., Newton.

The business meeting with annual reports was presided over by the regent, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge. The following officers for the year 1935-36 were unanimously elected: Regent, Mrs. Lela B. Goodridge; vice regent, Mrs. Gertrude H. Whiting; sec. regent, Mrs. Susan A. Sampson; cor. secretary, Mrs. Mary C. Curtin; assistant cor. secretary, Mrs. Alice W. Moran; treasurer, Miss A. Gertrude Essing; historian, Mrs. Adelaide M. Goding; auditor, Mrs. Ellen P. Harris; councillors, Mrs. Genevieve Crawford, Mrs. Florence Le Buff, Mrs. Mabel Hinkle.

Luncheon was served at 12:30 and an afternoon of cards followed.

There are some noble specimens of merchants, although we have had in Newton a merchant who had a light weight for certain customers and who taught his clerks to practice deceit. J. D. VanDuzee said the merchants of Boston and Newton were men of whom we might well be proud. We get goods at fabulously low prices; we know we could some years ago. He said we must always do some grumbling but there is corruption in social and political life as well as in mercantile life.

At the meeting of the West Newton Lyceum on Monday night the question for the evening's debate was—Resolved "That the social and business life of the present day is false and corrupt." J. W. Carter opened the discussion. He said that as a boy he had wondered why one person should prosper in business, when another similarly situated would hardly exist in a business point of view. Where was this motive power? In laudation of the evening's debate was the question. It is in amazing wealth with the merchant; get it honestly if he can, but get it somehow. The temptations in mercantile life are great in these days of short weight, adulteration, short weight and measure, no wonder the merchant is considered inferior to men in other professions of life.

Asahel Wheeler got nervous hearing his fellow tradesmen traduced. He said if you educate a boy to be honest, no matter what his profession in life is, he will make an honest man. He said we may have treachery in all walks of life. Not even the clergy are exempt. Some of them will preach a little, then tell a story and then only give us a half hour of real talk when we want 45 minutes to the sermon every Sunday.

J. D. VanDuzee said the merchants of Boston and Newton were men of whom we might well be proud. We get goods at fabulously low prices; we know we could some years ago. He said we must always do some grumbling but there is corruption in social and political life as well as in mercantile life.

At the meeting of the West Newton Lyceum on Monday night the question for the evening's debate was—Resolved "That the social and business life of the present day is false and corrupt." J. W. Carter opened the discussion. He said that as a boy he had wondered why one person should prosper in business, when another similarly situated would hardly exist in a business point of view. Where was this motive power? In laudation of the evening's debate was the question. It is in amazing wealth with the merchant; get it honestly if he can, but get it somehow. The temptations in mercantile life are great in these days of short weight, adulteration, short weight and measure, no wonder the merchant is considered inferior to men in other professions of life.

Asahel Wheeler got nervous hearing his fellow tradesmen traduced. He said if you educate a boy to be honest, no matter what his profession in life is, he will make an honest man. He said we may have treachery in all walks of life. Not even the clergy are exempt. Some of them will preach a little, then tell a story and then only give us a half hour of real talk when we want 45 minutes to the sermon every Sunday.

Nathaniel T. Allen was quite sure there are some noble specimens of merchants, although we have had in Newton a merchant who had a light weight for certain customers and who taught his clerks to practice deceit. 60 YEARS AGO

A very interesting meeting of the Elliot Memorial Association was held at City Hall on Thursday evening, February 22. Present were many of the prominent gentlemen and ladies of Newton who are interested in the erection of a suitable memorial to John Elliot, and addresses on the occasion were calculated to arouse all the enthusiasm necessary for the successful carrying out of the project. Ex-Alderman G. D. Gilman presided and S. E. Decker acted as secretary. The president of the evening called on Rev. I. N. Tarbox who read a very exhaustive paper on the life and Christian work of Elliot as a missionary. He pictured him as a muscular Christian rather than the timid, retiring man he is generally supposed to have been.

Rev. W. M. Lisle spoke of Elliot as a missionary and prefaced his remarks by saying he would prefer preaching to an audience of Asiatic heathen than to addressing those before him. He dwelt on the courage, perseverance and deep religious fervor of the man through whose efforts over 1100 Indians had been converted to Christianity.

Two designs for the monument were presented to the meeting. The design submitted by Henry G. Preston (the architect), is Gothic and consists of a base 8 feet square upon which is placed the pedestal, from which rises a round column with base and cap. Upon each of the four sides of the pedestal are panels covered by a canopy. These panels are designed to receive the name and other inscriptions. The entire height of the monument is 24 feet; to be executed in granite. (The memorial as planned was never erected. Ed.)

Kiwanis Club

A regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held Tuesday noon at the Charles River Country Club.

Included among incidental matters was a report of finances for the year 1935, showing a healthy condition in this respect.

The advisability of giving some study to adequacy of school buildings in the city was given consideration and thereafter a committee was appointed to make a survey, subsequently reporting findings to the club.

Seven new members were formally inducted, and for their benefit, as well as older members of the club, there was observed: "He who comes into Kiwanis to see what he can get, gets nothing; he who comes into Kiwanis to give, receives abundantly."

The important part of the meeting was given over to a talk by Brother Fabian of the Working Boys' Home. At the outset of his remarks, Brother Fabian indicated the name was a misnomer, that the school had no working boys but students, principally orphans, living a wholesome, normal life. There are in the school at the present time about 175 boys, all in excellent physical condition and mentally alert. The school has been in existence a number of years and Brother Fabian has devoted 30 years of his life here in his work for underprivileged children. In many cases there is no tuition charge at all and the maximum came as a surprise to Brother Fabian's listeners because of its smallness. The principal income of the school is derived from the sale of a paper published by the school, entitled "The Working Boy," which is sent to the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows:

Three certain parcels of land in that part of Newton called Newton Centre and shown as lots A, B, and C on Plan Newton Centre, Mass., Everett M. Brooks, Civil Eng., dated Oct. 19, 1933 to be recorded herewith. Said parcels are to be gathered bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at the extreme northeasterly corner of the premises in the southwest corner of Clark St. at land of Wilde; thence running SOUTHWESTERLY by land of Wilde two hundred forty-six and 5/10 (246.5) feet to land of Vachon; thence running NORTHEASTERLY by land of Vachon one hundred sixty-two and 49/100 (162.49) feet to land of Keyes; thence running in a general NORTHEASTLY direction by land of Keyes two hundred forty-four and 78/100 (244.78) feet to Cloverdale Rd.; thence NORTHEASTERLY by Cloverdale Rd. fifty-three and 27/100 (53.27) feet to a point of curvature; thence by a curve in a NORTHEASTERLY and EASTERLY direction from the intersection of Cloverdale Rd. and Clark St. twenty-five and 28/100 (25.28) feet to Clark St.; thence in a SOUTHEASTLY direction by said Clark St. sixty-six and 98/100 (66.98) feet to land of Cutler one hundred fifty (150) feet to a corner; thence SOUTHEASTERLY by land of Cutler one hundred fifty (150) feet to the southeasterly side of Clark St.; thence SOUTHEASTERLY by Clark St. one hundred (100) feet to the point of beginning. For my title see deed of John B. Cunningham, Receiver of Boston Continental National Bank to me dated May 16, 1935, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds Book 5719, Page 465.

Including in this mortgage all oil burners, electric refrigerators, furnaces, heaters, ranges, laundry, kitchen and gas stoves, and all other fixtures, screens, screen doors, window shades, outside windows, storm doors, awnings, and hardy shrubs and all other fixtures of whatever kind or nature contained in said building or now on or belonging to said premises; or that may hereafter be placed thereon prior to full payment and discharge of this mortgage.

The premises shall be subject to all unpaid taxes, municipal assessments and betterments, and outstanding tax titles, if any.

FIVE HUNDRED ($500) dollars will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale. Other terms will be stated at sale.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON TRACKSTERS
FAVORED AT ANDOVER

Newton High's track warriors were cheered by their weekly scalp last week when a blizzard forced the postponement of a scheduled dual meet with Medford on Friday. With this meet off the list, probably for the whole season, Coach Enoch at once figured out the Andover Academy interscholastic games, to be held tomorrow at Andover.

While Newton won the Andover crown in 1931, the year Milton Green was captain, Orange and Black teams seldom do as well on the Andover cinders as elsewhere on the boards. Last year, with a fair chance of the title, Newton's hopes blew up early when Warren Wittens was segregated from the squad at the last minute with a mild case of measles. Tomorrow, with the same Wittens flying high, Newton is chosen almost unanimously as the favorite to win the meet.

Lowell, Malden, Strong

Everett High will be without Frank MacLeone, the state middle-distance ace having gone to the national interscholastic games in New York. Bud Wittens got a bid to the same meet, but decided to stay with the team. Everett's loss will be a gain for Lowell and Malden, strong teams in their own right. Newton's Mike Regan, who ran that sparkling half-mile in the relay carnival last week, has been lost to the team until the week of the Bowdoin Interscholastics, and his ineffectuality again leaves the team with little strength in the long runs.

Coach Enoch figures that Malden will take both the 600 and 1000-yard runs, and may score well with their shot-putter, Reardon, who has lately become eligible. Boston English is another strong team, and Brookline will also make a determined bid. Lowell High, with sufficient dual meet strength to tie Newton at 38½-all, is the dark horse, and will profit from having run on the academy dirt track early in the season.

Newtonians Strong in Field Events

Having scored a smashing victory in the Northeastern Interscholastics, Newton carries considerable added punch in the Andover meet, since there will be a broad jump, and Bud Huling and Paul Forte are almost certain point-to-pointers in that event. Wittens and Huling are due for points in the hurdles, and Paul Forte is capable of two or three points in the dash.

Much will depend on the 300-yard dash and the relay. Wittens could well have been called lucky last year to be scratched on account of his measles, since Leon Rogers of Brookline, was raked with spikes at the first turn in that event, which is run without staggered lanes, and with great risk to the competitors. However, the Newton two-lap relay, running considerably slower than its best in the recent relay carnival, was many steps ahead of the next best quartet, and can be depended on for their all-important points. Nat Heard will take second or third if he reaches 47 ft. in the shot, and 5 ft. 7 in. in the discus, and will be good enough to put a Newtonian into the high jump scoring. All in all, it looks like a great day for Newton at Andover.

NEWTON SIX SURPRISES
ARLINGTON TO WIN 3-2

The Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey league had its tenth and last get-together of the 1935-36 season last Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden, in which Newton High somewhat recovered its slipping prestige by defeating Arlington 3-2. The league champion, Stoneham, defeated Melrose in the other first division game, with the result that Melrose and Arlington remained tied for second in the league ladder.

Second division games last week saw Cambridge Latin submerge Belmont 9-1 and Rindge Tech defeat Medford 3-2. Several aspects of the Cambridge victory were important. Ray Chaisson set a league record for individual brilliance by scoring five goals and three assists, including three solo goals. Cambridge capitalized on Belmont's weakness to run their ten-game total goals to thirty-eight, six better than the league champion's total.

Paul Brown Great For Newton
All the scoring in the surprising upset of Arlington by Newton came in the first two periods. Paul Brown, slim junior center on the second line, made the first two goals unassisted. Owen scored for Arlington at 2:10 in the first period on a pass from Chipman. Brown tied the count on a penalty shot at 5:45, then made an unassisted goal to give Newton the lead at 7:12. Arlington again got in the game on a score by the all-scholastic wing, Bob Mee, assisted by Owen, after 24 seconds in the second period. The deciding goal came at 3:02, Johnny Harrington beat

NEWTON FIVE ENDS
SEASON—TWO LOSES

The Newton High basketball team ended its season last week Friday with a 32-14 victory over Brookline High at the latter's gym. Coach Simmons 1936 squad compiled the best record of any Newton five since the sport was re-established some eight or nine years ago. The team won eleven out of thirteen contests and ran up a string of nine consecutive victories before succumbing to Rindge Tech in the return engagement at the latter's court. The second defeat was administered by Cambridge Latin on the Newton floor a week ago Tuesday. After a floundering start the Cantab five finally found itself and has won consistently to become a possible entrant in the annual Tech tourney.

Newton's defeats by Rindge and Cambridge Latin ruined the orange and black's chances of winning the Suburban league title. The honors will go to Cambridge Latin provided they can defeat Rindge tomorrow night in the second meeting between the two schools. Should Rindge Tech upset the dope there will be a three-way tie with Newton, Cambridge Latin and Rindge, each with a record of four wins and two losses. Brookline High failed to win any of its six league contests and was out of the running when the season was half completed.

Captain Al Smith led the Newton five throughout the season and was high scorer in all but a few games. He also led the Suburban league with a total of eighty-five points in the six contests. Against Brookline last week Smith tallied 15 points to outscore the entire Brookline team.

The present league standing is:

	Won	Lost	Pts.
Camb. Latin	4	1	8
NEWTON	4	2	8
Rindge Tech	3	2	6

ing on a pass from Howie Milner. Milner paired with Ernie MacLeod on defense through the whole game, and made the going increasingly difficult for the Arlington forwards.

The final game, perhaps the best that the Newtonians produced all season, was the high point of their comeback. Since losing to Cambridge Latin in the last game of the regular series, and outlasting the same team in a playoff match, Newton has lost to Stoneham 3-0, tied Melrose 1-1, and defeated Arlington 3-2. With such a finish for the season, Doctor Martin need not be apologetic.

The system adopted this year makes Cambridge, the top team of the second division, look much better in the season's records than Newton. But the fact that Newton's opponents in the last three games were the first three teams in the league, rather than the last, course account for this situation. However, Newton is definitely at the tail end of the list in scoring, having made only 21 goals in ten games as against 22 and 25 for Rindge and Medford, sixth and seventh in the standing.

All-Star Games To-morrow

Tomorrow afternoon at the Boston Garden two all-star games will be played between the pick of the Greater Boston talent and selected Bay State League players. Ernie MacLeod has been chosen on the first team, and Bill Daniels and John Blodgett on the second G. B. I. Six Doctor Martin, veteran Newton coach, has charge of the second team.

Original plans called for a game between the league all-stars and some leading Canadian school. The Bay State League, led by Waltham and Needham, is much younger than the Greater Boston circuit, but has improved so rapidly that games between representatives of the two leagues are now welcomed as a natural match. In one of the rare meetings between individual teams of the two leagues played this season, Newton defeated Framingham, then in second place, by 5-0.

Recent Engagements

At a tea given in their home recently, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Savage of Newton Centre announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth June, to Mr. John Sandys Coerne of Brookline. Miss Savage received her education in the Newton High School, the Winwood School on Long Island, the Brimmer School in Boston and Radcliffe College. She also studied music in the Shattuck School in Boston. Mr. Coerne is the son of Mrs. Adele Turton Coerne of Brookline, and the late Dr. Louis Adolphe Coerne, educator and composer; the first to receive the degree of Ph.D. in music from Harvard University. John Sandys Coerne was born in Copenhagen, Denmark. He was educated in this country, attending the Brookline High School, the Huntington School in Boston, specializing in advertising at Boston University. At present he is associated with the John P. Squire Company.

Mr. and Mrs. William James Davidson of Aspen Ave., Auburndale announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Redmond Davidson, to Samuel Loring Ayers, Jr., of Corning, New York, a tea on last Saturday afternoon. Miss Davidson attended the Beaver Country Day and Garland Schools. Mr. Ayers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Loring Ayers of Cohasset. He attended Derby Academy and the Vesper George School of Art.

THRONGS AT "OPEN HOUSE"

Last Saturday's "Open House" at the local Edison Shops in Newton and Newton Centre, signaling the company's 50th anniversary month, proved a powerful magnet to local customers of the electric utility company. An all-day program, from nine a. m. to nine p. m., featured lecture demonstrations of the complete line of modern home appliances on display at the shop.

Attendance prizes were awarded, after a drawing at closing time, as follows:

At the Newton Shop, Mrs. Marion Fried, 50 Cook st., Newton, an electric food mixer; Mrs. A. W. Colson, 92 Madison Ave., Newtonville, an electric sandwich toaster set; Katherine Donnelly, 231 Jackson rd., Newton, an electric casserole.

At the Newton Centre Shop, Hazel Kiesler, 14 Parker Ave., Newton Centre, an electric food mixer; Helen D. Stuart, 561 Ward st., Newton Centre, an electric sandwich toaster set; Mrs. G. J. Walsh, 17 Goddard st., Newton Highlands, an electric casserole.

NEWTONVILLE TOWNSEND CLUB

There will be a meeting of the Newtonville Townsend Club at its headquarters, 283 Walnut st., Newtonville, on Friday evening, Feb. 21st. Due to the postponement of the meeting last Friday because of the storm, the same program will be carried out as planned for last Friday. The speaker will be Mr. George I. Smith, followed by a question period, and refreshments will be served by the entertainment committee under the direction of Mrs. Jas. MacDonald.

Recent Weddings

SOULE—TYLEE

Miss Dorothy Tylee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton W. Tylee, was married to Rufus Albertson Soule, 3rd, on Saturday evening, February fifteenth at eight o'clock, in the home of her parents, 53 Bigelow rd., West Newton. Rev. Randolph S. Merrill performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with old lace and carried gardenias and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margery Tylee, who wore a dress of flowered taffeta in orchid and yellow and carried a bouquet of acacia and orchid sweet peas. Miss Marcia Ann Means, cousin of the groom, of Portland, Maine was the flower girl. She wore yellow crepe de chine and carried an old fashioned bouquet of orchid sweet peas and yellow roses.

Howard C. Soule, brother of the groom, of New Bedford, was the best man. The ushers were Clinton W. Tylee, Jr., brother of the bride, of West Newton, and Winslow R. Howland, brother-in-law of the groom, of Auburndale.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The couple were assisted in receiving by the mother of the bride, the mother of the groom and the bridesmaid.

The home was decorated with smilax, woodwardias, asparagus fern and spring flowers. Music was furnished by a quartet consisting of two violins, 'cello and viola.

On their return from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Soule will reside at 163 Mayfield st., Worcester.

The bride is a graduate of the Katharine Gibbs School. The groom is a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and of Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he received his master's degree in electrical engineering.

LETTENEY—DEWITT

Dr. and Mrs. William Price deWitt of Auburndale announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Marion deWitt, to Russell Lettoney, on Saturday morning, February 15. Mr. and Mrs. Lettoney left after the wedding breakfast on a wedding trip to Florida. The bride is a graduate of Wheaton College and the groom of Dartmouth. He is a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

Want Old Coal Sheds Removed

Alderman Atkins of Ward 1 has renewed his effort to compel the removal of the old buildings on Washington street, Newton, opposite the property of Our Lady's Church parish. The buildings were used for

pany, were sold some years ago to the Metropolitan Coal Company and have not been used for several years for business purposes. They include a large coal shed and a combination burn and tenement building. The tenement is occupied. Atkins wrote Building Commissioner Hagemann suggesting that if the owners will not raze

the structures, that Hagemann condemn the buildings and force their removal. Atkins also stated that he will endeavor to have the city purchase the property as a public park and parking area. The latter plan has been urged a number of times during the past 20 years.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

State Mid-Winter Meeting

The Mid-Winter Meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at Hotel Bradford, 275 Tremont street, Boston, on Thursday, February 27th, opening at 10:30 a. m., and continuing through the afternoon. The morning will be in charge of Mrs. Arthur C. Sennert, State chairman of Legislation, who will present Miss Mary Ward, Commissioner of Immigration of the Port of Boston. Miss Ward will speak in favor of the Kerr Bill, a Federal measure for the Deportation of Criminal Aliens; and Henry Ward, of the Immigration Restriction League of Boston, will speak against the bill. This bill has been recommended by the State Federation for study, together with a group of Crime Control bills, including the Police Training-School bill. A speaker for this bill will be announced later.

The question of Biennial Sessions will be voted upon by delegates. Representative Gustave Everberg, of Woburn, will present the arguments for the advisability of amending the Constitution of the Commonwealth to provide for Biennial Sessions; and Representative Richard Comerford, of Leominster, will speak against the amendment.

The afternoon session, which will open at 2 o'clock, has been arranged by the president, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker and her Council. The main speaker will be Mr. George E. Sokolsky, whose subject will be "Democracy Survives". Since his return to the United States, after three years spent in the Far East, Mr. Sokolsky has been studying the economic and political situation in this country in relation to the rest of the world, and his articles have appeared in many magazines. He has visited every part of the country and nearly every State.

New clubs will be admitted to the Federation at this meeting. There will be a registration fee of 50 cents for all who attend.

Mrs. Edgar B. Richardson announces that there will be no Radio broadcast over Station WBZ, on Saturday, February 22nd.

"The Bishop Misbehaves"
To Be Given

"The Anburdale Woman's Club 'Dramatic Day' will be observed on the evening of February 25th, at 8:15 o'clock. The Club takes pleasure in presenting at this time the Village Players in "The Bishop Misbehaves." The cast includes two local players, Miss Helen Brown and Mr. Lowell MacNutt. The play will be given in the Anburdale Club House, and guest tickets will be 50 cents.

Open Meeting
Will Present
National Events

Citizenship Day will be observed by the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, February 28th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Second Church, West Newton. Mrs. Carl Thomas, chairman of Citizenship Training and Civil Service, will present Mr. C. Dennert. Mr. Dennert's subject is "Current Issues in State and National Life." He is head of the National Economy League of Massachusetts, and he is well equipped to help his hearers clarify problems confronting them today.

This meeting will be open to the public without charge. Mrs. John S. Franklin, 45 Islington road, Anburdale, is to be hostess to the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Monday, February 24th, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Ethel Leach is to be the assisting hostess. Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield is to read a paper on "Ghent," and Mrs. Edwin Ward is to present her paper on "Bruges."

The Junior Group of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold a Bridge Party on Tuesday, February 25th, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Miss Ruth Worcester, 177 Temple street, West Newton. Tickets may be secured from Club members. A Class in Extemporaneous Speaking was started on Wednesday evening, February 19th, at 7:30 p. m., being held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Dockstader, 303 Highland avenue, West Newton, and it will meet every Wednesday evening at the same place. Preference in membership in this Class will be given to the new members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club.

Comedy-Drama
To Be Program

"The Sport of Queens," a comedy-drama of the present day, will be the reading by Hortense Greedy Ballback, on Thursday, February 27th, at 2 p. m., before the Newton Community Club at the Bigelow School, at 2 p. m.

The theme of this play, written for Mrs. Ballback, by Gladys Black Wilcox, is found in the line, "Queens who loved make the stage a screen; those who merely ruled make the dust." Mrs. Ballback, a fellow townsman, is a platform artist, whose dramatic interpretations are convincing and artistic.

The next lecture at the Art Museum, given by Mrs. Sayward, will be on March 19th. The subject will be Lehmann, that they are planning to attend. The following lecture will be held on April 16th, and the subject will be "Treasures of the Museum."

Poetry To Be Topic

The third in the series of Literature Afternoons being sponsored by the Education committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held on February 24th, at 2:30 o'clock, when Mrs. J. Mace Andrews, of 67 Clyde street, again will open her home for the group. It was planned that several of these meetings should be under the leadership of past presidents of the Club, and for her afternoon, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden has chosen the topic of "Poetry." Club members and their friends are invited. A social half hour and tea will follow the program.

Those who have not obtained the Club Cook Books may do so by communicating with Mrs. Howard C. Thomas. The Cook Books are highly recommended also for gifts, and will be on sale at Club meetings while the supply lasts.

A Wealth of Interesting Events

An attractive offering of the week is that announced by the Dramatics committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club in an Open House to Club members, to be held in the Reception Room of the Club House on Wednesday, February 26th, at 2:30 p. m., for a "Discussion of Current Plays," and tea will be served.

Another worthwhile event is that sponsored by the Public Health committee, in a "Trek Through the Christian Science Publishing House" on Thursday, February 27th. Those who are interested to visit this beautiful and unusual building, with its furnishings gathered from all parts of the world, should communicate with a member of the committee.

Still keeping informed upon the trend of events, Club members will hear Dr. Samuel Macaulay Lindsay in his lecture on World Affairs at the Club House, on Monday, the 24th, at 8 p. m.

A feature of attraction to all who find intrigue in old Colonial days and ways—and who does not?—is the second lecture in the series arranged by the Antique committee of the Club. Reverend Lawrence Barber, of Arlington, will speak on "Early New England Clocks and Their Makers," on Friday, the 28th, at 2:30 p. m. An added attraction for this afternoon is a "China Dog Show" open to Club members, in which prizes will be awarded.

And the final attraction of the month is the Leap Year Dinner Dance, sponsored by the One Hundred Club, to be held at the Club House on the 29th. Particulars may be obtained by telephoning Mrs. William A. Finn, Centre Newton 3845.

Art Opportunities

Two interesting Art Meetings are scheduled for the clubwomen who find pleasure in these studies. Sponsored by the State Federation, the Art chairman, Mrs. Herbert Stephens has arranged a series of lectures at the Museum of Fine Arts. These are held on Wednesdays in the Galleries, from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. The tickets for the series are $1.00, or single tickets may be obtained for 35 cents. All of these funds will go to the Permanent Art Scholarship Fund.

The first is to be held on Wednesday, February 26th, the subject being "Contemporary Art," and the lecturer Mr. Plaut.

An oil painting will be given as a prize to the Art chairman or club president whose members or friends take the largest number of tickets in proportion to the number of members in the club. Credit will be given also toward the Penny Art prizes and Directors' prizes for the largest number of tickets taken in a club or district in proportion to the membership.

On March 4th, the Twelfth District offers an Art Conference to which all clubwomen of the district are cordially invited. The Needham New Century Club will be hostess for this all-day event, to be held in the Baptist Church, on Great Plain avenue, opening at 10 a. m., and continuing until 3:30 p. m. There will be many speakers on various subjects worth becoming informed upon.

Luncheon tickets should be ordered at once, at 60 cents each, from Mrs. Walter Goodwin, 394 Webster street, Needham.

A small oil painting will be given by Mrs. Stephens, State Art chairman, as a prize to the club, other than the Hostess Club, having the largest attendance, in proportion to its membership.

The regular Executive Board Meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held on Monday, February 24th, at 10 a. m., in the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

On February 24th the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. Robert Clark and Miss Thalia Clark of 73 Erie avenue. Miss Marion White will have as her subject "Poetry." The Work committee for 1936-1937 will begin making plans for next year at this time.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Royal Miniatures," a program of living pictures, was presented by the Drama committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club February 11th to a large audience which enjoyed it thoroughly.

The jeweled shutters of the beautiful gold frame were opened and closed by Miss Priscilla Woodward and Miss Martha Paul, as the lovely "Royal Ladies" were shown.

These included Queen Elizabeth, by Mrs. Howard C. Thomas; Mary, Queen of Scots, Mrs. C. Edgar Thynne; Baby Stuart, Little Joan Grammer; Catherine of Russia, Mrs. Wallace Jones; Mme. de Pompadour, Mrs. Richard Moerschner; Marie Antoinette, Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler; Marie Therese, Mrs. Roger Wheeler; Louise of Prussia, Mrs. John R. Clark; and Mary, Queen Mother of England, Mrs. Lewis Moore.

Mrs. James A. Moyer played piano selections of the period of each picture and she gave also a short and most instructive explanation of the music she played.

Mrs. Edwin P. McGill gave a brief historical description of each picture. Costumes and stage effects were under the direction of Mrs. Percy L. Woodward and Mrs. Charles H. Abrams, Jr.

This beautiful presentation is offered by the Drama committee, of which Mrs. Edwin P. McGill will be glad to give information, as an "Exchange Program" to other women's clubs.

Tea was served by Mrs. Hugh A. McCrea and Mrs. Frank L. Rogers.

A splendid Exhibition of Photography, by J. Merton Beebe, was shown in the gallery.

Anburdale Review Club

Miss Alice Dike was hostess for the Review Club on Tuesday, February 11th. This was another day of "Biography" as the program, three most interesting papers being given.

Mrs. Harold Knowlton gave the life of Luther Burbank as related in "Harvest of the Years," a story of his wonderful experiments and their results, which she told in a very entertaining way.

Mrs. Thomas E. Young presented a fine review of the "Life of Dean Briggs, of Harvard."

Mrs. Eugene U. Ufford reviewed "From Immigrant to Inventor," by Pupin, this story of a boy who came to America an immigrant, with but five cents in his pocket, worked his way through college, and became an inventor and honored scientist. Among these important inventions are the x-ray, electric tuner for radio; ground wire and Pupin coil for the Telephone.

Mrs. Harold W. Knowlton, 32 Hancock street, will be hostess for the Review Club on Tuesday, February 25th, at 10 a. m. Reviews of the following books will be the program: "Up the River from Bloomsbury," by George Arliss, to be reviewed by Mrs. Albert Palmateer; "My own story," by Marie Dressler, by Mrs. C. A. Hutchinson; and "Vincent van Gogh," by Mrs. Elbridge A. Minard.

Newton Community Club

The February 13th meeting of the Newton Community Club was held at the Hunnewell Club, as Underwood School Hall, the accustomed meeting place, was undergoing repairs.

Only One Low Priced Car is FIRST in Everything That Counts

...TERRAPLANE

JUST COMPARE

THIS with THIS

Terraplane alone among all popular low priced cars gives you this:

● Full 115-inch wheelbase.

● 195 inches over-all length.

● Most power—88 or 100 horsepower—with freedom from vibration at all speeds.

● Body all of steel, with seamless roof of solid steel.

● Most inside room—145 cubic feet—more leg and shoulder room, and widest rear seat.

● Completely new style—best insurance of the investment value of your car.

● The only rear opening baggage and tire compartment on 5 and 6-passenger models that can be had in any low priced car without extra cost. Spare tire lies flat inside.

● Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for), two braking systems operating automatically from one brake pedal. And a third braking system from the easiest operating parking brake in the world.

● Extra deep "V-type" windshield—for added beauty and wider vision.

In every other popular low priced car this is what you get:

● 2 to 6 inches less wheelbase.

● 5 to 12½ inches less over-all length.

● 3 to 18 less horsepower than Terraplane's 88—and not nearly as smooth.

● Body only partly of steel—or steel body with "soft-top."

● Less inside room—less shoulder and leg room—narrower rear seats.

● 1935 styling, changed only in details. Far more likely to be out of date by 1937.

● No rear opening baggage and tire compartment, except in cars where trunk models are available—at considerable extra cost. Spare tire mounted outside on all other models.

● Single main braking system—either hydraulic or mechanical—without complete reserve braking system and without Terraplane's type of easy acting parking brakes.

● Nothing like Terraplane's deep "V-type" windshield in any other low priced car.

The list of Terraplane advantages doesn't stop with those listed here. There's greater ruggedness, proved by owner mileages of 125,000, 150,000 and more. Greater economy, too, certified by thousands of sworn owner statements . . . emphasized again just the other day in the Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run when a Terraplane averaged 23.95 officially certified miles per gallon over a tough 352 mile stretch on mountain roads.

And dozens of other features . . . all at a price down with the lowest for the model you want. Come in and see and drive a Terraplane.

Phelps and Clifford H. Walker.

The Nominating Committee was Mr. Donald Dana McKay, chairman, Mrs. George H. Crosbie, Miss Mabel T. Eager, Messrs. Lawrence Allen and Nelson B. Vanderhoof.

Mr. Hutchinson stated that, as a result of a study made of national practice in the policies and work of Chest Budget Committees, the Budget Committee of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., had been expanded to 10 members for 1936, with Mr. Walter R. Amesbury as Chairman.

The new Budget Committee is composed of the following men, as named by the President and approved unanimously by the Board of Directors:

Mr. Walter R. Amesbury, Chairman, Treasurer of Lasell Junior College and of the Waltham Hospital and Director in several banks and corporations; Mr. Albert M. Lyon (re-elected), prominent attorney; Hon. Leverett Saltonstall (re-elected); Mr. Howard M. Biscoe, Vice-President of the Boston & Albany Railroad (re-elected); Mr. Joseph F. Wogan of Newton, in charge of sales for the United Shoe Machinery Corporation; Mr. Roger Preston of Waban, Asst. Treasurer of S. S. Peirce Co.; Mr. Benjamin J. Bowen of West Newton, Traffic Manager of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co. and Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen; Mr. Charles H. Cobb of Newton Centre, President and General Manager of the Filling Equipment Bureau, Inc.; Mr. Charles C. Dasey of Newton Highlands, representative of the Cunard-White Star Line in New England; Mr. Clarence G. McDavitt of Newtonville, Vice-President of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. in charge of personnel.

Mr. Amesbury explained to the Council that the Budget Committee will henceforth take a very active interest in the work of each member agency and that probably each member of his Committee will be asked to "sit in with" one member agency, or two, to learn about its work in full detail.

It was reported at the meeting that the money raised to date for 1936 budgets of the member-agencies, the Newton Community Chest Administrative Fund and the Social Service Index is about $14,000.00 leaving $2,300.00 to go and it is expected that it will be raised within a short time. The amount raised to date represents an 11% increase over that raised in the 1934 campaign and a percent well above the 2 to 3% gain over 1934 figures throughout the country.

Auto Hits Man At Nonantum

Watertown st., Nonantum, was the scene of another accident on Wednesday night when Louis Civetti, 18, of 239 Nevada st., was hit by a car driven by Guy Norris of South Natick. Civetti received slight injuries. Norris said he was blinded by the glare of headlights on an approaching car.

Hearing On Ward Lines March 10

On Tuesday, March 10, at 10:30 a. m. a hearing will be held in Room 370, State House, Boston, on a bill introduced by Mayor Childs and City Solicitor Bartlett which reads as follows:—

"The city of Newton may, in December, nineteen hundred and thirty-six, by vote of its board of aldermen, make a new division of its territory into such number of wards as may be fixed by law. The boundaries of such wards shall be so arranged that the wards shall contain, as nearly as can be ascertained and as may be consistent with well defined limits to each ward, an equal number of voters. The city clerk shall forthwith give written notice to the state secretary of the number and designations of the wards so established, together with an official copy of the description of said wards."

According to this bill the city cannot have more than 7 Wards. Newton had the legal right in 1934, as it has each 10 years, to revise the Ward lines. A plan was proposed by the Board of Aldermen, but strong opposition to dividing villages such as Waban and Newtonville into different Wards, caused the plan to be abandoned. There is no popular demand for revision of the Ward lines.

Newton Man Dies Of Meningitis

John Loughlin of 192 Auburndale ave., Auburndale died at the Newton Hospital on February 24 of spinal meningitis. Loughlin who had been a drug clerk by occupation, was born in Newton 45 years ago, the son of Edward and Mary (Hagedorn) Loughlin. He was taken ill on February 19 and was removed to the hospital the next day. This is the first case of this disease to occur in this city for several years. An unusual number of cases have occurred in the State the past several weeks with persons of middle age and older comprising the victims.

Newton Baptist Pastor Resigns

Rev. Newton A. Merritt, for the past 18 years pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, has submitted his resignation, and it has been accepted. He does not intend to continue in pastoral work. Rev. Mr. Merritt graduated from Yale in 1897 and from Newton Theological Seminary in 1900.

Dr. Little Talks On Cancer At Newton Forum

Says Care Aids In Prevention
Of Disease

"The success of the campaign we are waging against cancer depends in the tolerance, understanding and patience of the public," stated Dr. Clarence Cook Little before the Newton Community Forum at the High School Auditorium last Sunday. Just as entire civilian population will be forced into coming wars, so the war on cancer is of such universal importance that no one is justified in refusing to help.

With this as the high point of his talk, Dr. Little went on to describe the nature of cancer and the research methods being employed to learn more about it. "Last year," said Dr. Little, "cancer killed 140,000 people in this country. Yet the public seems more aroused to the relatively small menace of infantile paralysis than to the more than ten times greater menace of cancer."

"Cancer is unique in that in its early stages it is not a disease in any sense of the word whatever. There is no other disease or condition where the individual intelligence and vigilance of the man or woman pays such large dividends in prevention and cure."

"The investigation of cancer has shifted from the medical profession to the laboratory sciences of biology, chemistry, and physics. Cancer is a manifestation of life just as normal as growth itself. Cancer is a growth, but a peculiar life of growth."

To describe the way in which cancer grows, Dr. Little alluded to the human embryo, which from a minute mass increases in size millions of times to a complete organization at birth with all organs differentiated. "Its rate of growth is a miracle nowhere else equalled. From birth to maturity the rate steadily slows down, and at the adult stage Nature simply replaces worn out with healthy tissue. Cancer is nothing in the world except one or more units of the body that start to grow again with something like the speed and vigor with which we grew when we were a year or two old."

"Not only mankind but all animals and plants may show a cancerous type of growth. Cancer is related to and sometimes arises from the benign moles, warts and wens which are so common. The average number of such growths on our bodies for a audience of the size present here today, is twenty-seven."

"Moles, warts, and wens are forms of tumor which have started to grow and then stopped again. A cancer is a tumor which continues to grow, and as a natural manifestation of growth there is nothing disgusting about it. It kills because it is a disorganized, persistent, uncontrolled form of growth occurring in the body, where a limited rate of growth is the only kind to which the body can adapt itself. Any growth that becomes so vigorous becomes a menace because it takes away from the nourishment of the normal tissue. When a cancer gets large enough the outside of the growing mass gets the food and the normal living tissue on the inside starves to death. The tissue spreads blood poisoning through the body and the person dies of sepsis. Cancer also kills by pressure on a vital organ."

"Because moles and warts or lumps of any kind may develop into cancer, it is important for you to watch your own body and report any change in the growth of any part of the body. Many intelligent people have saved their lives by having such small growths examined for possible cancer (Continued on Page 4)

Newtonville Man Electrocuted

Graham Fulton, 33, of 13 Chesley avenue, Newtonville, was electrocuted Friday afternoon while working on a daylight located on a pole near the skating area at Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands. Shortly before 2:30 Fulton's hands apparently came in contact with a live wire carrying over 1900 volts. He had climbed the pole to assist William Pike, electrical contractor for the city, and had braced himself by placing one leg on a crossbar and the other between a strut near the top of the pole. When he received the shock he fell head down but the foot he had between the strut kept him suspended. Pike had gone to his car nearby to get some tools when the accident occurred. Mrs. H. L. Smith of 293 Lake avenue saw Fulton hanging from the pole. She at once phoned to police and fire headquarters and summoned Dr. Harold Giddings of Berwick road, Newton Centre. Ladder 2 responded to the call. Capt. Turner's direction lowered Fulton's body to the ground and then attempted for 45 minutes to resuscitate the man by the use of an inhalator. Both of Fulton's hands were burned where the wire had contacted. Medical Examiner Gallagher arrived at the scene and officially pronounced the man dead.

Fulton had been employed by the Edison Company for the past 12 years as a lineman. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Marcia S. Fulton; and two small children, Jane and Graham Fulton. His funeral service was held on Monday afternoon at Newton Cemetery chapel.

Fire Ruins Nonantum Family

A fire which started in the home of Alphonse Bertrand, 54 Cook st., Nonantum, early Saturday morning caused Bertrand, his wife and two young children to flee from the house and damaged the building and its contents to the extent of $800. Robert Bertrand, 6, was awakened by smoke and aroused his father. The fire is supposed to have been caused by sparks which smoldered for many hours after water pipes had been thawed out in the house which is a two family residence. It is owned by Carmine Paolo, who resides at 56 Cook st.

Tax Commissioner Long Speaks Here—Sees Need For Broadening of Tax Base

James P. Gallagher Re-Elected President Of Local Chamber Of Commerce

The annual meeting and election of the Newton Chamber of Commerce was held on Wednesday evening at the Brae Burn Club. The officers elected for the coming year are: James P. Gallagher, President; G. Wilbur Thompson 1st Vice President; George J. Martin, 2nd Vice President; Fred D. Bond, 3rd Vice President; William M. Cahill, 4th Vice President; Rupert Thompson, Secretary; Harold F. Young, Treasurer.

Secretary Rupert Thompson in his annual report told of the advantages of the credit bureau of the Chamber and urged better parking facilities in business districts. He chided store owners and their employees for using a large percentage of parking spaces by all-day parking of their own cars. Harold Young gave the treasurer's report, and Mayor Childs commended the Chamber for its efforts in behalf of the city.

The speaker of the evening was Henry F. Long, Tax Commissioner of the Commonwealth. He said that a large percentage of our people are demanding that local, State and Federal governments spend more and more, and yet want to be exempted from paying any taxes themselves. He called attention to the outstanding financial status of this State because it must pay as it goes and cannot have deficits yearly as do other States. He explained the interlocking system of government in Massachusetts whereby towns and cities must bear the costs of county and State governmental activities. Mr. Long stated that the rank and file of people think public expenses and taxes have remote connections, and that they do not appreciate the advantages they are receiving because they are not making direct sacrifices. The long period of prosperity prior to the depression caused people to think less and less of government. Now, we can't look forward to an annual increment of wealth, capital cannot be indefinitely drained of the reserves which industry and frugality built up, and more attention must be given to government and expenditures.

Mr. Long said that education has been the largest item of public expense in Massachusetts and since the depression welfare has also assumed huge proportions. He remarked it is easier for men in elective offices to say "Yes" than "No" when demands for further expenditures are made. The cost of public activities in this State averages $1,100,000 per day. Business men can and have reduced expenses by discharging employees, but most of those so discharged become dependent on public aid. He said the towns of Massachusetts, with few exceptions, are in excellent financial condition and have been careful in their welfare expenditures. The reverse is true of the cities in this State. He complimented Newton for its financial and governmental record, but said this city no longer has the "pot of gold" to draw from that it had in former years; its background of financial resources has changed. He called attention to the fact that Newton and other well governed places in the State will have thrown upon them the burden of assisting cities and towns which have been poorly managed and are in the red. He said too much property has been withdrawn from being taxable by the creation of playgrounds, parking areas and other public places, and there has also been a serious increase in other properties which have been exempted from taxation.

Mr. Long said that this State must try to attract back here manufacturing enterprises by offering inducements as regards taxes. Massachusetts cannot support itself by farming, fishing or summer tourist revenue. He stated that only 20% of the people of this State pay direct taxes and the big majority who do not must have some form of direct taxation placed upon them to make them realize the need of economy in governmental expenditures, and realize that they are paying for public activities. He said that now workers in mills and stores do not know that taxes affect their employment and wages.

Nonantum Men Injured In Falls

Two Nonantum men were taken to the Newton Hospital on Saturday afternoon after they had been injured by falling. Dominic Lupo, 65, slipped on the ice at his yard, 15 Middle st. After treatment by Dr. Amendola, he was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Samuel Lucetti, 48, of 99 West st. fell on an icy sidewalk opposite 148 Pearl st. and injured his knees. He was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance.

Fireman Breaks Wrist In Fall

Capt. Frederick Perkins of Engine 3, Newton Centre broke his left wrist when he fell on an icy surface while at a fire on Saturday afternoon. The fire was at the home of Frank Cohen, 11 Fellsmead rd., Newton Centre and was caused by a short circuit in a lamp. The blaze was confined to the living room of the house.

WE APPEALED TO 10,469 PERSONS FOR HELP — 7,482 RESPONDED . . 2,987 FORGOT

REPORT OF CHRISTMAS HEALTH SEAL SALE FOR 1935

10,469 letters were mailed to residents of Newton. Each letter contained 100, or more seals at one cent each. 7,482 replies have been received, some with money, others returning Seals only. 2,987 letters are unanswered. The amount received—to date, is $5,423.71.

Each chairman has done splendid work, and, in most cases feels that the response in her village has been good. We are most grateful to all who have helped to raise our amount to such a substantial figure, but we do need to hear from those other 2,987 letters, as the amount so far is not enough to cover the need for the camp work this summer. Children are sent to Health Camps, please remember, not recreational camps.

Unless we receive more contributions, many children who sorely need the benefit of the Summer in camp, with its carefully adjusted diet, and care of doctor and nurse, will be unable to go.

A NEED FOR TAX REVISION

At the annual meeting of the Newton Chamber of Commerce a general picture of the tax problem confronting Massachusetts was presented by Henry F. Long, State Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation. Mr. Long, who has served the Commonwealth for many years with distinction and discretion, is regarded nationally as one of the foremost authorities on the subject of taxation. Newton residents on the whole are, perhaps, more fully conscious of the tax burdens imposed upon them by the cost of government, and they are thus naturally concerned with the future. The problem is so complex that it seems at times almost impossible of solution and yet it is so vital that it must be solved. With the state, the counties, and cities and towns spending more than $1,000,000 per day to provide the citizens of Massachusetts with the services that they demand and with this burden being borne by a few number of people we can not expect that the ability of these people to pay will continue forever. Mr. Long expressed a hope that the reduction of revenues due to the removal of industry from Massachusetts would be replaced by a future increase through methods which would attract industry to return here and would enable new industries to develop. He expressed the need for a form of tax which would be borne by all the people and not by a few and he expressed a hope for the elimination of duplication of taxes by both state and Federal governments. It has long been our contention that one of the first steps toward a solution of the tax problem should be along these lines. Only through the co-operation of the other forty-seven states in the union, together with the federal government can a plan of tax revision be worked out wherein the federal government would retain specified tax sources, and the state other sources. Unquestionably we have permitted a situation to exist which should no longer be tolerated.

THE TAXPAYERS PROTEST

On Tuesday nearly two thousand Massachusetts citizens attended a public hearing at the State House to protest against the increases in state budget for this year as recommended by Governor Curley. The gathering was characterized in Democratic circles as a "political rally" staged by the Republicans. As a matter of fact there were a number of Democrats present who voiced their opposition to the ever increasing cost of government. Never before have the citizens of this Commonwealth, gathered in an orderly fashion in a public meeting, been characterized as "baboons." This characterization was repeatedly and openly flung by a Democratic Senator to the great disgust of almost all those present. And no apology has been forthcoming as would naturally be expected if the appellation were a slip of the tongue. This phase of the hearing will not be forgotten for many months to come and it is conceivable that it will be an important element in the coming campaign.

Although a great deal of protest over the proposed state budget was brought by representatives of organizations the plain country people were better represented by a farmer from the Berkshire country. In language that every person could understand, in an attitude characteristic of that Yankee thrift that has made Massachusetts what it is today, and with a natural sense of humor that drove straight to the heart of the matter, Farmer Roberts spoke the plain, unvarnished truth when he said: "mebbe we caint do much about it naow, but after the hayin' is done there will be a lot of new faces 'round hyar."

A PASTOR, A FRIEND, AND A CITIZEN

The announcement of the resignation of Rev. Newton A. Merritt as pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church at Newton is received with regret by the members of that parish as well as by the many friends he has made in the eighteen years of service he has rendered there. Mr. Merritt has rendered a longer service than any other pastor in the history of that church, and during these years he has earned the respect and admiration of all who came to know him. Newton is thankful for the service that he has rendered as a pastor, a friend, and a citizen, and although he retires as a pastor he will ever be a friend and a worthy citizen.

Four Newton Centre boys spent a busy afternoon on Tuesday capturing a wild owl. The four boys, Bickford White, Bob Greene, Bob Liming and Jack Potter, members of Troop 5, Boy Scouts, finally caught the bird after two hours of chasing through deep snow and slushy streets. A pillow case was used as the means of capturing the owl, when one of the boys got close enough to throw it over the bird's head. The owl was taken to one of the boy's homes where screened windows were opened to provide it with fresh air. The boys are planning to make a cage large enough for the owl to live in until the cold weather is over. The owl is about five inches tall, has black and yellow eyes and is covered with brown feathers.

The membership of the Post is growing rapidly. Over 70 new applications have been received so far this year.

Junior Vice Commander Irving and his committee are working hard to make the Welfare Concert on May 7 and 8 a success. It will be held at the Newton High School Auditorium and professional talent will provide entertainment. The proceeds will be used for welfare work and community service. The Bonus Bureau is open every Thursday evening from 7 to 9:30 to aid former service men in making applications. This service is extended to all veterans, whether members of the Legion or otherwise.

Among those from the Newtons who are interested in the Lenten Series Lectures sponsored by the Boston Wesleyan College Club are Mrs. Robert G. Howard of Waverley ave., Newton, who is Chairman of the Newton District; Mrs. W. V. M. Fawcett of Hyde ave., Newton; Mrs. Carroll Dwight of Magnolia ave., Newton; Mrs. Harold Jenks of Sargent st., Newton Centre; and Mrs. Vernon B. Sweet of Magnolia ave., Newton.

The initial lecture of this series is to be given in the Palm Room of the Hotel Lenox in Boston at 10:30 on Monday, March 2. At that time Miss Seal Thompson, Associate Professor of Biblical History at Wellesley College, is to speak on "Current Types of Religious Thought."

Mrs. William D. Ireland, Chairman of the West Newton-Auburndale District, is in charge of the hospitality. Serving with her as hostesses are Mrs. Benjamin Papper of Auburndale, Mrs. Gordon Sawyer of West Newton, and Mrs. Robert Loomis of West Newton.

The Faculty of the Weeks' Jr. High School, Newton Centre, is to present the play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," in the school auditorium Thursday afternoon, March 12th, at 2:30 p. m. and again Friday evening, March 13th, at 8 p. m.

The proceeds from this play are to be used towards a Carr Memorial Book Fund in memory of the late Frank F. Carr, former principal of the school, the interest of which will buy books for the school library.

Dr. W. Linwood Chase, Headmaster of the Country Day School for boys of Boston located in Newton, has announced the election of Francis T. Galvin '36 of 11 Tudor rd., Chestnut Hill, to a school society known as Iliini.

Only four boys were elected at this time. The selections are made by the faculty and indicate their belief that the boys selected are worthy of the privileges that should come to boys who know how to plan their work and do it well without ordinary supervision. The election to Iliini is an outstanding honor.

A course of Stephen Greene lectures on Christian Prayer will be given in the chapel of the Andover Newton Theological School by Dean Willard L. Sperry of the Harvard Divinity School. The dates and subjects are as follows: March 3, "Prophetic Prayer"; March 4, "Mystical Prayer"; March 10, "The Antitheses Within Prayer"; March 11, "Liturgical and non-Liturgical Prayer"; and March 12, "The Content of our Pastoral Prayers." The lectures will be given at 9:45 A. M. All alumni, pastors and friends are invited.

The library of the John W. Weeks' Jr. High School would be very glad to have given to it any back numbers of the following magazines: Readers' Digest, National Geographic, Fortune, Camera, House Beautiful, Literary Digest and any boys' and girls' magazines such as Popular Science, Popular Mechanics, Child Life, Boys' Life. Very good use will be made of any such donations and be much appreciated.

Miss Charlotte Pettitmermet will open her home at 300 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, to the members of the Neighborhood Club for a supper meeting and social evening on Monday, March 2, 1936. Mrs. Lincoln Alvord is chairman of the supper committee and will be assisted by Mrs. Alexander Shannon, Mrs. Gilbert Ross, Mrs. Harold R. Keller, Mrs. Arnold C. Barker and Miss Catherine Irwin.

Mr. Clyde Hess, director of Boy's Work, Newton Y. M. C. A., will speak on the subject, "Youth's Contacts," at the meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union to be held Thursday, March 5th, at 2:30 p. m. in the Baptist Parish House, 548 Beacon st., Newton Centre. All who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

Letters To The Editor

URGES MATHER TO RESIGN

February 26, 1936.

To the Editor,

Dear Sir:

Doctor Kirtley F. Mather is a member of the Newton School Committee. He is a member, also, of the American Civil Liberties Union.

As early as 1928 this organization was described in the report of a committee of the New York Legislature as follows: "The American Civil Liberties Union in the last analysis is a supporter of all subversive movements; its propaganda is detrimental to the interests of the State. It attempts not only to protect crime but to encourage attacks upon our institutions in every form."

A committee of the Seventy-first Congress reported in 1931 (House Report No. 2290) that "The American Civil Liberties Union is closely affiliated with the Communist movement in the United States and fully 90 per cent of its efforts are on behalf of Communists who have come into conflict with the law. It claims to stand for free speech, free press and free assembly, but it is quite apparent that its main function is to attempt to protect the Communists in their advocacy of force and violence to overthrow the Government."

Pages of this committee's report are devoted to the activities of this organization. It records, for example, that during a strike in Gastonia, North Carolina, the Chief of Police was shot and killed and two of his assistants wounded. Seven Communists were convicted of the crime. The A. C. L. U. furnished bail for five of them who promptly jumped their bail and are reported to be now in Russia.

In its own report for 1935 the A. C. L. U. lists among its major activities opposition to Teachers' Oath of Loyalty Bills in Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, and New Jersey.

On October 3, 1935, the Boston newspapers published Dr. Mather's admission of his membership in this organization. They published on the same date his announced intention not to obey the Teachers' Oath Law. On October 5th, a Lynn school boy refused to pledge allegiance to the Flag. On October 6th, the American Civil Liberties Union agreed to defend this boy in the courts. Subsequently children in other schools refused to salute the Flag.

Dr. Kirtley F. Mather has, to an unusual degree, benefited from the educational advantages afforded in this land of opportunity. He should devote his talents, in part at least, to insuring to future generations the same advantages by encouraging respect for the Flag and the preservation of our democratic form of government. He apparently prefers to associate with and thereby encourage those who belong to such organizations as the American Civil Liberties Union and the American-Russian Institute for Cultural Relations with the Soviet Union.

No man who is a member of such organizations should be in a position to introduce their theories into our schools. Kirtley F. Mather is in such a position. He should resign from the School Committee.

Very truly yours,

JAMES A. WATERS.

TELL ME, WHAT IS A MYSTERY?

The Spanish Chest—Edna Brown.
"The search for a chest containing a suit of clothes belonging to Bonnie Prince Charlie leads three lively Americans and an English girl into all sorts of adventures, with mysterious maps, ghosts, and lost families."

Anything Can Happen on the River—Brink.

"The story of a fourteen-year-old French boy who came to Paris to find a friend of his dead father. He had many adventures and finally succeeded in recovering a treasure stolen from his family years before."

Eagle Cliff—Chapman.

"In this present-day story of the Tennessee mountains a group of boys, experiencing the universal desire for adventure, determine to devote their vacation to treasure hunting."

Followed by "Timber Trail."

Shawl with the Silver Bells—Crew.

"A story of wandering English gypsies in the days of Queen Elizabeth."

Pool of Stars—Meigs.

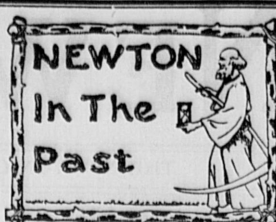

"What part can a pool reflecting millions of stars play in the mystery of a ruined house? Betty and David are able to solve this problem."

Carmen, Silent Partner—Kahmann.

"Carmen and her brother, Porto Ricans, are orphans bringing up a cheerful young brood. There is also a mystery involved, lost jewels that make trouble and keep up a tension."

The Treasure of the Isle of Mist—Tarn.

"Was there a treasure in the cave on the Isle of Mist? The Urchin and the girl were not sure but they were told they must just do the next thing and to begin by going up the hill. But where did the Urchin go when he disappeared in the cave?"

Newton Republican, March 3, 1877

An entertainment was given last Thursday evening at the Mason School, Newton Centre, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., consisting of music and a debate. The question discussed was: "Ought the Basis of Suffrage in This Country Be Readjusted?" Hon. J. F. C. Hyde, first Mayor of Newton, was the first speaker. While he did not believe in the property qualification for voters, and he thought Massachusetts is guarding the ballot-box more than most States, additional safeguards are necessary, or we can hardly see another centennial of this country. He said our laws require that every voter must be able to read and write, but it is true that ignorant foreigners are trained to read a few lines of the Constitution and write their own names just for the purpose of becoming voters. He advocated additional educational qualifications which would be applicable to all, either black or white, and the very ignorant should be prevented from voting. He said there are $13,000 colored voters in the country unable to read or write, and yet they are today deciding the Presidential election. Better disfranchise black and white, including foreigners, than see the country go to ruin.

William E. Webster said he had no objection to foreigners and would have them come to this country, but they should become more familiar with our institutions before they have the right to vote. He would have the poll tax raised from $2 to $5, and any person paying a tax of $10 or more fixed for staying away from the polls.

Rev. William Clark spoke against woman suffrage, mainly on the ground that, as the country is now situated, restriction and not extension of suffrage is necessary. Woman suffrage would add greatly to the complication of things and would make a great disturbance in politics. He said women would vote as their husbands vote, and thus simply double the vote. He argued that woman suffrage would corrupt politics and that women would vote with the party that would take them.

Col. Russell Conwell claimed that the ignorant should vote, and he would not exclude anyone who understood our government even if they could not read or write. He said the reading and writing clause for voters is all wrong. Governments have gone down from ignorance but from dishonesty. Rome went down at the time of her greatest intelligence. He would not have education a test for this generation. Let schools be established everywhere and at the end of 20 years the reading and writing test might be adopted. Let no criminals be allowed to vote not even persons who go to jail. This would throw out of society the dangerous element. Rev. Mr. Furber thought restriction would not cure the evil. It requires a greater application of moral and religious forces to remedy it. The discussion was brought to a close and the congregation joined in singing two verses of "America."

Newton Graphic, February 27, 1886

Friday evening as Dr. Madison Bunker drove out of Richardson st. onto Centre st., Newton, another team cooled with his and broke the shafts of his buggy. As the occupant of the other team immediately drove away, the doctor was unable to determine its ownership.

Monday, February 22nd, was a memorable day in the history of the Newton Baptist Church. At 2 o'clock the new church building was opened for inspection, and as this was the first time that the public was admitted, a large number availed themselves of the privilege to examine the handsome and costly structure. On April 21, 1880, the society chose a committee of nine and authorized them to purchase a lot of land suitable for the erection of a church edifice, the same to be on the south side of the railroad. The work of months lengthened into years and at last the committee was unanimous in selecting this lot, and so reported to the society on March 1, 1884. The committee decided to consult H. H. Richardson of Brookline, architect of Trinity Church, Boston, as to the possibility of erecting a stone church which would be a credit to the society as a work of art, suitable for the purposes for which a church edifice is wanted, and which could be constructed for a sum not above the means of the society.

Mr. Richardson entered upon the work with the understanding that he would make no charges for his services unless he could meet all these requirements. He produced plans for a brown stone which would be an ornament to the city and could be built for a very moderate sum, when the character of the building was considered. The plans were accepted and the contract signed on Feb. 17, 1885, with Norcross Brothers of Worcester, the builders. Ground was broken March 10, the foundation stones laid April 10, and the corner stone May 1. The work was pushed so rapidly that the topmost stone of the maining work finished six weeks before the time specified in the contract. The total amount expended is about $70,000. The contractors have done their work faithfully, and the committee acknowledges the watchful care and helpful suggestions of the pastor, Rev. Herman Tutin.

Powers' Paragraphs

The question of the removal of snow from sidewalks is becoming more important. The past two winters and this winter have brought much more snow than for many years preceding. Because of hazardous traffic conditions more and more autoists have not been operating their cars the past couple of winters and the number of pedestrians have become sidewalk-minded. Although the writer uses sidewalks but little, far less than he should, we have for years been criticizing the lack of attention which Newton sidewalks receive by the Street Department in preceding winters, and the failure of the Newton police to enforce the snow removal ordinance. Our criticisms resulted from many complaints made to us by Newton citizens.

The fact that the Street Department has been gradually replacing horses by motor equipment in past years is one reason why plowing of sidewalks after snowstorms has been neglected for years. A large percentage of Newton sidewalks are so narrow, and are so blocked by trees and poles, that only horse-drawn plows can be used on them. Late last year the Street Department purchased about a dozen small tractors to be used to plow sidewalks. These proved all right on the wider walks but cannot be used on the narrow walks.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Alderman Guzzi of Ward 3 moved that the ordinance relating to the removal of snow from hard surfaced sidewalks by abutters be amended so that it will apply to all parts of the city instead of to certain designated sections. He also moved that the ordinance relative to the throwing of snow onto streets be changed so that operators of gasoline stations and other places will be responsible for the piling snow onto streets to create traffic hazards. At the last meeting of the Aldermen a long discussion was held on Guzzi's proposals, but he received little encouragement from members of the Claims and Rules Committee which considered these matters.

According to articles published in certain newspapers, Alderman Cronin of this city thousands of persons able to shovel snow off a short length of sidewalk, or able to hire someone else to do it. And these have been consistently ignoring the snow removal ordinance. Many of these slackers indulge in athletics requiring considerable expenditure of vigor, such as tennis, golf, bowling and the like. These men (and daughters) who expend much energy in skiing, skating and other sports, but they refuse to get any exercise shovelling snow.

The city should set a good example by removing snow from all sidewalks abutting city-owned properties and by keeping crosswalks clear so far as possible. If this is done, city employees will find plenty to do.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Should Be a Limit

Well, you never can tell. Here we are getting a course in office furnishings and the proper or improper cost of articles indispensable in a place of business. The information is fed us by the daily press and we seem to find it palatable.

After having kicked at something under the desk—shoved there because it was in the way despite its utilitarian purpose—you suddenly find the humble waste-basket lifted to the prominence of front page headlines. Until this happened I was not aware there were so many in use. I've seen them on sale at small cost and am even willing to admit I remember when it was the fashion to have them hand-painted or ornamented with a large bow of ribbon, or both. I haven't the slightest objection to all this hue and cry but I'd like to be assured it's going to stop there and not be extended to include ash barrels, garbage cans and cuspidors.

Perpetual Motion

One thing about extreme weather, hot or cold, is the physical exercise we are compelled to take. Don't express surprise and say, "Who, I?" or "Who, me?" whichever may be your grammatical preference, for you do swing your arms to keep warm if the mercury is low and to brush off flies or manipulate a palm leaf fan when it's high, don't you? Showery weather keeps us hoisting the umbrella up and letting it down; snow storms require muscular exertion in putting on and taking off rubbers and overshoes. Midsummer has welding the fly swatter while damp weather compels slapping at mosquitoes. Whichever way you figure it, you're bound to be active.

"Mister Chairman"

The voice of the people, when lifted at a public meeting of any kind, especially a forum, is never heard with greater interest than during the question period. Particularly is this true if the subject is of a controversial character.

"I'd like to ask a question," some man will say, rising in his seat. When invited to continue he turns to the audience and engages in a harangue. No question develops and if there was one he has buried it in an avalanche of words.

Then there is the man who says he wants to ask a question but who really prefers to engage in a debate with the speaker. He begins, "I understand you to say—" and continues, challenging the speaker's statements.

And don't forget the man who really is serious but whose voice is pitifully weak. Cries of "Louder, louder!" from the audience and repeated requests from the chairman, bear the expense of shovelling snow from about 375 miles of sidewalks after each snowstorm. Sidewalks on residential streets average 5 feet in width. Many of the sidewalks in business sections are 10 feet wide.

The cost of plowing snow off streets and sanding streets in 1933 was $56,492.45. The past three winters have resembled the "old fashioned" winters we used to hear so much about. There has been plenty of snow and the cost of its removal has jumped. In 1934 the cost of snow removal in Newton was $113,245.72. In 1935 the cost was $138,068.37; so far this winter the cost has been over $100,000. If to such costs as these were added the expense of having the city hire thousands of men and youths to shovel snow off 375 miles of sidewalks, the increase in the Newton tax rate would be quite noticeable. Knowing that Alderman Cronin is a man of sense and has consideration for the thousands of real estate owners in Newton, who now find the payment of taxes a serious burden, we doubted if he would be willing to impose additional taxes on them. So, we conversed with Mr. Cronin regarding the snow removal question.

The Ward 4 Alderman asserted he has no desire to saddle onto the city any obligation which would place another heavy tax burden on its citizens. He stated that the ordinance which compels abutters to remove snow from sidewalks sometimes entails hardships, and that any extension of it should be given careful consideration. Referring to the suggestion in last week's GRAPHIC that Newton emulate Portland, Maine, by having city employees remove snow from sidewalks of those who neglect to perform this task, and then assess those who did not do such work themselves, Mr. Cronin said he was informed that this matter in Portland had become a political racket, with abatement being granted to persons having political pull.

Undoubtedly there are aged persons, or persons physically unable to shovel snow, who also cannot afford to hire anyone to do such work. But, these are exceptional cases. The thousands are exceptional cases. The thousands are shovel snow off a short length of sidewalk, or able to hire someone else to do it. And these have been consistently ignoring the snow removal ordinance. Many of these slackers indulge in athletics requiring considerable expenditure of vigor, such as tennis, golf, bowling and the like. These men (and daughters) who expend much energy in skiing, skating and other sports, but they refuse to get any exercise shovelling snow.

The city should set a good example by removing snow from all sidewalks abutting city-owned properties and by keeping crosswalks clear so far as possible. If this is done, city employees will find plenty to do.

"Will the gentleman speak a little louder" so upsets and flusters the poor fellow that he quits without having had his say.

Nevertheless, I'm for the question period. It's the best part of the show, usually, and this is no reflection on the fine women and men who talk to us, either for love of the public or for an honorarium. You see, it gives those of us who would like to air our views and can't afford to buy time from a radio station opportunity to cut loose.

Won't Make 'Em Like It

Sympathy was recently expressed in this column in the form of alleged verse for the man whose beard is so heavy that he must shave twice a day if he is planning to go out for the evening. But, more practical than such solicitation is the action of the National Beauty Congress. According to an Associated Press dispatch from Seattle, Wash., the beauticians and hairdressers are going to put out a greasless make-up that will cover a heavy black beard. "This will be a blessing to a man who is dragged off by his wife to an evening social function and hates to shave," the promoters say. If they think that this will make a man willing to be dragged out and reconcile him to the agony of sitting around in formal or semi-formal dress for five or six hours these professional beautifiers have one more guess coming.

Smokeless Cars?

It was not until last Saturday, Washington's Birthday, that I stumbled on to the fact that there are some advantages to be derived from these one-man trolley cars. Until then I never knew there were any as far as the passengers were concerned, although I was sure the road was profiting to a large extent. Well, I was making for Boston early that morning because, as a slave of the newspaper-reading public, I had to work. Just before we entered the subway, east-bound, a young man got on, paid his fare and hurried to the rear of the car where I happened to be sitting. In another instant he had placed his pipe in his mouth, and, lucky for him, it was still going. All the way to Boylston st. he puffed at it freely. Now, whether all the smokers were out that day, I know not, but on the same car a man got on at Massachusetts ave., lighted his cigar and kept it alight, although not smoking vigorously, until Park st. In justice to the operator it should be said he knew nothing of what was going on as both men were riding in the rear.

Personally, I was not the least disturbed and am not now finding the slightest fault. But next time I hope I'll remember to bring my pipe.

Kiwanis Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club held at the Charles River Country Club was given over to a trip through the American and Canadian Northwest. An illustrated talk by Mr. R. A. Kirkpatrick served to acquaint conservative New Englanders of the vastness, the productivity, and the possibilities of what might be termed comparatively new territory. It also served to impress upon those in attendance the great natural wonders of our own continent, emphasizing what has been said so many times—we would do well to study what is near at hand before crossing oceans to gaze upon objects probably of lesser interest.

The club voted to omit its usual meeting of March 10, 1936, to join with other nearby clubs in a large Boston meeting to do honor to President Harper Gaton of Kiwanis International, who will be in Boston on this date.

Recent Weddings

MULHERN—WHITE

Miss Katherine White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Arthur White of 115 Park st., Newton, was married on Saturday, February 22, to Mr. John Francis Mulhern, Jr., of Belmont. The bride's sister, Florence White Gustorf, was matron of honor, and Mr. J. Chester Mullins of Langley rd., Newton, was best man.

The ceremony was followed by a small reception. Mr. and Mrs. Mulhern will be at home at 24 Brookside ave., Belmont, after March fifteenth.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Esty of Dedham st., Newton Centre, announced the engagement of their daughter Ruth Catherine Esty to Dr. Richard Arthur Szekely of Hillsdale, N. J., at a tea given recently at the Peabody Home tea room.

Miss Esty is a graduate of the Boston Children's Hospital and Dr. Szekely was graduated from Harvard University Dental School.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

WITTENS RUNS FAST
300 AT ANDOVER MEET

A pair of aces, Co-captains Warren Wittens and Ray Huling, guided the Newton High track team to their third successive victory of the open interscholastic track season last Saturday as they won the Andover Academy interscholastics with a score of 20-12 points. Boston English High was second with 16 1/2 points. Wittens and Huling each scored in two events, while Nat Heard took second in the shot and the relay team also placed second.

Warren Wittens ran a magnificent 300 yards, the fastest ever run in the Case Memorial Cage by a high school athlete, cutting the Andover Interscholastics record from 34.15 to 33.25 seconds. The old mark was set by Larry Scanlon in 1932, when the Holy Cross sprinter was running for Boston English. Wittens' time was only one-tenth of a second slower than the cage record of 33.15, made by the celebrated Charlie Borah when he was a student at Andover.

Huling in Three Events

Ray Huling placed second to Laurey Grant of Lynn English in the standing broad jump, was third to Wittens and Hartman in the hurdles, and ran the lead-off position on the relay team. Huling's distance in the jump, 9 ft. 10 1/4 in., was only 1 1/8 inches short of the winning distance.

Wittens and Robin Hartman had a good battle in the hurdles, their first race on cinders since Wittens set a new state record for the 120 lows on the Newton High straightaway last spring. The Newtonian got the better start, but Hartman went ahead over the last hurdle and won the event in record time, 58 flat.

Ray Huling was third, nosing out Fred Leahy of Boston English.

Nat Heard again played second fiddle to the record-breaking march of Bill Gilligan, the Brighton shotputter. The winner's best heave was 57 ft. 8 in., Heard's 47 ft. 2 in. None of the Newton high jumpers got into the scoring. Brookline's Bob Hartman winning at 5 ft. 9 in. Newton's relay team, Ray Huling, Frank Hines, Jack Allen and Bob Muther, finished fifteen yards ahead of Brookline. Their time, 2m. 25.25s., beat eighteen other teams, but was second to the fast Malden quintet, who covered the distance in 2:24.3-5.

State Meet To-morrow

On the new Boston Garden boards tomorrow the Newton boys will go after their first indoor State Meet title. Don Enoch's team have three times come close to winning this championship, but have missed out by a point, a half-point and a quarter-point on those three occasions. In 1931, after winning the Northeastern, Boston A. A. and Andover Interscholastic meets, the great Newton team captained by Milt Green was squeezed out of the state title by Boston English. Tomorrow the cohorts of Wittens and Huling are again trying for a clean sweep of the interscholastic meets, having already won the Northeastern and Andover games and the Eastern Seaboard Relay Carnival.

Minor injuries to the Newton co-captains are the chief pre-meet worries of Coach Don Enoch. Ray Huling, who has come along fast enough, he has not had as much work as he should have had this week. Warren Wittens, who ran his smashing race at Andover after being bumped on the knee by an automobile, is expected to be in form. Paul Dussossoi, relay runner, is definitely lost to the team with a throat infection.

Paul Forte was prevented from scoring in the Andover meet by the mereest of breaks. He was in the thick of the dash finish, but was overlooked in the placing. In the broad jump he was less than a half-inch out of the scoring. Each entry in the state meet will be restricted to one field event and one running event. Wittens will forego the hurdles, running the "300" and probably the relay. Bob Muther will enter the same two events. Huling will combine relay duties and the hurdles. The other entries will include Hines, Allen and Hooper in the relay and the indispensable Nat Heard in the shot.

Coach Enoch figures that Boston English will supply the closest opposition for Newton again this week, and may well win the meet if they have their usual good luck. English scored better than 16 points at Andover with sprinters Scala and Sullivan, 300-yarder and high-jumper Ralph Ryan, and Joe Mantos, shot putter.

Newton Highlights

Although Captain Milton Green of the Harvard varsity track team will be the only former Newton High athlete competing in the quadrangular games tomorrow night at the Boston Garden there is considerable local interest in the meet. Whereas in previous years the meet has been a triangular affair between Harvard, Dartmouth and Cornell this year's meet will include Yale. The middle distance runs of 300, 600, and 1,000 yards, have been replaced by three relay races which it is believed will add to the interest. Captain Green will compete in probably three events and is favored to win the hurdles and broad jump. In the former he holds the meet record and is regarded as capable of setting a new record in the broad jump. He may also compete in one of the relays.

Howes Co. Opens
New Store At Newton Centre

Among the recent real estate transactions of general interest to Newton people is the lease of the store at 831 Beacon st., Newton Centre, to C. G. Howes Company.

This well known old Boston firm of Dry Cleaners, Dyers and Launderers has long been actively engaged in business in Newton. In 1928, they erected the familiar brick bungalow at 1171 Washington st., West Newton, and installed in it a completely equipped vault for the safe moth-proof storage of furs, rugs and other valuable articles. They still own and operate this storage plant.

Well known for so many years as leading Dry Cleaners and Dyers the public is also fast coming to recognize and appreciate the high quality of their Laundry work. The addition more than a year ago of complete equipment to do this work, makes their large plant in Allston one of the very few in Greater Boston that can do under one roof a thorough job of cleaning almost anything from a handkerchief to overstuffed set of furniture.

In order to establish closer personal contact with their many Newton friends and to make still more easily available their quality work, they have leased the conveniently located store next to S. S. Pierce Co., and will open their doors to the public Monday morning at 8 o'clock.

They cordially invite everyone to come and try their work and are making an opening offer that certainly affords an inexpensive opportunity to learn the quality of their service.

For those who for one reason or another, cannot visit this attractive new addition to business at the Centre, and for those who prefer pick-up and delivery service at their homes there is a new local phone number, Centre Newton 4014. Practically every part of Newton is serviced twice daily by one of their familiar green and gray trucks.

Myra Hess To Give Recital
At Dana Hall School

The Dana Hall Schools of Wellesley are presenting a piano recital by the noted pianist, Myra Hess on Friday evening, March 6th, at eight o'clock. Included on the program are a number of selections from Bach, Beethoven, Schumann and Brahms.

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club received another new member at its luncheon this week in the person of Frederick Fessenden, of Newtonville. The speaker for the meeting was Mr. Stuart MacMillan, Boston attorney, who outlined the provisions of the Townsend Plan. While the original plan proposed to raise the money for the payments of $200 apiece, which would be made to all persons over 60 years of age whether they be millionaires or paupers, by a "transactions" tax, the bill now in Congress has some modifications. A 2% tax is proposed on all transactions involving the passage of any "value"—whether checks or goods, etc.—but this amount would be allowed to accumulate for a time. After that it would be divided pro rata among all persons over 60 years of age except those with an average income in excess of $2400 and with some regard to the income then received by the recipient. For instance, a person with an income of $1200 would receive but $100 per month.

Dr. F. E. Townsend, the original promoter of the plan, is undoubtedly sincere in his effort to provide some amelioration for persons of advanced age and the organization is very efficiently devised, especially for the "snow-balling" of its effect upon the community and upon Congressmen. A co-founder and very active promoter is Robert Clements.

The plan contemplates a five-fold increase in the volume of business and a reduction of unemployment through retiring from industry all over 60 years of age. Figures on the present value of business raise some question on this matter of increased volume, however, for the Brookings Institute places the present volume at about 45 billions of dollars now and the maximum possible volume in the country at about 100 billions.

There is no doubt but that the elderly, some 10 million citizens in all, would benefit from the plan but as these constitute only about 8 1/2 per cent of the total population there is some question as to the willingness of the remainder of the country to be taxed for this comparatively small number. The present national income is reckoned at about 48 billion dollars and estimates suggest that it would require nearly 24 billion—or about half the present income—to finance the scheme. The administration of the scheme would require a considerable army of persons to check on the collection of the transaction tax, on the distribution of the income, and to insure that every recipient spent all of his money within the month.

The entire movement is animated with an extreme emotional fervor and it has gained such headway that it demands careful study by everyone. Because it is such an important issue it is very desirable that every Congressman hear from his constituents as to their opinions on the proposal.

The speaker for the next meeting will be Henry E. Warren, President of the Warren Clock Co., of Waltham.

Health Seal
For Prevention

Attention is called to the advertisement on the first page of this issue in the report of the Health Seal Sale committee for 1935. From the Newton Welfare Bureau comes the following more detailed account of the use of the net income from the Christmas Seal Sale as directed by the Health Committee of the Bureau. The Christmas Seal Fund is used for preventive work—milk in homes where there are arrested cases of tuberculosis or children who are contacts, and camp for children who are contacts or who have had the childhood form of tuberculosis.

A summer at a Health Camp for one of these children means a summer of health education for him, increased resistance to carry him through the next school year, and added impetus to take him toward the goal of healthy maturity. These children are under the supervision of the Middlesex County Sanatorium Clinic. Campers are selected on the basis of the recommendations of the Board of Health Nurses and the physicians at Middlesex County Sanatorium, and a knowledge of the home conditions. The camp is provided with full information about the child—the family group of which he is a member, physical conditions in his home, his health history, his school progress and the result of his most recent examination at the Diagnostic Clinic.

Upon the return of the children from camp, careful supervision is carried on throughout the winter months, helping both the parents and the children to carry out the health recommendations of the camp and to strengthen the resistance built up during the summer months.

This work is entirely dependent upon the income from the sale of Christmas Seals.

RED CROSS CLASSES FOR LIFE-SAVING INSTRUCTION

Social Minutes

This season is scarcely dull with its amazing whirl of theater parties, dinner-dances and bridges. Bridges at the present time seem to win the popularity contest for the favorite afternoon diversion. Mrs. Frank Goldberg, chairman of the day, played hostess and Mrs. Henry Nemrow assisted her at the Rathskeller room where the Ladies Helping Hand met Monday to play. Committee members included Mrs. M. Sodar, Mrs. Charles Levenson, Mrs. J. Jacobs, and Mrs. F. Feldman. Also Mrs. M. Rossman, Mrs. M. Ralby, Mrs. M. Wolf, Mrs. M. Warner, Mrs. D. Weinberg and Mrs. M. Sapers. Among the many attending were Mrs. Henry Nemrow, Mrs. Samuel Altman, Mrs. H. Berger, Mrs. S. Berger, Mrs. M. Berkowitz, Mrs. M. Corvin, Mrs. E. Friedman, Mrs. S. Goldberg, Mrs. M. Hannington, Mrs. J. F. Krokyn, Mrs. M. Lappin, Mrs. L. D. Margolis, Mrs. S. Myers and Mrs. L. Isgur. Also Mrs. S. F. Levine, Mrs. S. Pichel, Mrs. H. Rogal, Mrs. D. Stern and Mrs. M. Solomon.

New Junior Group

Youth must be served and the members of the Ladies' Helping Hand has fallen in with this current thought and are sponsoring a Junior organization. Initial meeting of the group was held and Miss Beatrice Berkall presided. Her executive consists of Irene Sonis, Doris Appleton, Anna Bell, Anna Grees and Bessie Nathanson. Mrs. M. Sapers, president of the senior group, extended a warm welcome to the new juniors, who attended the installation of officers at her home.

Seldom does a moving picture attract as large a social patronage as the opening of the Palestine film, "Land of Promise," Monday evening at the Tremont Temple. Tremont st. took on a very festive appearance for about an hour as the arriving audience crowded the thoroughfare. Those who attended the opening performance had the opportunity to see Sara Osnath-Halevy, famous Palestinian dancer, give her interpretations in song and dance of Palestine and the Yemen. Discerned among the audience was Mrs. Louis Goldberg, Mrs. Daniel Myerberg, Mrs. William Talcoff, Mrs. Ralph Bass, and Mrs. Lewis Simons. Mrs. T. Golden wore black crepe and arrived simultaneously with Mrs. Robert Goodman in black velvet. Mrs. Louis Dis wore grey with blue panels and Mrs. S. Levitt splattered down the aisle with her sister, Mrs. R. Marshall. Also present was Mrs. S. Nisson, Mrs. L. Epstein, Mrs. Abbott Epstein, Mrs. S. Ullian, Mrs. M. Stern and Mrs. F. Massell.

Temple Meeting

Mrs. Ira Nelson, chairman of the Sisterhood of the Emmanuel Temple, directed the organization's meeting, Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at 634 Commonwealth Ave. Guest speaker was Rabbi Herman H. Rubenowitz of the Temple Mishkan Tefila. Rabbi Leo Shubov gave an informal talk on current Jewish topics. Among the many attending were Mrs. Otto Spiller, Mrs. Maurice Klein, Mrs. Leslie A. Pike, Mrs. Samuel Rottenberg, Mrs. Ralph Cohn, Mrs. Moses Waterman, Mrs. J. Springer, Mrs. I. J. Silverman, Mrs. H. Shaw, Mrs. M. Grover, Mrs. B. Lederman and Mrs. E. Cohen.

To Give Series of Four Lectures At West Newton

Reverend Herbert Hitchen, Minister of The First Unitarian Society in Newton, will give the spring series of lectures in The Second Church in Newton, West Newton. These lectures which will be on the Old Testament will be presented on the four consecutive Wednesday evenings of March. They will be given at 8 o'clock in the Parish House of The Second Church.

The subject of the series is "Our Old Testament Heritage." The first of the series, which will be held on March 4th, Mr. Hitchen has named "Unravelling the Book of Books." This will be a general outline of modern discovery about the Old Testament. It will include a survey of its sources as well as the times and places in which the various books were written.

The second lecture on March 11th, "The Poetry of the Old Testament," should be one of rare quality. Much of Mr. Hitchen's success in West Newton is due to his unique appreciative character in many literary fields, both modern and ancient.

The third lecture on March 18th, "The Drama of the Old Testament," will include the Book of Job and other very stirring passages which reveal the distinct dramatic spirit of the Hebrew people.

The fourth lecture on March 25th, "The Social Vision of the Old Testament," will be a timely one in which the lecturer will indicate the timeless quality of the Old Testament writings.

This series of lectures is a part of the adult education program of The Second Church. It is the eleventh consecutive series of lectures to have been given in The Second Church. The Committee on Religious Education, whose chairman is Mr. Herbert C. Mayer, urges all members and friends of the church to take advantage of this unique opportunity to clarify their thinking concerning our Bible. There is no charge of admission for the lectures.

A TOE TOUCH

OIL-HUSHED to a sigh of silence under Buick's style-tapered bonnet, a great-powered valve-in-head engine waits to unleash a torrent of action-at your command.

There's thrill in it—and triumph over time and distance. But most important—there's eyewink obedience.

Teamed up with this ablest of driving forces is the newest and most highly perfected system of hydraulic brakes.

The quickest of stops is velvet smooth under their self-energizing action. On the wettest of streets there will be no slewing, no swerves, for they are automatically self-equalizing.

Their action has the smoothness of a closing hand, increasing its grasp steadily to the maximum. Their steel-tensioned grip would halt a heavy truck, but it takes only a touch of a daintily-shod toe to put them into action.

We call them "tiptoe hydraulics," and how apt the name is you'll never know until you drive a Buick and sample for yourself their softness and their velvet command.

The first few times you sit behind a Buick wheel, you may find yourself traveling faster than you think. No car is more buoyantly smooth in its power-flow, more deceptively effortless in its swift flight.

But no car is more surely under control at all times—quicker, smoother, easier in its stopping. If you must drive with an eye on the passing minutes, do so in a Buick which matches engine eagerness with tiptoe braking sureness, offsets highspot go-ability with dependable stop-ability.

$765 to $1945 are the list prices of the new Buicks at Flint, Mich., subject to change without notice. Standard and special accessories groups on all models at extra cost. All Buick prices include safety glass throughout as standard equipment.

STRAIGHT AS A STRING

Every stop is a straight-line stop with Buick's "tiptoe" hydraulic brakes. All four wheels are always equalized; the only adjustment is an occasional tightening as brake bands wear. For emergency stops and for parking purposes, the hand brake conveniently at the left under the dash, operates the two rear brakes mechanically.

Hood Milk Co. Entertains

"A company that sells milk is a friend to humanity," Mayor Edwin O. Childs told his audience at the 40th Annual Ladies' Night of the Newton-Watertown Branch of the Hood Milk Company, held Tuesday evening at the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse. The mayor was guest speaker of the evening and had as his audience some 200 employees and guests of the Hood Company.

Guests seated at the head table were: Mayor Edwin O. Childs; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hood, 2nd; Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Sheehan; Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Barker; Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sullivan; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Margeson; Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Appleby; Dr. and Miss Kimball; Mr. P. E. Appleby, better known as "Bill" Appleby acted as toastmaster. Mr. Edward Sheehan, a sales superintendent, in his address complimented the salesmen on their splendid efforts to get the milk delivered to their customers on schedule during this severe cold and stormy weather. "No complaints have reached the main office that any 'Hood Baby' served by the Newton-Watertown branch has been left without its milk," concluded Mr. Sheehan.

Mr. H. P. Hood, 2nd, treasurer and vice president of the company followed Mr. Sheehan. In the course of his remarks he mentioned that five years ago the company established the custom of donating from the "Charles H. Hood Fund" the sum of $50 to every baby born to an employee of the H. P. Hood Co. The money is deposited to the credit of the child and is intended to be used for its education. Twenty-six babies have benefited under this arrangement. Mr. Hood also pointed out that practically all employees are stockholders in the company, earning 8 per cent on their investment.

Dancing was enjoyed by all until 12 p. m.

The committee in charge included: Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Jenkins; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Payonczek; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cornish.

Dramateurs To Stage Comedy On Two Evenings

Two evenings of keen enjoyment are in store for drama lovers when the Newton Dramateurs present the popular farce-comedy, "Murray Hill," by Leslie Howard March 5th and 6th in the New Church Auditorium, Highland ave., Newtonville. When this play had its successful run under Shubert management at the Bijou in New York, the Herald-Tribune said, "There is nothing more deftly amusing in Times Square than the urbane farce of Murray Hill." Old and young will be able to fully appreciate the ridiculous side of the conflict between old and new ideas in this sedate New York home.

The preparation of the play is under the direction of Norman Willey, who has successfully coached plays for the Dramateurs in years before. The players are young people of considerable previous stage experience who take their work seriously. The cast is as follows: "America Tweedie," Edna May White; "George Appleway," Norman Willey; "Elizabeth Tweedie," Ruth Fuller; "May Tweedie," Edith May; "Mrs. Cass," Adda Saunders; "Vane," Dan Smith; "Worthington Smythe," Edward Horton; "Wrigley," John Wakefield. Virginia Rogers will have charge of properties and Ed Swainson of the lighting.

Dr. Little Talks At Newton Forum

tissue. It is also wise to eliminate from the diet any article of food which seems to cause irritation of any kind.

"Cancer also spreads by a system of colonization. Little pieces of cancerous tissue break off and move through the blood stream and set up other centers of growth in other parts of the body.

"Now as to advances in research. The first thing you must do when you are fighting an enemy is to locate him and have him available for study. The first thing necessary is to increase the amount of cancer available for study practically at will.

"The majority of cancer cases occur between 35 and 45 or 70. Human beings cannot be experimented with. The thing therefore was to look for some form of life where cancer occurred naturally and work with that form of life.

"Mice have practically all the types of cancer that we have. The mouse provides wonderful laboratory material, being the most rapid breeding of all mammals. The speed is something amazing. A mouse has young at 5 or 6 weeks of age, and 12 or 14 at a birth. The mouse carries its young only 21 days. It is tremendously resistant to operation. It can even be anesthetized by a cold temperature without the need of any other agent. Mice are being used all over the world to study pneumonia, yellow fever, and influenza as well as cancer.

"It distresses me to know that in some communities there are people who don't want to talk or hear about cancer research. There are also the people who take an anti-medical point of view, and who are antagonistic to the work. Doctors of medicine are doing a remarkable job in the treatment of cancer. In addition to helping them all you can, there is an added obligation to help and support or at least to be sympathetic toward those who are trying to find out the causes of cancer and more effective methods of combating it."

Next Sunday, March 1, at 3:20 p. m. the Forum will hear Christopher Morley, famous novelist and columnist, on "Streamlines in Literature." As a commentator on literary trends, Mr. Morley probably has no superior in America. The Highland Glee Club will sing several numbers preceding the address.

Announcement was made Sunday that an added session of the Forum will take place on Sunday, March 15, at which a number of well-known Newton residents will conduct a panel discussion of "Dangers Confronting Democracy in America." As both conservatives and liberals will be represented, a most interesting debate is anticipated.

Waban Men's Club Holds Bridge and Amateur Night

The Men's Club of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban, under the Chairmanship of Hugh S. Fifield, presented a large and successful bridge party at the Parish House, Wednesday, February 19th. Following bridge an amateur broadcast over Station WGBS, sponsored by the "Chase & Keetch Coffee Co.," was directed by Major Graham Bowes Ross, with Arthur G. MacNamee Soule as announcer.

The program included: Chuck Davis, pianist; Jean Ann Dowd in a Tap Dance; "Calling Philip Morris"; Horace D. Wood, Lleycllyn Rogers, and Roy A. McMullen a Musical skit; Adrienne Duplain, Dorothy Gardner, soloist; Dorothy Gardner, Interpretive Ballet and Toe Dance; Bob White, soloist; Barbara Roberts, soloist; Herbert Astaire Smith, bones; Marjory Jones, tap dance; Lily Pond Short, song; Virginia Wilson, songs and dances; R. Jackson Cram, two songs; Florian Slappy Field, Blackface tap; a La Perfection; May West Duplain, song.

To Chuck Davis went the honors for his extremely able and sympathetic accompaniments for all participants in the program; to the Misses Gardner, Jones, Roberts and Wilson for the distinction of upsetting the judges' ability to render a decision; to Jean Ann Dowd, the youngest member of the cast, for holding the audience with a desire to sing "Sweetest Little Feller"; to Bob White for arousing the tender emotions of the ladies; and to all the men for their dauntless intrepidity.

The grand prize of the evening, a silver loving cup, was awarded, amidst enthusiastic applause, to Adrienne Duplain, whose talents, as demonstrated on this occasion, give great promise of a brilliant histrionic future.

Woman's Ass'n To Meet At Central Church

At Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, Mass., on Wednesday, March fourth, the Woman's Association will hold its monthly meeting. During the morning surgical dressings for the Red Cross and sewing for local relief agencies will be done by a large group of workers.

The luncheon at 12:30 p. m. will be served by Circle No. 6. Mrs. A. E. Spence, chairman.

Mr. Cheney C. Jones, a former member of Central Church, will be the speaker for the program, which begins at 1:30 p. m. He is superintendent of the New England Home for Little Wanderers. He will tell of cases which have been cared for in this institution and give a great deal of interesting and general information in his talk entitled "Helping Little Children out of trouble."

Mr. Joseph H. Ludwigen will sing tenor solos. He is the director of religious education of the church also director of music.

Middlesex Court 50th Anniversary

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., observed its 50th anniversary on Tuesday night by holding a banquet at Elks Hall, Newton. The Court was organized on February 12th, 1886 and chartered on February 19 of that year. It started with 32 charter members of whom five still survive. These are Dr. Francis M. O'Donnell of Newton, who has been Court Physician for 50 years; James Diviney of Boyd st., Newton; Thomas M. Waters of Court st., Newtonville; Michael McDermott, Clarendon st., Newtonville; Patrick Waters, Clinton pl., Newton Centre. The first three were present at the banquet and were presented with gold medals. The Court is the largest in the M. C. O. F. and has 915 members. It has paid $250,000 in death benefits to dependents of its members who died during the past half century.

The banquet on Monday night was in charge of a committee headed by J. A. McDonald, Miss Marion Goode, Chief Ranger of the Court gave an eloquent address in which she exhorted the members to carry on the good work started by the founders of the Court. Edward H. Powers as toastmaster introduced a number of speakers including Rev. John A. Sheridan, chaplain of the Court, and a member of the M. C. O. F. for 52 years; Mayor Edwin O. Childs; Joseph Callahan, High Chief Ranger of the Order; William P. Hickey, William McCrystal and James Desmond of the High Court, M. C. O. F.; Rev. Joseph Shea of Medford and William Barry of Brighton, Deputy High Chief Ranger. Patrick T. Lally of Brookline entertained with tenor solos and John Flynn of Newton with accordion selections. Dancing was enjoyed until 12:30.

Morning worship at 11:00, followed by Communion.

WELL-KNOWN FURRIER OPENS SALON AT COOLIDGE CORNER

"Furs by Vengrow" is the name of the new concern that opened recently at 1374A Beacon st., Brookline. Mr. Vengrow, the proprietor, comes to Brookline with twenty-five years' experience in styling and handling quality furs.

Mr. Vengrow is well known in Boston as a leader in his line, and deeply interested in welfare, civic and local affairs. The new salon is luxuriously fitted with modernistic chrome and blue leather furnishings, and contains a fireproof vault, burglar protected, for storage of his stock. Mr. Vengrow also maintains a store in Boston, and a modern fur storage plant.

Connections in Paris and New York assure this further of the last minute fashions in furs.

A Family Affair

Marriage, in Japan, is more than our contract between the two parties who are to live together. In Japan, the marriage vow has to do with the ancestors and the bride marries the whole family, and must learn to please them all. Japanese novels start where ours leave off at the altar and Japanese novels end with every member of the family understanding every other member and each attending to his own business.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 1.

The Golden Text is: "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder" (Isaiah 9:6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease. . . . These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not. . . . Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves; be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves" (Matthew 10:1, 5, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus established his church and maintained his mission on a spiritual foundation of Christ-healing. He taught his followers that his religion had a divine Principle, which would cast out error and heal both the sick and the sinning. He claimed no intelligence, action, nor life separate from God. Despite the persecution this brought upon him, he used his divine power to save men both bodily and spiritually" (p. 136).

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Twelfth District Art Conference

Twelfth District clubwomen have a delightful opportunity to hear several authorities on art subjects in an Art Conference, to be held at Needham, on Wednesday, March 4th. The New Century Club will be hostess for this all-day event, opening at 10 a. m., in the Baptist Church, Great Plain avenue.

Greetings will be brought on behalf of the State Federation, by Mrs. George Schroeder, vice-president; Mrs. John F. Capron, of Newton Centre, Twelfth District director; Mrs. David A. Westcott, third vice-president, and Mrs. Herbert Stephens, Art chairman.

At 10:30 o'clock, Harold L. Lindergreen, of the Vesper George School of Art, will speak on "Art as a Vocation". He will be followed at 11 o'clock by Ester Ruffe, on "Interior Decoration".

Carolyn L. Dewing, of the Modern School of Applied Art, whose lectures have been so interesting to women for their "style sense", will speak on "Personality in Dress", at 11:30 a. m.

Luncheon will follow at 12 o'clock, tickets for which at 60 cents may be obtained from Mrs. Walter Goodwin, 384 Webster street, Needham.

The Chorus of the Hostess Club will open the afternoon session with a musical program at 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Stephens will then call the Roll, for the Penny Art Fund. A small oil painting will be given as a prize to the Club, the Hostess Club accepted, having the largest attendance in proportion to its membership.

"Gardens for Early Colonial Homes" will be the delightful subject of a talk by Katherine Hubbard Fraser at 2 o'clock. At 2:30 George W. B. Hartwell will speak on "Modern Art", and at 3 Georgiana R. Smith will give hints on "Flower Arrangement".

With spring gardens to be started before long, now, these talks will be especially inspiring.

Talented Members To Entertain Presidents

A Club Talent Program, in which the Art, Dramatic, and Music committees will co-operate, will be the feature of Presidents' Day at the Newton Highlands Woman's Club on Tuesday, March 3rd, at 2 p. m.

The Club Chorus will present a fifteen-minute program, followed by a Play-reading, "Lady Wyndemere's Fan," directed by Miss Marion O. Whitcomb. The Art committee will have charge of decorations and of stage arrangements. The Social committee, of which Mrs. Robert D. Flansburgh is chairman, will serve tea.

Among the honored guests will be Mrs. David A. Westcott, Third vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. John F. Capron, Twelfth District director, and Mrs. J. Earl Parker, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

Sanctions As a War Remedy To Be Discussed

"Sanctions in Operation" is the subject of the talk to be given by Dr. Payson S. Wild at the International Dinner to be held on Monday, March 2nd, at 6:45 p. m., at the Newton Centre Woman's Club. The application of sanctions is an innovation in international relations in an effort to prevent war. How can they be applied? Will they prevent war? What will be the results? These are some of the questions which are of concern to people today, for undoubtedly sanctions have come into the world to stay. Prof. Wild, of the department of Government at Harvard, has been following the problems created by sanctions with keen interest, and he is well qualified to give an illuminating talk on this subject.

Dinner reservations, at 75 cents, may be made through Mrs. Hoyt Weston by Saturday, February 29th (telephone Centre Newton 1056). The speaking is open to Club members at 7:45 p. m. for 25 cents, and to others for 35 cents.

Psychology As Applied To The Present

The Program committee will present Professor Harry A. Overstreet, head of the department of Philosophy and Psychology of the College of the City of New York, as speaker on Club Day, Tuesday, March 3rd, at the Newtonville Woman's Club. An author whose books are considered to have brought practical help to thousands, Professor Overstreet has an almost uncanny understanding of the human mind, especially as it operates in this tremendously interesting era. He never fails to reach his audiences and to hold them engrossed in what he has to say. When he lectures at Ford Hall, even standing room is at a premium. His subject for March 3rd will be "A Personal Philosophy for These Times."

Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill, chairman of the Music Committee, will present on the same program, Evelyn Karol, one of Newton's promising young pianists. Miss Karol is a pupil of the All Newton Music School.

Details of the plans have now been

Red Cross Appeals To Clubwomen For Car Drivers

The Red Cross, through Mrs. Anton A. Wild, vice-chairman of the Civics committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs made a very urgent appeal for volunteer drivers to join the Newton Motor Corps and bring the number up to at least fifty, at the Executive Board Meeting of the Federation on Monday, February 24th, in the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton. Any person who can spare a morning or afternoon now and then is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Jellison, at the Welfare Bureau, or with Mrs. Wild, 17 Calvin road, Newtonville.

(Editor's Note. Report of this entire meeting will be given next week.)

Members To Hear Unusual Speaker on Economic Problems

The Auburndale Woman's Club will present as its speaker on the afternoon of March 3rd at the Auburndale Club House, Miss Mary Sue Wigley, of Dawson, Alabama, who will talk on "Economic Problems of the Family."

Miss Wigley was acclaimed by many as the outstanding speaker at the last State Federation Annual Meeting at Swampscott, where she was received most enthusiastically. During the past year she has lectured to over two hundred Women's Clubs through the Middle West, and the fact that one-third of these engagements were "repeat" invitations, attests to her popularity. Miss Wigley has a deep understanding of human nature gained from her early humble life in an Alabama mountain home. Her education was possible only through her own perseverance in the face of almost insurmountable barriers.

Her study of economic problems affecting the family, as well as this keen understanding of human nature, make her particularly capable of lecturing on this timely subject. Miss Wigley has an engaging personality, a thorough knowledge of economic problems, and a delightful way of presenting to her audience the real home values of our American Life.

The Hospitality committee will serve tea after the meeting. The powers will be Mrs. George A. Follett and Mrs. Stuart L. Southgate.

Luncheon and Interesting Trips

Mrs. Roy A. Stinson, chairman of the American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, has planned a most interesting meeting to be held on Wednesday, March 4th, at the home of Mrs. Henry B. Stone, 90 Adella avenue, West Newton. Luncheon will be served at 12 noon sharp by Mrs. B. Howard Lester and her committee, consisting of Mrs. Clarence M. Glazier, Mrs. Herman R. Place and Mrs. George D. Thomas.

A display will be held by the Junior Craft Guild, 58 Adella avenue, under the direction of Miss Jean Lockwood and Miss Jane Larue. A trip to the First National Stores Plant has been arranged, as the high-light of the meeting.

The change in the time of the luncheon should be noted. The bus supplied by the First National Stores will leave promptly at 1:15 p. m. for the plant.

Clothes Budget and Wardrobe Planning

The American Home committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club will hold its next meeting on Monday evening, March 2nd, at 8 p. m., E. L. Bedford, Child Consultant at Filene's, who gave such a very interesting Children's Style Show last April, will talk on the "Family Clothes Budget" and "Wardrobe Planning."

Through the courtesy of Dr. Winslow, this meeting also will be held at Lasell Seminary, and is open to all Club members. These friendly, informal meetings are well attended, and members have an excellent opportunity of meeting each other, as they discuss home problems during the refreshment hour.

Various Events

Social Science Club

The next meeting of the Social Science Club will be held in the Parlors of the Channing Church on Wednesday, March 4th, at 10 a. m.

This will be a business meeting followed by a program by the Art committee.

The hostesses will be Miss Jessie M. Fisher and Mrs. William H. Mitchell.

West Newton Community Service Club

On Wednesday, February 19th, the Community Service Club of West Newton met at the Unitarian Church, with Mrs. George S. Fuller, the president, presiding. In the absence of Mrs. Charles N. Gregg, the secretary, her report was read by Mrs. George H. Fernald, Jr.

The members took much pleasure in the program of music for the harp, given by Miss Louise Came of Waban, and in the monologues and the group of Canadian poems by Drummond, given by Mrs. Marian Hendrick Cahalin, of Arlington.

Miss Came studied abroad, and at the Paris Conservatory, where she is the only American girl to have been awarded a prize for ability upon the harp. Her selections were "The Fantasia," by Gallotti; "Fantasia," by Saint Saens; "Arabesque," by De Bussey; and a "Waltz," by Brahms. She is now studying with Bernard Vighera, harpist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Her program was greatly enjoyed.

These poems by Dr. William Henry Drummond included his "Johnnie Courteau," "Johnnie's First Moose," and "Pelagat." Mrs. Cahalin also gave a most amusing original monologue entitled "At a Charity Bridge," and a children's story, "Mud Pies," as well as Booth Tarkington's humorous "A Model Letter to a Friend." Her selections and manner of rendering were most entertaining.

The Exchange Table was under the direction of Mrs. Francis W. Doane. Mrs. Louise A. Bacon and her committee were in charge of the Tea.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Notwithstanding the severe weather, about three hundred members and friends attended the Guest Night of the Newtonville Woman's Club on the evening of February 18th, when Captain Irving Johnson, adventurer, author and lecturer, as he talked and showed pictures of his eighteen months' voyage around the world in his ninety-foot schooner "Yankee." The evening program included, first, solos by Franklin Field, whose selections were appropriately songs of the sea. Mr. Field and his accompanist, Mr. Harry Rogers, furnished a delightful prelude to Captain Johnson's informal talk.

In his late teens, Irving Johnson decided to make every possible effort to attain his greatest wish, to circle the globe, and thereupon set about studying everything available pertaining to such a trip, and also learning of the seas and boats first-hand by joining crews. Finally, after eight or nine years, a schooner of the type suitable was purchased, thoroughly reconditioned, and stocked. The only hired member of the crew was the cook. The three or four young women (one being Mrs. Johnson) and several young men and a medical doctor, who were the paying passengers, formed the crew, and Captain Johnson reported that the women were very valuable members, one of the reasons being that they became most adept at the wheel when the boys were required for heavier work.

PWA PROJECT NO. MASS. 1137R

Sealed proposals for the construction of additions to and alterations in the Angier School on Beacon Street, in the Waban District of Newton, Massachusetts, prepared in accordance with instructions contained in the contract documents, will be received at the office of the Public Buildings Commissioner, City Hall,
Newton, Massachusetts, until 2 P. M.
Eastern Standard Time, Friday, March 6, 1936, and at that time and place publicly opened and read. Plans, specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Architect, Frank H. Colony, 164
Stuart Street, Boston, Massachusetts, upon the deposit of a certified check for $250, payable to the Architect, which amount must be included in the bidder's proposal. All deposits except that of the successful bidder will be refunded when such documents are returned in good condition, within thirty (30) days after receipt of bids.
Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check upon a National Bank or Trust Company in the sum of $3,000.00, payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the proposal. All certified checks, except that of the bidder to whom the contract is awarded, will be returned within thirty (30) days after the awarding of the contract. The project is to be financed and constructed under the terms of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 and Chapter 366, Mass. Acts of 1933, as amended, and attention is called to the Construction Regulations prescribed by the PWA. Attention is called to the fact that minimum wages rates established for the project and are set forth in the contract documents, in accordance with PWA regulations and the requirements of Chapter 461, Mass. Acts of 1935. The office of the United States Employment Service designated by the government for this project is the Waltham Branch of the National Employment Service, 10
Benish School, Orange Street, Waltham, Mass. The right is reserved by the City of Newton, acting through its Public Buildings Commissioner, to reject any or all proposals, or to accept any proposal which it deems most advantageous, subject to the approval of the State Director, PWA. No bidder may withdraw his proposal for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof. A surety bond by a company satisfactory to the State Director, PWA and the Mayor of the City of Newton and in an amount equal to one hundred (100) per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful bidder.

City of Newton, Massachusetts.

ANNIE K. THOMPSON

Mrs. Annie King Thompson, widow of the late George M. Thompson of 18 Cheney court, Newton Upper Falls, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James E. Tully, 51 High st., Newton Upper Falls, on Saturday, February 22. Mrs. Thompson, who was born on Richardson rd., Upper Falls, 76 years ago, had always made her residence in the Upper Falls and was a member of the Second Baptist Church for the past 50 years. She was also a member of the Ladies' Morris Bible Class of the First M. E. Church and a member of the Highland Rebekah Lodge, No. 82, I. O. O. F., of Newton Highlands.

Mrs. Thompson is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Tully of 51 High st., Upper Falls, and Mr. Edward F. Thompson of 18 Cheney court, also five grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the First M. E. Church on Tuesday, February 25, at 2:30 p. m.

Rev. James Whitman of the Second Baptist Church, Rev. Ellsworth Smith, a former pastor of the Second Baptist Church, and a member of the faculty of the Newton Andover Seminary assisted Rev. Vaughn Shedd with the services. Mr. Allan Frazer, choirmaster of the First M. E. Church, accompanied by Miss Ruth Wildman, organist, sang Mrs. Thompson's favorite hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross," and "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

Thefts At West Newton Church

A thief entered the vestry of the Second Congregational Church, West Newton last Friday afternoon and stole two pocketbooks, one owned by Betty Adams of 20 Rice st., Newton Centre, and the other by Marion Bern of Brookdale rd., Newtonville. About $14 in cash and other articles were in the stolen pocketbooks.

Waban Woman Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Sarah Lane, 65, of 55 Windsor rd., Waban, died suddenly of acute indigestion on Wednesday evening, February 26. Dr. George Gossman, assisted by a squad of firemen, attempted to revive Mrs. Lane, using an inhalator.

EDGAR J. SMITH

Edgar Jacobs Smith of 19 Hyde st., Newton Highlands, died on February 25. He was born in Peabody 64 years ago and was formerly connected with George Frayer & Company of Boston. In late years he had been associated with the Newton Trust Company. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ella (Drowne) Smith, formerly of Peabody; and a son, Edwin D. Smith of Newton Highlands.

Mr. Smith's avocation was music and he attained high professional standing. Many years ago he was chosen treasurer of the New England Chapter of the American Guild of Organists and he held this office to the time of his death. For many years he was organist and choir director at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church. Interested in the cultural advancement of this city, he was largely responsible for the organization of the Highland Glee Club for which he wrote the following preamble: "We hereby associate ourselves as a musical organization under the name of the Highland Glee Club for the purpose of advancing the musical interests of the community."

The glee club gave its first concert on March 2, 1909 and has grown during the years to an active membership of 75 voices, now under the directorship of Ralph MacLean. Mr. Smith was able to accomplish so much in his chosen avocation because of his untiring energy, his natural, artistic ability, and his high aims. He was a member of the Boston Credit Men's Association and the Harvard Musical Society. His funeral service was held on Thursday afternoon at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church; Rev. Ben Roberts officiated. Interment was at Peabody.

DENNIS O'DONNELL

Dennis J. O'Donnell of 341 Lexington st., Auburndale died on February 25. He was born in Auburndale 82 years ago, the son of John O'Donnell and for many years he conducted a blacksmith shop in that village. He was a member of St. Bernard's Court, M. C. O. F. and Triton Council, Royal Arcanum. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Edward Connolly; and four sons, Dennis, William and Daniel O'Donnell of Auburndale, and Edward O'Donnell of Waltham. His funeral service was held on Thursday at Corpus Christi Church and burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

RUTH CORDINGLEY

Mrs. Ruth Cordingley of 38 Lake ave., Newton Centre, wife of Joseph S. Cordingley, died on February 25. She was born in Somerville 68 years ago and had lived in this city for about 40 years. She is survived by her husband; and three sons—Joseph S. Jr., Melville P. and Robert F. Cordingley. Her funeral service was held at her late home today.

Day Jr. High School

At the assembly arranged by Miss Joy brought on Friday, February 14th, Principal Andrews of the Boys' School of the Perkins Institution, and two of his pupils were present. Mr. Andrews gave a short resume of the work which is being done with pupils ranging from the beginners to those of college age. The pupils who accompanied him explained and demonstrated the use of Braille writing with the aid of the three instruments that are used in the school, the Braille slate, the Braille writer, and the Braille shorthand machine. One of the girls spoke briefly on music, the one fine art which blind people can enjoy, and then played several selections on the piano. Mavis Hayden introduced Mr. Andrews.

The Educational Committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club met in the school library on Wednesday, February 19th to learn about the work of the library and the Library Club. There was a sample meeting of the Library Club in charge of the president, Carmel Tempesta. Miss Gibson presented a presentation of the work of the library in connection with the different subjects and grades. Miss Paul and Mr. Frank Tanner assisted, and the librarians of several of the other junior high schools were invited to be present to take part in and to add to the discussion. Tea was served by the following eighth and ninth grade members of the Library Club: Ida Land, Alice Matthews, Rose Luchetti, Frances MacDonald, Grace Murphy, Elsie Marcell, and Marjorie Siff.

Dr. Choche has been meeting with the Newton principals to explain and discuss the problem of public health in the schools. These meetings are in the interest of a more effective public health program.

The pupils were fortunate in having Bert Adams entertain them with his tricks and illusions on Thursday afternoon, February 13th. His varied program was a delight to his thoroughly mystified audience, many of whom went determined to fathom his magic.

The Varsity Basketball team opens its season on Thursday, February 20th at the Bigelow Junior High School. The eighth grade home room teams are at present battling for the championship. Their practice sessions are aided materially by the two new baskets which have been added to the equipment in the boys' gym.

Warren Jr. High

On Feb. 7 Dramatic I presented a one-act play entitled "Elmer." The cast included Harold Richardson, Joan Concannon, Edith Alexander, Betty Holbrook, Phyllis Johnson, Natalie Bigelow, Maurine Helms, Robert Barron, Douglas Whitelegg.

The assembly on Feb. 14 was in charge of Miss Rice, who recently made a trip to Alaska. Interesting facts about Alaska were presented by a skit which showed a classroom under the teaching of Marion Enholm. Other students offered contributions to the class: Betsy Fox, Margaret Wilson, Margaret Tracy, Myra Gray, Ruth Lucas, Richard Grimm, Barbara Potter, Edmund Dowse, Richard Rice, and Victor Gigliotti. Walter Imrie of home room 210 took charge of the presentation. The Boys' Glee Club then sang "John Peel," an English hunting song, and "Those Pals of Mine," by Cole. Moving pictures of Alaskan scenery closed the assembly.

The Radio Drive, which was inaugurated by Mr. Scarborough on Feb. 9, was brought successfully to a close on Feb. 14. John Hay, president of the School Community, congratulated all students for their enthusiastic response. The money that was raised will be used to install more loud speakers in Junior II home rooms. Chairman of all home rooms as well as a faculty committee—Mrs. Mooney, chairman, Miss Mann, Mr. Acker, Mr. Tower—efficiently conducted the drive that was enjoyed by the students. Ted Joyce, president of Jr. II, greeted members of their classes during daily broadcasts. All deposits, except that of the successful bidder, will be refunded when such documents are returned in good condition, within thirty (30) days after receipt of bids. Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check upon a national bank or trust company in the sum of $15,000.00, payable to and to be deposited with the City of Newton. If the proposal is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the proposal. All certified checks, except that of the bidder to whom the contract is awarded, will be returned within thirty (30) days after the awarding of the contract. The project is to be financed and constructed under the terms of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 and Chapter 366, Mass. Acts of 1933, as amended, and attention is called to the Construction Regulations prescribed by the PWA. Attention is called to the fact that minimum wage rates are established for the project and are set forth in the contract documents, in accordance with PWA regulations and the requirements of Chapter 461, Mass. Acts of 1935. The office of the United States Employment Service designated by the government for this project is the Waltham Branch of the National Re-employment Service, Bemis School, Orange Street, Waltham, Mass. The right is reserved by the City of Newton, acting through its Public Buildings Commissioner, to reject any or all proposals, or to accept any proposal which it deems most advantageous, subject to the approval of the State Director, PWA. No bidder may withdraw his proposal for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof. A surety bond by a company satisfactory to the State Director, PWA and the Mayor of the City of Newton and in an amount equal to one hundred (100) per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful bidder.

saxophone, William Spiers, clarinet, and Richard Buswell, clarinet, played a trio.

The school was delightfully entertained at the assembly Feb. 12 by Kay Anderson Marionette Show. Miss Catherine Anderson of West Newton, assisted by Miss Marion Morse of Abington, staged first an illustrated song "Little John, Battle John," then "Rufus Rastus and his Mammy" skillfully portraying the hilarious misadventures of Rufus Rastus; and Polrot, an intricate and artistic dance. Each act was introduced by a dignified master of ceremonies. At the conclusion of the performance the pupils were told how the marionettes were made and shown how they were manipulated.
